POSSE DINES AT ALLEN'S.

And the Wife of Floyd Treated Them "Right Sharp Royal."

[A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.]

HILLSVILLE (Va.) March 17. — While Floyd Allen, wounded, was a prisoner in the jail tonight, the posse hunting his relatives were guests at his table. Allen's wife and his son's wife prepared a meal for the pursuers and the twenty-three men in the posse who returned tonight declared they had been treated "right sharp royal."

Thursday last shot to death the entire court of the Twenty-first Circuit of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The news dispatches during the last three days have given the essential facts of the crime marking the climax of this lawless reign, but they have not made as impressive as might be the chapter in its history which appears likely to bring peace to this region after days of terrorizing.

The ringleader whom the law-abiding dared not bring to justice has outlived the boast that he never would be taken. The others will be taken, dead or alive, even if they add in the meantime to the score for which they must settle. This will be a new region when the Allens and their gang are exterminated.

A part of the posse returned at 10 o'clock tonight, leaving eight men in the mountains who are close on the trail of Sidney Edwards, a nephew of Floyd Allen. They hope to capture him before dawn and through him locate others of the fleeing gang. Edwards is wounded in one foot and making slow progress up the Blue Ridge.

The Allens are not ordinary desperadoes. They have not murdered for loot. Farmers most of them, they are among the wealthiest men of the region. They own hundreds of acres of land. They have sent their children to college.

One of them is a "Primitive Bap-

Martial Law in a Church.

Scores Are Ejected from a House of Worship in Cleveland, O.

Children Are Trampled by Women and Men Yelling to "Recall" Priest.

Police Summoned to Prevent Violence Between Sacramento "Frat" Boys.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.) March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Scores of persons were ejected from St. Michael's Church and arrested during a riot that continued for more than an hour today. Children were trampled underfoot by yelling men and women who sought to drown out the reading of a letter by Brother Paulus, the pastor, from Bishop Farley, condemning the communicants for a previous riot. Forty policemen answered the riot call and the mass could not be resumed until the rioters had been taken out, fighting and screaming and the police had surrounded the altar, remaining there during the rest of the services.

As a result of the trouble, the parish is practically under martial rule by the police tonight and a guard surrounds the rectory, the doors of which have been supplied with heavy chains to prevent a possible attack.

The trouble which came to a climax today, started with the appointment of Paulus to the parish. A dozen were arrested last Sunday and Paulus appealed to the bishop.

More than two hundred were ejected during the eight and ten o'clock masses this morning, to continue the disturbance outside the church until taken away to the station houses. When Father Paulus during the 8 o'clock mass attempted to read the letters that caused the disturbance last Sunday, his remarks were met with a deluge of howls, yells, hoots and hisses. Men and women alike stood on their feet and howled themselves hoarse in the attempt to drown out the voice of their pastor.

It was at this point that ejections from the church commenced by the police. Singling out those who were yelling the loudest, the patrolmen pulled those persons from their places They were passed up the aisles and out of the church.

CALL THE POLICE TO KEEP ORDER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the High School fraternities are still active despite the effort of the State Legislature and the educational authorities to suppress them, was demonstrated strikingly in this city last night when the police were called upon to interfere between two of the rival fraternities.

Gus Miller and George Littlefield, sons of two prominent citizens, appealed to the police for protection. Their society had conducted an initiation of two new members, and twelve students, members of the rival Phi Delta Omega fraternity, had chased them in automobiles to do them bodily injury.

The police found some of the boys lying in wait in an alley with clubs. They were dispersed without arrest.

Several months ago some High School students who had violated the anti-fraternity rule were expelled, and the remainder of the students were pledged on their honor not to initiate new members. It is declared that the only result of the law and of the school regulations has been to incite them to secrecy and deceit.

Methodist Bishop Returning from Africa Says the French Are Doing a Great Colonial Work and He Hopes the Italians Will Annex Tripoli.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Rev. Joseph C. Hartzell, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Africa, arrived today for several months' stay in America, during which he will report to the general conference of the church in May on his work in Africa.

"Conditions among the Mohammedans and French are prosperous," said the bishop, in speaking of Northern Africa. "The French are doing great colonial work and our missions are flourishing. In Constantine I preached to a mixed congregation, among whom were several Mohammedan women, which was regarded as quite a remarkable index to the change of sentiment there."

Of the Turco-Italian war he said: "Italy is thoroughly united and it is to be hoped she will permanently annex Tripoli and Cyrenaica."

REMEMBER CLARA MORRIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clara Morris, the footlight favorite of a generation ago, who has been ill in bed and blind for three years, was 62 years old today.

Today messages were received from all over the United States, and her rooms were fragrant with flowers sent by friends of other days. Recently she has been suffering from a cold and while her condition has improved, she is very weak. No one has been allowed to see her since her illness began. Her husband, who has been her constant companion during the long period, is himself ill in bed with heart trouble and a heavy cold. The long strain caused his collapse.

Friends have taken care of the encumbrances on the home so that she need never worry more about having to leave it.

STRIKE SPIRIT GROWING.

BERLIN, March 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] In spite of the strikers' denials, the strike spirit apparently is growing weaker in Westphalia. An important miners' meeting at Bochum today was sparsely attended. No disorders are reported anywhere. A meeting of the miners' delegates at Sewickayu has reached a decision to strike tomorrow.

TEXTILE WORKERS WILL SHARE A VAST INCREASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 17.—Wage increases aggregating more than $10,000,000 will go into the pockets of New England textile workers in the next twelve months, according to authoritative estimates of the result of the present upward trend of wages in cotton and woolen mills.

On the basis of an annual pay roll of $79,000,000 in the woolen mills, the increase there will amount to $5,600,000, while cotton mill operatives will receive an advance of $5,000,000.

Fully 275,000 operatives will share in the increase by April 1, if all the mills that have not yet joined in the movement follow the lead of larger concerns. Announcements of contemplated advances affect upward of 200,000 mill workers, while other cotton manufacturers have indicated an intention of equaling the wage advances.

The New Bedford mills offer of a 5 per cent. increase will be acted on early this week by the textile council, which recently presented a demand for 10 per cent. advance.

Although there is a division of opinion among the operatives, many are said to favor accepting the manufacturers' offer and reviving their demand for 10 per cent when business improves.

The textile council, representing five unions of Fall River operatives, has voted to reject the offer of an advance of 5 per cent. and demands 15 per cent. Negotiations between the labor representatives and mill agents will continue this week.

Close observers believe a compromise will be arranged. On the result at Fall River probably will depend the final attitude of the New Bedford unions.

Although a few of the big Lawrence mills still are nominally under the ban of the strike, indications tonight pointed to a general return to work tomorrow.

Statisticians figure the injury by the Lawrence strike to manufacturers at $1,500,000 on business in hand and advance business lost; a forfeit by the strikers of about an equal amount in wages and a cost to the State and city of $200,000 for militiamen and extra police.

J. P. Morgan and Lina Cavalieri,

Who met, yesterday, in the lobby of a Roman hotel, where Mr. Morgan asked her the secret of her beauty, and got the information that, since her little experience with "Bob" Chanler of New York, she is no longer entrusting her secrets to masculine hearts. However, she flattered Mr. Morgan that he had "color" in his face since his sojourn in Egypt.

CAVALIERI MEETS MORGAN AND LIKES HIS COLOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. Pierpont Morgan, when he arrived at the Grand Hotel last night, entered by a private door to avoid meeting a crowd of press men awaiting him. Visitors in the hotel were also disappointed as they had gathered in the hall hoping to see the famous multimillionaire. He retired to his bed immediately and today went motoring in the Campagna, visiting the cathedral at Orvieto, where the sacristy contains some fifteenth century reliquaries in gold and ivory, finer than any in Morgan's collections.

On his return to the hotel this afternoon Lina Cavalieri, who arrived from Paris this morning, met him in the lobby.

They shook hands warmly. Mme. Cavalieri congratulating Mr. Morgan on his healthy bronzed appearance and sprightly gait.

Mr. Morgan, taking a good look at the singer, said:

"Yes, I feel fine, thank you, but you alone possess the secret of eternal youth. Will you tell me it?"

Cavalieri replied laughingly:

"I now trust no man with my secrets, goodby."

Morgan declined to give information about his plans, but is expected to stay ten or fourteen days here. Then he goes by slow stages to Venice and afterwards to Paris taking the Aix-Les-Bains cure at the usual time.

He looks amazingly well and full of activity and vigor. He is as eagerly interested as ever in artistic objects, although he has no notion of purchasing anything in Italy.

The American capitalist has given strict orders to the hotel that he will see no dealers, except by invitation.

The police authorities here are taking special precautions to guard him from anarchists. Three detectives are stationed in the hotel and several others along its approaches. Morgan knows these precautions, but privacy of all his plans and movements is considered his surest protection.

THE POPE ON DUELING.

Holy Father Dispenses With Count Pecci Because He Challenged a Man to Fight on Honor Field.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Pope has accepted the resignation of Count Pecci, nephew of the late Pope Leo XIII, who recently challenged Prince Altieri to a duel, from command of the Palatine guard of honor. The Count will at the same time remit his rank of lieutenant in the Noble Guards. Thus his connection with the Holy See will be entirely severed. By a special concession of the Pope the Count is granted a pension.

The Pope, in alluding to the dueling scandal with which the Count was connected, hinted that he intends shortly to make a public manifesto against dueling.

"Dueling," he said, "Is an anachronism. It survives because modern laws do not sufficiently protect individual honor; they only safeguard property. Energetic legislation is necessary to protect the honor and reputation of the people, especially as most cases of injury or insult now-a-days are often political weapons."

NEW FRUIT CANNERY.

LINCOLN, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fruit growers of this locality and Gold Hill are organizing a company to establish a fruit cannery here, intending to have it ready to preserve this season's crop. Subscriptions to stock are now being made by orchardists and business men of this city. It is proposed to raise $100,000 for the project. The cannery will be conducted as a co-operative enterprise. Farmers' Union No. 75, of Gold Hill, is taking a lead in the matter.

NEW YORK, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stricken with illness induced by exposure during her work for the suffrage cause in Washington and Albany, Dr. Mary E. Walker, who set an example in urging dress reform by wearing male attire, collapsed last night while traveling on a train from Albany to New York. She was brought to the Presbyterian Hospital in a critical condition. Relatives were summoned to her bedside today.

Dr. Walker is about 80 years of age. She is suffering from bronchitis and is threatened with pneumonia. She lapsed into unconsciousness several times today.

Dr. Walker came to New York with the intention of delivering lectures on "The Education of Mothers and Children," under the auspices of the Betterment League.

ST. LOUIS, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bit of embroidery given her by a paralytic patient at Missouri Pacific Hospital here will be one of the most priceless of Miss Helen Gould's treasurered possessions when she leaves here tomorrow for Kansas City. It is the emblem of the R.R.Y.M.C.A., embroidered by Thomas Jordan, who has been an inmate of the hospital twelve years. He asked her to keep it as a remembrance of the appreciation of himself and fellows. She was visibly affected and told friends it pleased her more than anything given her in years. She was visiting each patient in the hospital when Jordan gave her the token.

American Refugees in San Francisco Describe Terrible Conditions.

Make Arrangements With Ship Captains to Remove Foreigners in Hurry.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. —American refugees from Mexico City arriving here today on the Pacific mail liner City of Sydney via Acapulco, report complete anrchy prevails in the region about the Mexican capital. All foreigners have taken to heart President Taft's advice to Americans to leave the country and are departing as fast as they can arrange their business affairs and secure transportation, say the passengers.

"With no crops to harvest, since no one has taken time to plant them during the many months of unrest, and all stores and shops outside of the larger cities, closed, the population faces starvation," said Jacob R. Kock, Stockton banker, who was one of the refugees. "As a result nearly every peon has joined one of the innumerable bands of robbers, which daily pillage the plantations.

"Our train was frequently held up by burned bridges and other obstructions, and the journey from the capital to Acapulco required several days. We heard frequent rumors that a German had been killed by bandits on the train which preceded ours.

"It is understood in Mexico City that the United States has arranged with the American steamship lines which ply between here and Panama, that in the event of concerted violence toward Americans their ships shall call at every port along the Mexican coast to carry them to safety."

SOME FOURFLUSHING BY INSURRECTOS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 17.—Col. Pasqual Orozco, Sr., father of the insurrecto commander-in-chief, with 300 men as a permanent garrison, arrived at Juarez today to relieve Gen. Antonio Rojas, who will take his force to Palomir. Rojas's purpose is said to be to capture the Federal garrison at Ojinaga. The latter is said to number only thirty men, and Rojas hopes to seize arms and ammunition being sent there to arm government volunteers.

A censor who will pass on all telegraph matter will be installed at Juarez tomorrow.

It developed today that the story that Gen. Pancho Villa had been captured and ordered shot, was a canard, planned and executed by the insurrectos. The story came in a telegram signed "Pasqual Orozco," and addresses to Col. Ponce, jefe de armas at Juarez.

The latter gave the alleged original to a newspaper man at Chihuahua with the assurance that it was authentic. Today Gen. Orozco disclaimed knowledge of the telegram and Mexicans who left Chihuahua at 10 o'clock last night, arriving here today, stated that there was no foundation for the story. It was the most elaborately planned of many false reports, which have been put out with the view of giving an impression of rebel successes.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS THREATEN TO STRIKE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY (Mex.) March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From the officers of the National Railways of Mexico, it has been learned that it is probable that all American locomotive engine drivers and conductors employed by the National Railways to the number of 800, all members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Order of Railway Conductors, will walk out soon owing to the railroad's refusal to accede to what it considers unreasonable demands. The men want exemption from the necessity of examination on familiarity with the rules, one American added for each Mexican employed and train orders in English.

The railway officers conferred with a committee headed by E. P. Curtiss, chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Order of Railway Conductors, who came here for the purpose and positively declined to yield. Mr. Curtiss and the committee of twenty-eight have gone to the States to discuss with members of various divisions arrangements for making the strike effective by refusing to handle traffic to and from Mexico. National Railway officers assert a strike would not handicap them seriously, but doubtless would hurt Mexico if the movement of freight is interfered with.

Oregon Man Awarded Damages Against Retired Capitalist in Suit for Alleged Alienation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EUGENE (Or.) March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The jury in the case of W. S. Plank vs. W. P. Morse, wherein Plank sued Morse, a well-known retired capitalist, for $10,000 for alleged alienation of his wife's affections, returned a verdict late yesterday in favor of the plaintiff for $3750. Several weeks ago detectives hired by Plank to watch his wife alleged they had found her in a room with Morse and the arrest of the couple followed. Since that time Plank has sued for divorce, but neither Morse nor the woman has been tried. The trial created much interest on account of the prominence of both parties.

A Virginia Advocate of Judicial "Recall"

Floyd Allen,

the Virginian whose rifle laid low all the officers of a district court in Hillsville, Va. He and other members of his band are now being hunted by a posse in the mountains of the Old Dominion.

TERRORISTS IN FLIGHT.

tist" preacher. All, in fact, are "Primitive," or, as others call them, "Hardshell" Baptists. When the meetings as "Baptist Associations" have been held in their neighborhood, bringing together persons from scores of miles around, "Mr." Floyd Allen and "Mr." Sidna Allen, as the "best livers" of the section, have taken them into their homes and entertained them. No stranger overtaken at night at the home of an Allen could pay for his supper, lodging and breakfast, and corn for his beast was as free as the mountain air.

Sidna Allen, who shot down Judge Thornton L. Massie in the courtroom here last Thursday, has the second finest home in Carroll county. It is a modern house. There is a windmill that constitutes a water plant, there is modern plumbing, with bathrooms, and the telephone connects with the outside world of progress.

Floyd Allen's home also is a pretentious abode, with modern improvements. Sidna's house, across the road from a general store he owns, may have cost $15,000 or more.

The Allen desperadoism is not of the type which usually is associated with the isolated mountain regions. Persons who know Breathitt county and the Hatfield-McCoy county of West Virginia discriminate between the Allens and the feudist. Anybody could get along with an Allen all right by "treating him on the square." This meant non-interference with the personal prerogative of an Allen of "doing as he pleased." If a government agent became too inquisitive as to how an Allen acquired his wealth, aside from engaging in agricultural and merchantile pursuits, and if his nosing into the side of life that was not religious developed a secret still, or a suspicion of counterfeiting, he was a marked man. All the Allens wanted was to be allowed to mind their own business. If anyone gave testimony against them in a court of justice he was a meddler and it was up to him to get the drop on an Allen the next time he met one. The result was that it has been next to impossible to get convicting evidence against any of them; the majority of the law-abiding citizens have been so terrorized that they most frequently gave character evidence in favor of the Allens when the latter were arraigned for some alleged crime.

HE TOLD THE TRUTH.

Commonwealth's attorney William Foster was the first man who ever stood up in court and told the whole truth about Floyd Allen. That was last Thursday morning and two days later they buried the body of the commonwealth's attorney, drilled in a half dozen places by the steel-jacketed bullets from the weapon of Floyd Allen.

Jasper Allen, who has conducted saloons, in addition to "blockading whisky" along with the more genteel members of the family, had a son, Walter, who went to the University of Virginia, and was graduated in law. The family were very proud of this collegiate product and this pride forms one of the few features showing a better side in their lives.

When Walter returned home he became the Democratic candidate against William Foster for commonwealth's attorney, the latter being the Republican candidate. Jasper campaigned with his son, with two revolvers strapped around him and a rifle over his shoulder. The boy was defeated, and this fact leads to the suspicion that there was a tinge of political feeling in the killing of Foster several years later.

From what most of the natives say, however, the Allens never were ambitious for political leadership in the county and were interested in elections only when they involved some sheriff or other office who "had not treated them right."

Walter Allen, after his political defeat, went to Washington and Lee University to take a post graduate course. He was drowned while in swimming. That the murders of last Thursday were planned in cold blood and were not due to sudden temper is indicated by facts that came out yesterday. Sheriff Webb had received notice that unless court officers left their rifles at home Allen would not appear for trial. He had been at liberty on bond.

The Sheriff was advised to pay no attention to the message, but he disregarded the advice, so that neither the Sheriff nor his deputies were armed with anything except their revolvers. This was known to the Allens. The gang could not carry rifles into the courtroom, and its mob knew that if the court officers were armed with rifles they would stand no show.

It is declared that as he entered the courthouse Thursday Sidna Allen said to Floyd: "Everything is all right. I see they got no guns."

Further indication of preparation for their work is shown in the fact that early in the week the Allens bought up the entire visible supply of ammunition in Carroll county and the city of Pulaski. An examination of the wounds inflicted on their victims shows that the Allens used only steel jacketed bullets. Within less than a minute seventy-five shots were fired.

Victor Allen declares he knew there was no deliberation in the shooting that resulted in wholesale murder.

"I reckon father lost his temper," he said.

"RECALL" OF A JUDGE FAILS IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 17.—The home of Judge Otto A. Rosalsky of the Court of General Sessions where a bomb delivered to him exploded last night, was the scene today of renewed excitment caused by the appearance of a man who wildly kicked at the door and demanded admittance.

The stranger was shabbily dressed and he forced his way past the attendants in the apartment building on Riverside drive and climbed six flights of stairs to see Judge Rosalsky about what he declared to be "persecution by the tobacco trust."

Police were called and the man was taken to Bellevue for observation as to his sanity. He said he was Wolf Berman and a cigar maker.

The police believe him in no wise connected with the attempt on Judge Rosalsky's life.

Inspector Owen Egan of the bureau of combustibles, who was injured while examining the bomb in the judge's library, left the hospital today.

LOS ANGELES MAN HUNTED WITH ALLEN.

Clifton Oliver of this city expresses no surprise that Floyd Allen, the Virginian who is now being pursued by the officers, killed three men so quickly. Oliver says he knew Allen quite well ten years ago down on the Green Briar River in the Virginia mountains.

"Allen was a dead shot," said Oliver, "and he was quick on the trigger. I have hunted deer all over those mountains in which Allen is now being pursued and I dare say he knows every cow path and bridle trail for miles and miles. He has had a wide experience with men and is well informed and a pleasant companion."

Even in those days Oliver says Allen, was a moonshiner and the people of the mountains then looked upon the occupation as being as lawful as any. These people for the most part committed some offense against the law and were chased into the mountains, where they spent their time in chopping wood, hunting deer and in the illicit distillation of yellow whisky. Oliver hunted in the mountains with both gun and kodak. One of his pictures is that of Floyd Allen astride his favorite pony, with his trusty Winchester slung over the horn of the saddle.

DEFYING THE POSSE IN THE FASTNESS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HILLSVILLE (Va.) March 17.—Two thousand feet above sea level, among the crags and caves of the Blue Ridge Mountains, the Allen gang, who demonstrated their contempt of constituted law by a massacre of the judge, the prosecutor and the Sheriff of the Carroll county court last Thursday, continued today to defy capture.

The day's search by a posse of seventy-five detectives and citizen volunteers demonstrated that unless the militia is sent here to begin a systematic siege of the hiding places of the outlaws, they may never be brought to answer to the indictments of murder returned yesterday.

For such a plan, a camping site was selected today by representatives of Gov. Mann. County authorities are working in harmony with the State and orders will be issued soon for companies of militia, if not for the search, certainly for the formal arraignment of the prisoners, which is scheduled here for March 26. The arraignment is likely to be postponed.

Those who know the paths and passes of the highland and the points of vantage from which outlaws could ward off an attacking force with least danger to themselves, say the Allens unquestionably are concealed behind the overhanging precipices of Devil's Den, half way between here and Mount Airy, N. C. There, with provisions and ammunition, they could make much trouble for an attacking force. Some think it may be necessary to dynamite the mountain citadels.

Quiet prevailed in Hillsville today. The village pastor preached in favor of capital punishment, but there was no mistaking whom he meant. From the countryside came the curious on horseback, muleback, by ox-carts and rigs of every description, fording the high water of the creeks and climbing the steep hills to the summit where reposes the hamlet of Hillsville.

Dexter Goad, clerk of the court, with a bullet in his left cheek and a bandage across his face, showed the folks today just how it happened. He rehearsed the tragedy with vivid detail, even to placing the bullet-scarred chairs which were occupied by Judge Massie, Sheriff Webb and Commonwealth's Attorney Foster. A row of bullet holes, low on the right-hand wall, were added evidence.

A shattered rail in front of the judge's bench also showed the effects of the fusilade and upon the floor was the discoloration of blood.

Andrew Howlet and Stuart Worrell, bystanders, who were wounded at Thursday's assassination, today rested easily. One has a bullet in the lung and the other was shot in the side. Juror Columbus Kane, who was shot in the abdomen and is most seriously injured of all, may die.

Over the mountainside, the posse scouted today to no avail. They conducted their movements in the broad glare of a hot sun, which, however, helped to dry the muddy roads, making prospects for tomorrow more encouraging. Contrary to earlier reports, the telephone wires throughout this district have not been cut.

NON-COMBATANT MUCH SURPRISED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HILLSVILLE (Va.) March 17.—Jasper Allen, known as Jack, who is a brother of Sidna and Floyd Allen, but who is said not to have been involved in the tragedy, made a statement tonight on behalf of the Allens. He said:

"I am greatly surprised and shocked at what has happened. I do not think my brothers had made any plot or plan. When I saw Sidna the night of the shooting, he told me he knew nothing of any trouble beforehand and was surprised himself when the shooting began in the courtroom.

"I do not believe my relatives will give themselves up, for I am not sure that they would get a fair trial in Carroll county.

"My brother, Sidna, was wounded when he passed my home Thursday night and was alone. I do not know where he has gone and have received no word from his since. I shall not try to advise them about giving themselves up. They must do as they think best."

WILL BRING IN ELK.

Plan Is Launched to Restock California Preserves With Game Animals From Wyoming Range.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A plan is on foot to restock the State of California with elk. It is proposed to obtain a trainload of elk from the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming, where the animals are starving to death, and to turn them at large in all sections of California, where thousands of acres of wild land will give excellent pasturage and allow them to propagate rapidly.

The matter has been taken up by California game officials and letters have been sent to authorities where elk are plentiful, as well as to the government officials at Washington, asking if the animals can be had. It is proposed to call on the lodges of Elks throughout the State for a contribution of $1 per member to pay the expense of capture, and to attempt to persuade the officials of the Southern Pacific Company to donate free transportation for the animals to California.

There are about seventy-five elk in the counties of Humboldt, Mendocino and Trinity, and the herd there is increasing rapidly.

Some One Gets Away With Clothes of Oregon "Nugget King" and Rings in Ladies' Apparel.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEDFORD (Or.) March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] N. Jerry, known throughout southern Oregon as the "Nugget King," has returned from the Golden Gate metropolis minus a new suit of clothes.

Jerry, who was made rich by a lucky strike in a Jackson county mine and who takes pride in the fact that he carried $5000 worth of gold nuggets in a black handbag, decided recently that Medford tailors could not clothe him as befitted his reputation. So he journeyed to San Francisco, secured a $200 suit lined with silk and trimmed with black braid, and after seeing the sights put on a plainer suit for travel and returned to his home city.

When he came to open his trunk, however, and try on his Easter garments, he was amazed to find that the suit had disappeared and instead two tailor-made women's dresses reposed within.

"I have no seester, mothair, sweetheart," is Jerry's statement. "What can I do with these? I give them to some beauti-ful girl in Medford. Uh-But; oh, that suit. Ver', ver' fine; who hass eet now?"

POLICE COMBAT STRIKERS.

Serious Riots Occur Around Woolen Plant, Several Officers Shot and Many Rioters Injured.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BARRE (Mass.) March 17.—More than a hundred city policemen, deputy sheriffs and State police officers patrolled the streets of South Barre last night, guarding buildings of the Barre Wool Combing Company, and the pumping station from possible attack by striking mill operatives. From the roof of the combing plant a big searchlight was kept playing to aid the guards.

Yesterday was the most riotous in the history of the village. In a conflict between strike sympathizers and the police, several officers were shot or injured by flying stones, while more than a dozen operatives are nursing broken heads and other wounds inflicted by the clubs of the police. Five foreigners are under arrest, one, James Massi, being charged with attempted murder by firing a revolver into a squad of policemen.

STANFORD PROFS. TO DROP REINS.

STUDENTS TO BE PERMITTED TO GOVERN THEMSELVES.

Faculty Offers to Pursue "Hands-off" Policy and Student Body Election Will Be Held Wednesday to Decide Matter—Famous Student Committee to Pass Out.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 17.—Whether or not Stanford students will hereafter govern their own affairs and be entirely free from faculty supervision, will be decided at a student body election Wednesday morning. The university authorities have offered to permit the students to install a system of self-government and it is up to the undergraduates to say whether they want it or not. The indications are that the innovation will be adopted by an overwhelming majority.

The faculty made the offer without any strings attached to it. The students will have absolute control of all their affairs and a board of control will handle all matters that heretofore have been handled by the Student Affairs Committee, of which A. B. Clark is the chairman. There will be no appeal from the decisions of the Student Committee. If it votes to "can" a man from the university, Dr. Jordan will sign the order without investigating the merits of the case.

Four years ago the Student Affairs Committee ruled with an iron hand. The faculty was supreme and the students had nothing to say. During the last four years the order of things gradually has been completely reversed.

With the elimination of "booze" from the campus the ideals and practices of the students have completely changed and President Jordan believes that the university has been cleaned up to such an extent that the students are now able to handle their own affairs and he is willing that they be given a chance to show what they can do.

"These are the golden days of the university," Dr. Jordan recently remarked. He says the present student body is composed of the best type of men who ever attended the institution.

The Student Affairs Committee has been in disfavor with the students ever since it was organized. Many men who have been "canned" have asserted that they were treated unfairly. Whether or not there was any merit in their claims never was decided. However, the students believe that under the new system a square deal for everybody is assured and that the inauguration of the new system will mark the beginning of a new era in Stanford athletics and other activities.

A student body meeting was held yesterday at which the matter was discussed from all angles. It is believed that the vote will show that only a small number of men are opposed to the innovation.

PRESIDENT DINES SECRETARY KNOX

BRILLIANT SERIES OF FUNCTIONS BROUGHT TO CLOSE.

American Assures Guatemalans of Kindly Feeling Entertained by This Government—University Confers Honorary Degree Upon Him. Continues Journey Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUATEMALA CITY, March 17.—The official functions in Guatemala City in connection with the visit of Secretary of State Knox of the United States were concluded last night, with the President's dinner in the government palace. President Cabrera expressed in flattering terms his appreciation of Mr. Taft's graciousness in sending Secretary Knox to Guatemala, and hoped for a continuation of mutual prosperity and peace.

In reply, Mr. Knox said: "The attitude of the United States government, unmistakably announced in the Monroe doctrine, continues unchanged at the present day. In Central America the United States has a special interest, not only because of the proximity of the Panama Canal, but also because of its moral obligations under the Washington conventions, the maintenance of peace and stable conditions in these republics is a matter of first importance to my government.

"The faithful observance of these conventions, in the opinion of my government, will go far towards eliminating the turmoil that hitherto has shaken the foundations of some less fortunate and less tranquil countries. The United States, unfortunately, many times has been misrepresented by those unscrupulous persons, who, through an endeavor to promote their own gain, falsely represent the sentiments of Americans regarding this or that nation of Central America. Allow me to indulge the hope that the relations between the respective countries will become increasingly cordial and close, to our mutual benefit."

Guatemala City University conferred upon Secretary Knox the honorary degree of doctor of laws. The Secretary and his party will leave here tomorrow morning for Puerto Barrios, arriving there in the evening and proceeding immediately for La Guayra, Venezuela.

Mr. Knox will visit neither Colombia nor Mexico.

THE OPPOSITION IN A COLLAPSE.

Political Developments as Viewed by Taft Bureau.

President Gets Nearly All of the Week's Delegates.

Dixon's Words Fall on Poor Soil in Indiana.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The political developments of the week as seen by the managers of the Taft press bureau are interpreted as forecasting the collapse of the opposition to the renomination of President Taft. In a statement issued tonight, the managers say:

"Of the forty-eight delegates chosen this week, thirty-two additional instructed Taft delegates helped to cinch the President's renomination. Fourteen delegates were instructed for Roosevelt, bringing his total strength to fifteen. Senator Cummins has two. President Taft now has 135 scattered through fourteen of the commonwealths of the Union, of which number, despite ludicrously extravagant claims to the contrary, only twelve are involved in threatened contests.

"Senator Cummins was able to hold but one district in Iowa, while President Taft received instructed delegates from two. Popular primaries were held in Indiana, and Senator Dixon's strongest argument was demolished by overwhelming Taft victories in the Indiana districts.

"The week also witnessed the solidification of the Virginia delegation, which will go to Chicago to press the renomination of Mr. Taft. In Missouri eight counties in the Fourteenth District have already elected eighty-nine Taft delegates to the district convention, which will be composed of 174 delegates. Calloway county chose a solid Taft delegation to the Ninth District convention. Jasper has indorsed the President for renomination. In Kansas, where Gov. Stubbs is leading the opposition, the State committee indorsed the President by a vote of forty-five to fourteen and similar indorsements came from the committees of the First, Third and Seventh districts.

"Colorado contributed through the action of the Denver city convention 421 of its 422 members, supporting the resolutions indorsing Mr. Taft for renomination. Pueblo county chose a solid Taft delegation to the State convention.

"The Tennessee State convention, which renominated Gov. Ben W. Hooper, indorsed the President for renomination. In the Seventh Kentucky district, the committee, with one dissenting vote, took similar action.

"Michigan counties are steadily falling in line, the Bay and Iron county delegations to the State convention being instructed for Mr. Taft.

"One of the gratifying developments of the week has been the unanimity of sentiment advanced by the business men of the country. Following the action of the Union League Club of Philadelphia, whose membership by a vote 1112 to 138 indorsed President Taft, business men of Pittsburgh effected a Taft organization. The Union League Club of New York went on record in opposition to the third term movement and business organizations in other large cities throughout the country are taking action in line with this sentiment. Organizations composed of men of German birth, or descent, are following the lead of the Social Turner Society of St. Louis in declaring against a third term for any American President."

PEKING, March 17.—Premier Tang Shao Yi has left here for Nanking. The southern delegates with whom he came to Peking departed several days ago. Some foreign ministers who have met Tang Shao Yi consider him something of a visionary. The "four powers" group of financiers, are of the opinion that his financial policy is dangerous and accuse him of trickiness in negotiating the present loans with which he was entrusted.

The southern delegation generally has disappointed the diplomatic representatives, as with one exception they apparently were without experience. They have been ardent workers for the cause, but seemingly do not realize that the republic was achieved with few sacrifices and largely because the Manchus did not seriously combat the delegates.

Anarchy and famine prevail throughout the country. The nation's finances are in a chaotic condition and China is divided into several parts. The legations do not fear any immediate or widespread risings or anti-foreign attack, but they do not believe the country will be reunited, the army disbanded and reorganized, and progressive development accomplished without long and intense suffering and serious political struggles.

It is believed the scheme for financing China until the end of June has been suspended in consequence of the loan furnished by the Franco-Belgian syndicate. The four-powers group has refused to advance the one million taels, which was promised Saturday, in consequence of this alleged breach of faith, until the members receive advices from their respective governments.

When Premier Tang Shao Yi implored prompt financial assistance owing to the necessity of paying off the soldiers, he did not hint at any other loan, although negotiations to that end were then proceeding. The incident is attributed to the Chinese desire to play off the rival foreign interests against each other.

Women Will Be Admitted to Pulitzer's School of Journalism Probably During the Second Year.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The advisory board of the Pulitzer school of journalism, Columbia University, will hold a meeting next Friday, to discuss the plans of the school.

Dr. Talcott Williams, dean, was in New York yesterday to consult President Nicholas Murray Butler and while there laid before him several suggestions. Among these are the installation of typewriters.

No definite decision has been made on the question of admitting women. It is likely they will not be admitted when the school opens, but it is the belief women will be admitted within a year.

A Whaling Master of New Bedford Will Conduct a Party of New York Scientists.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An expedition to the Antarctic to be undertaken by the American Museum of Natural History is announced by Capt. Benjamin D Cleveland, a whaling master of New Bedford, who will conduct and assist the scientists.

The party will sail from the West Indies June 1, on the whaling brig Daisy. About three months will be spent at the island of South Georgia for collecting specimens for the museum and to study the habits of sea elephants and sea leopards.

The Daisy will be absent fourteen months and will visit other islands of the region.

ernment's army in the State of Guerrero has given place to a state of affairs about as unsatisfactory as ever.

Reports of the extensive damage done at Ometepec and near-by towns by raiders is well authenticated and it is believed the rebels aim at the capture of Chilpancingo, the capital of the State. Save for a few small garrisons, the government has withdrawn its soldiers for service in the north.

Delgado, still operating despite official reports of his capture and death, is said to be taking advantage of the withdrawal of the soldiers to reorganize his own forces scattered by Gen. Figueroa, whose army in turn is said to have been weakened badly by desertions.

A patriotic manifestation at Toluca today was turned into a demonstration for the army. Orators eulogized the life of Gen. Porfirio Diaz, and denounced the action of the members of the progressive nationalist party in warning ex-Provisional President de la Barra, not to return to Mexico.

The message cabled to Francisco de la Barra by members of the progressive constitutional party yesterday protesting against his returning to Mexico, was sent without the knowledge of President Madero. In authorizing this statement today, the President said the telegram did not reflect his sentiments.

OFFERS FIELD TO IN ESTORS.

Raising Flower Bulbs for Market Is Profitable.

Agriculture Department Conducting Experiments.

Industry on Pacific Will Be Benefited by Canal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A promising field for the investment of American capital and the establishment of a new and profitable industry on the Pacific Coast is offered in the growing for the American market of hyacinth, crocus, tulip and narcissus bulbs. In making this announcement, the Department of Agriculture says this industry will keep in the United States the large amount of money now being sent abroad annually for these bulbs. This expenditure amounts to a million dollars, and the demand is constantly increasing, with a prospect of doubling within a few years.

For several years the department has conducted at Bellingham, Wash., some interesting experiments in the growing of flower bulbs. These have been decidedly successful, and the officials announce they have demonstrated that it is possible to grow bulbs there equal, if not superior, to those grown in Holland.

One serious drawback to the production of bulbs on the Pacific Coast is the heavy expense of freight shipments across the continent. With the opening of the Panama Canal, however, shipments by water will make it possible to deliver Pacific Coast bulbs in New York almost as cheaply as they can be brought from Europe.

To offset the difference between the high price of American labor and the cheap labor of Europe, appliances are being invented to lessen the hand labor required in bulb production. The substitution of horse power for many of the operations performed entirely by hand in Europe has reduced the cost of production considerably.

Experiments on the department's trial grounds here in the city of Washington with the Bellingham-grown and Holland bulbs, planted side by side, demonstrated the superiority of American product, the Bellingham bulbs blossoming seven to ten days earlier, with larger flowers, better color and remarkable freedom from disease, as compared with the Holland product.

RELIGION ON DECLINE.

Cardinal Gibbons Attributes It to Want of Respect for Scriptures in This Country.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Cardinal Gibbons thinks there is a decline in religious faith in this country. He so expressed himself in a letter read yesterday in a discussion at the regular weekly luncheon of the Republican Club, to which he had been invited, but sent regrets of the causes. The letter says:

"I feel that it is largely due to the want of respect for the sacred scriptures, to worldliness, to rationalism or the rejection of the principle of authority, to the inordinate love of wealth, pleasure and honors, and lastly to our system of education, according to which the education of the school must be independent of religion. These and others too numerous to mention are, to my mind, the cause of such religious indifferentism of this country."

PRESIDENT GOES NORTH.

EN ROUTE TO BOSTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 17.—President Taft left Washington at 5:35 p.m. for Boston, where he will participate in the celebration tomorrow of St. Patrick's Day. He was accompanied by Secretary Hilles, Maj. Rhodes and other members of his traveling party. Before his return to Washington Wednesday the President will speak at Nassau, Manchester and Concord, N. H.

HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A bill authorizing homestead entries on oil and gas lands was passed yesterday by the Senate. The measure is intended to permit the utilization of the surface of withdrawn lands for agricultural entries. The oil and gas is reserved to the government.

THE LADIES DISAPPOINTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—Suffragists were disappointed yesterday to learn from County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer that his attorney had advised him he had no warrant of law to put on the April primary ballots the subject of woman suffrage for preferentials. Sweitzer told Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch of Evanston, a justice of the peace, who called on him in the interests of the suffragists, however, that he would receive their committee and hear their petition. The visit probably will be made tomorrow.

FATALLY BURNED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Helen Leet, 74 years old, one of the wealthiest women in Northern Illinois, was probably fatally burned at her home in Aurora tonight. She was making a cup of tea over an alcohol lamp which exploded. Mrs. Leet was, a few years ago, a central figure in a sensational divorce suit. She brought action against her husband or a few months, Matthew Chapman of Aurora, president of the American Well Works, and while the suit was pending tried to oust him from the palatial Leet home in Lincoln avenue. He asserted the suit was brought by Chicago children of Mrs. Leet, and refused to move. Avowing publicly that he feared the Chicago relatives of Mrs. Leet meant him harm, he employed several pugilists to guard the house. It was said he built a secret underground tunnel into the house later, fearing that his bodyguard might forget its duties. Mrs. Leet-Chapman won a divorce decree and she paid her husband $12,000. After the divorce she resumed the name of Leet.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A movement to abolish capital punishment in Illinois and at the same time provide for the care of the dependents of murdered persons has been started by Mrs. Mary Esther Ide, No. 6153 Kenmore avenue. A year ago she was credited with advancing the idea of paying inmates of penitentiaries and workhouses and succeeded in getting the Hamilton, Marquette, Illinois Athletic, Quadrangle and City Clubs and the Civic Federation to appoint a joint committee to urge a bill before the General Assembly. Warwick A. Shaw was chairman of the committee. This bill provided that the compensation should range between 50 cents and $1 a day and that the accumulation should be given to the family of the man in prison or held for him when released. Mr. Shaw said today that the bill will again be urged in the next Legislature.

FIRING MARRIED WOMEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bitter debate participated in by both men and women took place today in the Chicago Federation of Labor over a resolution deploring the employment of married women whose husbands work. During the arguments it was said the Continental and Commercial National Bank had discharged all its married women on the theory that every household should be under one economic head. This later was confirmed by W. G. Schroeder, vice-president of the institution. "There is a rule in our bank that when a woman gets married, she automatically resigns," he said. "In February two of our girls were married. They were permitted to retain their jobs until April at their own request. All the others were discharged when the rule went into effect. After April 1 the bank will have no married women on its payroll. We are opposed to the hiring of women at all, but it is necessitated by a condition."

GIRLS IN THE CHOIR.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Positions as singers in motion picture shows are attracting so many choir boys that churches here are considering installing choir girls. Trinity Episcopal Church already has substituted a girl choir for the boys.

Starts in Basement.

EARLY MORNING FIRE EATS UP STATIONERY.

FIRE which started in the basement of the book and stationery store of Cunningham, Curtis & Welch at No. 252 South Spring street, caused damage estimated at $10,000 at 1 o'clock this morning.

The fire ate through into the tailoring establishment of John L. Kleinpeter at No. 250 South Spring and thence into the Stimson building, but here the firemen met the flames in the freight elevator and prevented their advance in that direction.

Gradually the fire was forced back into the basement, where it was controlled after a stubborn fight.

Flames flashed across the alleyway in tongues twenty feet long and threatened the kitchen of Levy's Cafe. A small-sized panic seized the late guests but they were reassured in a few minutes.

A strong smell of gasoline or kerosene oil was observed by the firemen and it is believed that some of the liquid was stored in the rear of Kleinpeter's place for use in cleaning cloth.

The flames seemed first to burst from a pile of scratch-pads in the basement in the rear of Kleinpeter's, which was a part of Cunningham, Curtis and Welch's establishment, which extended in an L. From there it spread to the first floors.

Both buildings were filled with smoke and considerable water flooded the basements. Most of the damage perhaps will total from the smoke and water, as the fire was confined to the sections in which less vaulable material was stored.

Wearin' of the Green.

SHAMROCK THE CITY'S EMBLEM.

Thousands of Sons of Erin Honor St. Patrick.

Hibernians Give Brilliant Programme at Majestic.

Irish Dinner Tonight; Plays and Entertainment.

The shamrock and the flag o' the harp and crown floated over Los Angeles yesterday. The gloorious gheen geles yesterday. The glorious green from the recent rains and furnished a radiant setting for St. Patrick's Day, as though in sympathy with thousands who did honor to the patron saint of the Emerald Isle in song and service.

The day was generally observed in the Catholic churches of the city with special services and masses. High mass was said at the Cathedral and at St. Patrick's Bishop Conaty conducted the services. Rev. Father R. A. Gleason preached and the papal benediction was pronounced by the bishop. The musical service, appropriate to the occasion, was of exceptional merit.

Speakers at the St. Patrick's Day celebration at the Majestic Operahouse last night, mindful of the progress made in the struggle for Irish home rule during the last year, unmercifully scored Ulster Irishmen and other natives of the Emerald Isle for opposing home government for Ireland. Every seat in the operahouse was occupied. Many were turned away.

ROASTS THE WEAKLINGS.

Rev. Father Joseph McManus, an official of the Gaelic League, who has recently come from Ireland, was the strongest speaker against men of Erin whom he termed traitors to the Irish race. In his speech on "Home Government for Ireland," he said:

"Those Irish weaklings who try to be Englishmen are the most contemptible beings on God's earth. They realize that they cannot be half-decent Englishmen, but still they persist in opposing home rule. It is the attempt of the Irish opponents to home rule to convince the world that Ireland is not fit to govern herself that is most despised by all honest men."

At the outset of the meeting, on a stage set with a woodland scene, with the flags of Erin and the United States crossed, P. F. McCarthy, president of division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, under whose auspices the celebration was held, introduced the chairman of the evening, Hon. M. J. McGarry, State president of the order.

"No lover of freedom can read without emotion the struggle of the patriots of Ireland for self-government," said McGarry. "A longer struggle than that of Irishmen for independence is not in the records of history. It is vain to think of crushing such a people. The epitaph of the hero, Robert Emmet, will yet be written."

EARLY STRUGGLE.

In a ringing, inspiring address, Rev. Father Paul Dillon, historian of the A.O.H. of California told of the early struggles of the Irish people and their present promising advance along all lines. He made a plea for the teaching of Irish history in the schools.

"We of Irish race must not deprive our children of the knowledge of the land of the cross and shamrock," he said. "The river of Ireland's history has grown to immense proportions. It is an honor to stand near the source of that ever-growing stream. We are proud to say now that Irish Ireland can not be separated from a Catholic Ireland. We should all work to perpetuate the history of the country of saints and scholars."

Hon. Thomas McGuire, for sixteen years on the Supreme bench in Canada, of the Queens University, Kingston, Ont., addressed the gathering on "The Day We Celebrate." He reminded his hearers that St. Patrick, a distinguished prelate who came to pagan Ireland more than 1500 years ago, accomplished the conversion of that country without shedding a drop of blood. The early history of Ireland, he said, was such as to bring pride to all Irish hearts. Ireland, he contended, was civilized, as history and present monuments prove, before the Anglo-Saxon countries were out of goose skins, living as did the cave men.

Miss Adelaide McNeil, E. P. De la Hunt and Mrs. Catherine Burns charmingly rendered soprano solos; George A. J. Howard sang two Irish songs, Miss Blanche Thomas entertained delightfully on the harp, Walter J. Goldsmith sang in excellent voice two Irish melodies. The Gaelic League chorus sang "The Wearing of the Green," and the "Star-Spangled Banner" was the good-night piece.

KEEPING IT UP.

Celebration of St. Patrick's Day will be continued today. An Irish banquet will be held this evening at the Alexandria with Bishop Conaty as the guest of honor. Walter J. Desmond, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Judge McCormick, Lieut.-Gov. Wallace and Father Dillon will be the speakers. The Philharmonic Quartette will render Irish melodies during the programme.

Conaty Council, of the Young Men's Institute, will present an Irish drama at the Gamut Club auditorium for the benefit of St. Patrick's Church this evening. One of similar character will be given by the young people of St. Mary's and the children of Holy Cross will give a musical and literary programme in the respective churches.

Aviatrice Narrowly Escapes Fate of Her Late Brother When Her Machine Turns Turtle.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHREVEPORT (La.) March 17.—Miss Matilda Moisant, sister of the late John B. Moisant, narrowly escaped her brother's fate here today when in descending after an exhibition flight her monoplane struck the ground at too steep an angle, bounding into the air and turning turtle.

Miss Moisant jumped a few feet just as the body of the machine dropped. She was helped from the wreckage unhurt. The monoplane was damaged badly.

Although hidden under the thin alias of "Miss S." in the current number of an eastern magazine devoted to photography, the hundreds who daily come and go in the office of John H. Miss Scott is one of the most popular personages in the school department, as well for her unfailing stock of sunshine as for her efficiency in the performance of her duties. The photograph is the work of Edward H. Weston, a local photographer.

PRESIDENT WILL REVIEW PARADE.

BOSTON PREPARES ELABORATE RECEPTION FOR HIM.

City Will Celebrate Anniversary of Evacuation by British Troops With Pageant for His Benefit—He Will Partake of Two Breakfasts on Arrival Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 17.—President Taft will be Boston's guest tomorrow. Details of his entertainment were completed tonight. Besides reviewing the parade to celebrate the 136th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston by Gen. Howe and his British troops, a lengthy programme has been arranged.

Upon his arrival at the south station, about 7 a.m., the President will be escorted to the City Club and, after partaking of a "continental breakfast," will receive the club members.

The President will be the guest of the city at a breakfast at 9:30 o'clock. At noon he will attend the meeting of the Massachusetts Legislature. He will be tendered a luncheon later by the Pilgrim Publicity Association, and from 2 until 3 o'clock will review the Evacuation Day parade in South Boston.

The Taft League also will give the President a reception and in the evening he will attend banquets of the Charitable Irish Association, the Boston Bank Officers' Association, the Boston Paper Manufacturers' Association and the Yale Club.

The President will pass the night at Somerset, leaving early Tuesday for New Hampshire, where he will make several addresses and return here Tuesday night on his way back to Washington.

NURSING THEIR WRATH.

Voters Resent Action of Sheriff in Compelling Them to Help Extricate Him from Snowdrift.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Wealthy residents of Kane county, more especially the city of St. Charles, where the late John W. Gates established his great industrial school for boys, have made a sharp campaign issue of the action of Sheriff Tom McBriarty, who is a candidate for re-election.

During the blizzard Thursday night the Sheriff was a passenger in an interurban car that stalled in a snowdrift. It is charged that he was anxious to proceed and that by virtue of his office, his star and revolver, he routed certain prominent and wealthy citizens from their comfortable beds at midnight, forced them to dress and assist in shoveling the car out of the snow-drifts. The enraged citizens summoned the police, but the latter refused to interfere with the Sheriff.

Sixty-second Congress.

CHIEF ISSUE IS REVISION.

Both Houses Will Be Busy With It This Week.

Democratic Measures Piling Up in the Senate.

Leaders Have a Notion to Speed Things Along.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Tariff revision will continue to occupy both houses of Congress this week. When the house passes the excise income tax bill on Tuesday and submits a woolen schedule revision to the Democratic caucus, possibly by the end of the week, the revision programme there will have been ended.

Democratic revision measures are piling up in the Senate. The Finance Committee's adverse report on the House iron and steel bill will be made this week.

Tuesday the Finance Committee will hear Chairman Emery of the Tariff Board on the house chemical tariff bill, hearings on which probably will take place this week. Hearings on the free sugar bill will follow the chemical bill.

Meanwhile the Democrats and insurgent Republicans are no nearer an understanding, though some of them express confidence that common ground will be reached on some tariff Legislation.

Democratic leaders in the House are determined to speed up Legislation. Some members of the ways and means committee and many other Democrats are insisting on free wool, to which Democratic Leader Underwood is as much opposed as he was originally to free sugar. Mr. Underwood's idea is to report a schedule that would conform to the conference report last summer, which proposed a 27 per cent. advance in the tariff on raw wool.

Disposition of the excise bill in the House Tuesday will open the way for further consideration of appropriation bills. The postoffice bill which would establish a parcels post system, will be considered under a special rule.

The Senate, March 25, will vote on the Stephenson election case.

On Saturday the special Senate committee which investigated Senator Lorimer's election will vote on its report.

RUSHING TO EUROPE.

Foreigners Hastening from United States to Homeland and Steamship Lines Are Swamped.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An unprecedented number of foreigners, who have been making their homes in the United States are returning to the homeland from Chicago.

Bookings are made for all the reservations allowed western agents, and there is not a sailing for weeks ahead, according to officers of the ocean steamship lines, whose headquarters are in Chicago, that is not filled and for which applications have not been refused.

"The rush is unusual for this time of year," said F. G. Whiting, manager of the western department of the Cunard line tonight. "We have calls for more than our reservations will permit us to care for. I attribute the rush to the labor troubles and other matters."

B. Lundberg, western manager of the Russian-American and manager of the Scandinavian-American lines, verified the statement made by Mr. Whiting.

Search for Children Missing Twelve Years.

Spends Life and Fortune in the Quest.

Girls and Boy Thought to Be in America.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
PARIS, March 4.—Undismayed by extending over twelve years,
French detective police have again on a world-wide search for the children of Mme. Sourdillon, disappeared in 1899, and who are said to be now living in the United States. The case is so appealing in its nature that reporters have asked the newspapers to assist in finding some trace of the missing children, the oldest of whom, if living, is now a young man of 18 years.

Mme. Sourdillon has spent her life and her fortune in an endeavor to find her children. She is the daughter of Charles de la Salle, a surgeon in the French navy, who for distinguished and gallant services was presented with a sword by the city of Paris. De la Salle married nineteen years ago Caesar Louis Sourdillon, who was then a Parisian journalist. In 1899 she obtained a divorce on the ground of cruelty and desertion. The decree provided that the husband be permitted to see the three children one day a week.
On June 15, 1899, Mme. Sourdillon's husband took the children—Louise, aged seven; Jean, 4, and Charles, 2—to the park on a common friend, only to learn from him that they had been taken for a walk. Since that day Mme.
Sourdillon has never seen her children.

Despite the grief-stricken mother made a search to which was devoted the keenest detective instincts of France, England and other European countries. Finally the children were traced to England and then to the United States. Every French Consul and diplomatic representative in America was at once notified. The children were found in San Francisco, then to have gone to Los Angeles. At Denver the trail was lost and for years nothing more was heard.

Mme. Sourdillon, a woman of considerable means, has expended
Mme. Sourdillon has expended her entire fortune in her search and is now living by conducting tours. She still believes that she will find some trace of her children, and the French authorities join in her expectation that the mystery of the facts throughout the United States may crown her efforts with success.

"DEADWOOD DICK" CASHES IN.

Man Whose Name Is Famous in Juvenile Literature Passes Away in Yard of a Denver Public Hospital.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
DENVER (Colo.) March 17.—The body of Robert Dickey, widely known as "Deadwood Dick," lies in the morgue here tonight awaiting word from supposedly wealthy relatives in Pennsylvania as to its disposal. Dickey died in the hospital yard of the City Jail, where he had been taken on the charge of vagrancy. In the early days he was one of the most notable figures in Colorado. He served in the Federal army in the Civil War and was noted as a scout Indian agent and United States marshal. He made a fortune selling furs in Denver in the early days but lost all later.

RETIRED NAVAL OFFICER DIES.

REAR-ADMIRAL MELVILLE SUCCUMBS TO PARALYSIS.

National Commander of Loyal Legion and Authority on Arctic Exploration Passes Away—He Was Member of Jeanette and Greeley Relief Expeditions North.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—Rear-Admiral George Walker Melville, U.S.N., retired, died at his home today of paralysis. He was national commander of the Loyal Legion at the time of his death and was a noted authority on Arctic exploration as well as engineering and naval affairs.

Rear-Admiral Melville, who was placed on the retired list January 10, 1903, was 72 years old. For sixteen years he was chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering in the Navy Department. He was appointed an assistant engineer in the navy in 1861, and was a member of both the Jeanette and Greeley relief expeditions to the Arctic circle.

Among the colleges which conferred honorary degrees upon him in recognition of his scientific work were the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard, Columbia, Georgetown and Stevens Institute.

He was a past president of both the American Academy of Mechanical Engineers and the American Society of Naval Engineers. At the time of his death he was president of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

Interment will be made in Laurel Hill cemetery, this city, on Wednesday.

TULARE FAIR GROUNDS SOLD.

TULARE, March 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The ninety-acre tract comprising the Tulare fair grounds, was sold yesterday to satisfy a mortgage of $12,000 given by the defunct Fair Association. The price received was $15,700, including the buildings. Mayor H. C. Heiteg announced he would give a forty-acre tract free to the city for another fair grounds on the condition that citizens raised $12,500 to erect buildings and build a track. It is thought that this will be done, although a subscription list to raise the mortgage on the old grounds failed to realize more than $11,000.

MILL STRIKERS BREW TROUBLE.

Manifest Signs of Disorder at Lumber Plants.

Assemble in Force to Resist Independent Workers.

Hoquiam Concerns Operating Part of Their Works.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
HOQUIAM (Wash.) March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] First signs of possible trouble in the I.W.W. Greek strike of common labor in two of the Hoquiam mills developed this morning, when about 150 of the strikers gathered in the railway yards here in anticipation of the arrival of a special train with a party of independent laborers.

The men had received a report that the mills were intending to bring in a large number of men on a special train to arrive in this city about 2 o'clock. The strikers congregated in the railroad yards about 1:30 a.m. and remained until 4 o'clock. Every whistle of the engine of an arriving freight train or of a switch engine in the yards toward Aberdeen was the signal for the men to draw together and prepare for the arrival of the independent workers. Open threats of trouble if independent workers should come were made by the strikers.

Conditions in the strike are generally quiet. A big meeting of I.W.W. and Greeks was held this afternoon at Finnish Hall, but these have been of daily and nightly occurrence since the strike began. Both mills have continued operation of part of their plants since the strike was called.

KING ALFONSO WINS.

Sister of a Wealthy Man Loses Suit to Break Will That Left All His Wealth to the Monarch.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PARIS, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the will of Albert Sapene, a wealthy Toulousan, was filed in October whereby he left "All my property and titles of nobility to King Alfonso," it was thought the latter would renounce the heritage, which was valued at $500,000. The Spanish monarch, however, took legal steps to obtain the estate.

Sapene's sister, Mme. Sacaze, opposed the King's action on the ground her brother was a lunatic and had been in an asylum since 1909, but the will is dated 1908 and replaces one made thirty years previously, which named the Count de Chambord as the sole heir.

When this claimant to the French throne died he made the present will.

The court ruled in favor of King Alfonso and appointed a man to administer the will.

SUSPECTS ARE ARRESTED.

Several Persons Taken Into Custody at Rome in Connection With Attempt on King's Life.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ROME, March 17.—Several arrests have been made in connection with the attempt to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel last week. Among the prisoners is Nicholas Tacito, a Roumanian, who was mentioned in a report recently sent to the government by the Italian Consul at Geneva as being connected with a plot hatched there to kill the King. Premier Giolitti and Foreign Minister di San Giuliano. Tacito was arrested in Rome.

Antonio Dalba, who fired the shots at the King, was interrogated regarding the attempted assassination. He admitted he had indulged in target practice preparatory to his attempt to kill the King. He again insisted that he alone was responsible for his attempt.

Some persons believe Dalba's mind has been affected by the Turco-Italian war. It is said that after reading an account of the last fight between the Turks and Italians at Derna, Dalba exclaimed:

"How many men are sent to the front to be butchered!"

ENDS HER LIFE.

Wife of a Descendant of Pierre Lorillard, of Tobacco Fame, Hangs Herself in a Hotel.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, March 17.—Mrs. Kathleen Leslie Doyle Lorillard, wife of Beckman Lorillard of Asheville, N. C., committed suicide by hanging late yesterday in the bathroom of the apartments she and her husband had occupied in the Holland House for the last four or five days. Her husband, a descendant of Pierre Lorillard, who amassed a fortune as a tobacco manufacturer, discovered the body. Mr. Lorillard told the Coroner Mrs. Lorillard had been suffering from nervous trouble for some time.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Subjects for Discussion at the Next Session Are Announced by Executive Committee in Salt Lake City.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SALT LAKE CITY, March 17.—Subjects for discussion at the next National Irrigation Congress are receiving attention from the Executive Committee of the congress which met here yesterday and will resume business tomorrow.

The distribution of water through laterals and small ditches will find a place on the programme. The measurement and conservation of water and the drainage of irrigated tracts are to be treated and the probable effect upon the irrigated States of the opening of the Panama Canal will receive notice.

Conferences between officers of the reclamation service and representatives of the water users' associations and between the forestry service and the grazing interests are planned as accompaniments to the irrigation congress. The time for the congress probably will be selected this week. Salt Lake City is to be the meeting place.

About Solved.

DIRIGIBLE SEEMS ABOUT REALIZED.

GERMANS BELIEVE THEY HAVE WORKED OUT PROBLEM.

Berlin Comments on Great Number of Fatalities in Aeroplanes and Says It Is Nine Months Since a Mishap Has Occurred to Balloon—Brilliant Trip Achieved.

[A. P. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
BERLIN, March 14.—The dirigible balloon, after a long era of mishaps and catastrophes, seems finally to have come into its own in Germany, and the recent successful achievements of the Parseval, Siemens-Shuckert and Zeppelin balloons are causing the military authorities to look with far less apprehension on the French superiority in aeroplanes. With aeroplane fatalities coming in at the rate of three or four a week, nine months have passed without a single mishap to a German dirigible and the enterprising airship promoters are beginning again to speak with confidence of the possibilities of commercial aerial navigation.

The Parseval Company, which expects to send a dirigible to the United States this summer, has just delivered its latest military dirigible to the army after a brilliant trial trip in which it exceeded the contract requirements by a non-stop cruise of sixteen hours, half of this spent at an altitude of over a mile, averaging over forty miles an hour in spite of unfavorable wind and frequent rain squalls.

The hoodoo which has hung over Count Zeppelin during his long career seems to have disappeared with the destruction of the Deutschland II, on May 16 of last year. The Schwaben, which made its first ascent June 26, looks back with pride on a continuous service of over eight months without an accident—a proud record for a Zeppelin. She now has two sisters in the air—the military Zeppelin IX, the fastest dirigible in the world, capable of a sustained speed of almost fifty miles an hour, and the Victoria Luise, named after the Emperor's daughter, which was "launched" in February and attained a speed of almost forty-five miles an hour on her trial trips. The Victoria Luise is destined for the commercial passenger service, like a sister ship now approaching completion, and if she does as well financially as the Schwaben, which has cruised widely throughout Germany, doing a full capacity business everywhere, the balance sheets of the Zeppelin Company will show for the first time a profit in commercial air transportation.

The Siemens-Shuckert, the largest non-rigid dirigible, has also earned the title of "successful" by a long series of fights. It has made between forty-four and forty-five miles per hour, and may be taken over by the army authorities, though her owners may prefer to open a commercial business like the Zeppelin and Parseval companies.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

FIFTY THOUSAND SUNK IN GARDEN

Adolphus Busch Looks Upon Work Well Done.

Millionaire Brewer Plans Trip to Vaterland.

Councilman Asks Mayor to Find Successor.

[Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Fair Oaks Ave.]

PASADENA, March 18.—When Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire brewer, leaves Pasadena next month for his summer home on the Rhine, in Germany, he will have made improvements to the extent of about $50,000 at his sunken gardens, which are one of the chief attractions in Pasadena. The greater part of this work has already been accomplished, under Busch's personal direction. Work upon a pavilion, which remains to be built, is to begin this week.

Each of the seven winters that the Busch gardens have existed the owner has taken a pride in making additions in decorations and conveniences, embodying many unique and striking ideas in the landscape architecture; and this winter he has not been idle in this respect.

The entire eighty-five acres which the gardens comprise are now improved, and the new walks and drives constructed this winter bring the aggregate length of passage ways up to an even eleven miles.

Instead of repairing some slight damage that was wrought by the recent rains, workmen were ordered to construct gravel walks and solid walls where the ground had washed away—which was only in one corner of the gardens. Other work has been quietly going on all winter.

An acre of ground in the upper gardens, which last fall was bare, has been set out to oranges. The best trees procurable were planted, and the millionaire owner now plucks the golden fruit from his carriage as he drives by.

Another acre has been planted in vegetables. There is in this area every known species of vegetable that is at all common, and many that are not. The yield is reported to be more than sufficient to supply the needs of the Busch family and servants and employees. The vegetable garden is located at the southwest corner of the upper garden, and a large lattice structure has also been erected, in the shade of which plants are propogated.

Near the garden a handsome bungalow has been built for R. G Frazier, superintendent of the grounds. It was only completed a short time ago and the occupant moved into it last week.

The new pavilion is to go in the lower garden, near Arroyo Seco drive, and directly across the road from the gate opening into the upper garden. It will be an artistic structure, to cost approximately $5000, and from it may be had the most inspiring view down the Arroyo Seco obtainable. This pavilion will be in a part of the garden open to the public, as, indeed, all of both gardens are, with the exception of the immediate dooryard of the residence in the upper garden. Contracts have been awarded and work will be begun this week.

A long walk has been constructed in the lower gardens, paralleling Arroyo Seco drive, on the inside of the park fence. It ends on a high concrete platform, from whence another magnificent view of the Arroyo is had.

The portion of the bottom of the Arroyo which comes within the lower garden has been turned into a barnyard, spick and span as never a barnyard was before. "Chickenville," it has been named. There is to be found practically every breed of fowl, and a flock of sheep, all in immaculately-kept inclosures, and with tiny pergolas under which to seek shelter from the sun. To prevent damage from high water, a solid stone retaining wall several hundred yards in length has been put in.

But most distinctive of all this year's improvements are some importations from Germany which Mrs. Busch procured. These are miniature representations of fairy tales. One is "Hans and Gretchel," and another, "Little Red-Riding Hood," who, with the wolf, stands before Rosy Wall, a playhouse only an inch or two smaller in dimensions than a bungalow built for living purposes. The gardeners are instructed each day to place fresh oranges in the basket she carries and a fresh bunch of flowers in her hand. "Snow White" is so accurately arranged that there are the seven legendary grassy hills behind. There are still other representations, and Mrs. Busch has sent for many more, to take in all of the German and American fairy tales. They will be placed in appropriate locations in the lower garden, which it is planned to convert into a veritable fairyland, not alone for the benefit of the little grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Busch, but for all other children who may visit the gardens.

The figures in these representations are nearly life size. In "Snow White" the quaint little house is carefully built and decorated with all the distinctive features of the house in the story. So far as known these are the first such garden decorations to be brought to America.

In the midst of this fairyland Busch has erected a small structure which he calls "The Magic Hut." Tired from his walk he enters and, upon stepping on a button, a small sideboard rises from the floor before him, laden with refreshments. Here Mrs. Busch often sits with her friends and, when tea is desired, a few words through a speaking tube and foot pressure on the spring brings it up through the floor.

Sixty men are now retained at the gardens to keep them in order, and the work of doing so necessitates an outlay of about $100,000 a year.

MINISTER HURT.

Rev. James Turner, a Methodist minister of Vancouver, B. C., was struck and knocked down at 7 o'clock last night by an automobile driven by Patrick O'Brien of No. 154 East Colorado street and severely injured. The accident occurred at the corner of Marengo avenue and Colorado street.

The injured clergyman was taken to the Pasadena Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a fractured rib, a scalp wound and a fracture of the left leg. He was a visitor in the city and had been staying at the Glenwood Hotel.

CHAFFEE WOULD RESIGN.

Councilman H. G. Chaffee, of the Third Ward, and a member of the Committee on Ordinances, has asked Mayor Thum to find a successor for him, that he may tender his resignation. In fact, for several months, it was learned yesterday, he has urged the Mayor to determine upon the appointment of a successor, and the Mayor has withheld from doing so in hope that Councilman Chaffee might be prevailed upon to remain in office.

"I feel," said Caffee last night, "that the work is more than I can well do, especially of late, when a great many evening meetings have been necessary. I also feel that some one should occupy the office who might be able to give more time to the duties, and greater attention, than I am able to. I hope that Mayor Thum will determine upon some one to appoint so that I may resign."

Councilman Chaffee, who is a prominent Pasadena grocer, was appointed last winter by former Mayor Earley to serve out the unexpired term of H. G. Cattell, resigned. He has yet another year to serve, if he remains in office. Mayor Thum, when approached upon the subject last night, said:

"Councilman Chaffee has been anxious to resign for about five months, but the Councilmen and I have turned a deaf ear to his inclination. We hope that he will remain in office. He is a valuable and efficient member of the Council. Perhaps we can make it easier for him by putting him on some other committee."

MACKEREL RUN AT REDONDO.

Anglers Having the Time of Their Lives Putting Out Big Strings.—Extraordinary Ball Game.

REDONDO BEACH, March 17.—There is a run of American mackerel here now, the first time in many months. Today and yesterday the fish were plentiful, about all three wharves and a number of big catches were made.

William Eckert of St. Louis, Mo., caught eighty mackerel from Wharf No. 3 this morning. Altogether several hundred were hooked from Wharf Nos. 3 and 1. A number of good-sized surf fish were hooked from Wharf ..o. 1 today. Sardines are coming about the wharves, a sign that fishing will soon be all that the fishermen can ask for.

FATS DEFEAT SLATS.

A spirited game of baseball between two teams of business men of the city the Fats and Slats, this afternoon, resulted in victory for the Fats by a score of 9 to 7. But three innings were played, as the game was stopped to prevent heart failure of a number of the players, whose runs were phenomenal. Dr. A. A. Shaw, pitcher, and Andy Densmore, catcher, were the battery for the Fats. Densmore tips the scale at 287 pounds. B. A. Minor, manager of the bath-house, pitched for the Slats and Sharkey Collins was catcher.

Dr. Shaw was resplendent in a costume of a green shirt and black tights. Dr. D. R. Hancock's runs on the Fat team were features of the game, as they were made in relays.

PIER PLANS NOT SATISFACTORY.

Long Beach Voters Will Ask Radical Changes.

Antagonistic Interests Will Probably Defeat Issue.

Schoolboys Riot on Car and Damage Property.

LONG BEACH, March 17.—With the election day for the proposed bond issue of $162,500 for the repair of Pine avenue pier and a new pier at Thirty-ninth place, but two weeks distant, the City Council tomorrow evening will be asked to abandon the proposed election for which several hundred dollars expense has been incurred and begin proceedings anew for a greater pier idea, consisting of a horse-shoe pier, whose ends will start from American and Pine avenues, with a longer single deck fishing pier running from Locust avenue.

Fifty petitions are in circulation asking for this proceedure and will be presented to Council at its regular meeting. Several hundred signatures have been secured, but an element of objection has arisen on several points. One is that the present pier is far from being in a stable condition and that new proceedings would delay the work far into the fall and winter when a recurrence of storms would entail further loss. Another is that the new petition contains no mention of any sum for the Devil's Gate pier, which is demanded by the Belmont district as a fulfillment of pledges made by the city authorities when the two cities were consolidated, and when defect of annexation would have meant legislation by Belmont which would have brought the boundary lines of Los Angeles to the ocean brink.

Asked why the Belmont pier is omitted in the petition, J. B. Green, who is active in the movement for the greater pier, says that he has been told that the people of the east end do not desire a pier and that it is sought only by a small group of citizens. The third objection is the added burden of taxation which a bond issue of $500,000 would involve, and which would be rather heavy upon the small taxpayer. This latter objection is met by the assertion of the advocates that concessions on the proposed pier would bring a revenue, which would not only pay the bonded interest and principal, but provide for repairs.

The horse-shoe pier project is not a new one in Long Beach. At regular intervals it has risen to the surface, been discussed with considerable enthusiasm for a short time and then passed into oblivion, and it is predicted by many that Council will decline to take any action at this late day and risk defeat of the present proposition, in which event the other proposition could be taken up.

HURTS BUSINESS.

The closing of the Long Beach pier because of its condition has been disastrous to the pleasure and fishing launches. All of these boats are at present, operating from the city docks, but people will not walk to the inner harbor to take a trip, nor will they ride although the electric line runs direct to the docks. The reason is unknown for the distance is about the same. The owners of the launches are planning to ask the government to send one of the torpedo boats now in the outer harbor into the Long Beach harbor for a few days, and have it lay alongside the docks in the hope of getting people started to visiting the harbor.

PURSUED BY HOODOO.

Charles Stansbury of Los Angeles, who secured the contract for the uncompleted work on the west beach walk, and bulkhead, abandoned by Contractor Young, was in conference with the Board of Public Works yesterday and announced that operations on the work would be resumed tomorrow. This project was started four years ago, but seems to have been pursued by a hoodoo.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Rev. George D. Knights, his wife and daughter were, formally welcomed last night by three hundred members of the Baptist Church, of which Prof. Knights has just assumed the pastorate. A pleasing programme of welcomes was given interspersed with music. The committee appointed by the senior class to decide upon the graduation day apparel for the boys, have decided on blue serge suits. These will look well and will be in keeping with the simple, but dainty frocks of white, which the girls are to wear. Uniformity in style will be insisted upon by both sexes and a charming effect is looked for.

Raymond Still, aged 6, while playing on the beach a week ago, found a purse, containing three railroad tickets, $300 in currency, and several travelers' checks. His father advertised the find and late yesterday, the purse was claimed by T. H. Atkinson of Uplands, who gave the little fellow $25 as a reward.

PROGRESS IN STREET WORK.

South Pasadena Trustees Have Made Considerable Advance in Putting Boulevards in Condition.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 17.—When the present Board of Trustees relinquishes the reins of office April 8, the paving movement in South Pasadena will have received an impetus that will put affairs in the best possible shape for the incoming directors to continue the work of improving the local thoroughfares.

With the contract let for the work on Pasadena avenue and Mission street, and Huntington drive to be considered at an early date, the two main and practically only gateways into South Pasadena will rank among the finest and most substantial boulevards in Southern California, being of bitulithic type that is giving good results elsewhere. In addition to this specifications have been adopted, and the engineering problems settled for the improvement of four other streets which will be ordered soon and the bids advertised for April 8. These are Milan avenue, Hermosa Grevalia and a portion of Oak street, all of which will be curbed, guttered and macadamized. With the main roads in perfect condition and the cross streets likewise, Fair Oaks avenue from Monterey road to the north city limits will doubtless have to come under consideration, although it is said that at present the property owners on that street are not favorable to the proposition.

FAITHFUL OFFICER SHOT TO DEATH BY BURGLAR.

LONG BEACH, March 17.—Mounted Patrolman Thomas Borden, the oldest officer in years and service on the police force, was shot and killed tonight by a burglar whom he surprised in his home. The burglar escaped, though pursued for two blocks by neighbors, one of whom, E. R. Rowett, was shot in the foot by a bullet fired at them by the fellow.

Borden and his wife were downtown tonight and returned to their home at No. 226 West Tenth street, about 9:30 o'clock. As they entered the front door the burglar, surprised, made a dart for an open window leading on to the front porch. Borden leaped for him when the fellow turned and shot at the officer, the bullet entering the top of the head and ranging downward, came out of the neck. Borden continued his rush and the burglar fired again, but without effect.

The shots and the screams of Mrs. Borden aroused the neighbors, and they rushed out of doors and followed the fleeing murderer down Locust to Twelfth street, where he cut across a vacant lot and disappeared after firing one shot at his pursuers.

A woman who saw him running described him as being about 25 years of age, smooth-shaven, and of stocky build. The entire police force is out on the case and all cars to Los Angeles and San Pedro are being searched along the line.

When help reached the fallen officer, lying in the lap of his horror-stricken wife, he was still breathing and was removed at once to a local sanatorium, where he died shortly after without regaining consciousness.

Borden was about 60 years of age and was regarded as a faithful officer. He leaves a widow and three children.

While members of the Virginia Country Club were in the smoking-room last night a thief invaded the dressing-rooms and helped himself. He secured two gold watches, several diamonds, three tickets to Winnipeg and about $300 in cash.

The police have been asked to look for a medium-sized man, with black mustache and light suit of clothes who loitered about the grounds and club rooms all day and was apparently a stranger.

REDLANDS "GRAND OLD MAN" AGAIN HONORED.

'Albert Keith Smiley,

Eighty-four years old on St. Patrick's Day. Redlands will shut up shop and call on him with flowers today.

REDLANDS, March 17.—Today the Irish and their numerous friends are celebrating St. Patrick's Day, which celebration will be at its height tomorrow because of today being Sunday. To Redlands, the day marks the passing of another milestone by the venerable patron saint of Redlands, Hon. A. K. Smiley, who today is 84 years of age.

The celebration of Mr. Smiley's birthday anniversary will take place tomorrow. It will be a very informal affair and will consist merely in the wearing of the pansy, his favorite flower and a visit at his palatial home in Canyon Crest Park.

All residents of this city will wear the pansy and will visit Mr. Smiley at his home. He will remain home and will receive his guests all day long. The Contemporary Club following the precedent of other years will furnish the flowers and will place them at certain places in the city where they may be secured by all who desire them.

One of the most cherished trophies which Mr. Smiley has is the beautiful silver loving cup which was presented him by the residents of this city four years ago, on his eightieth birthday anniversary.

Albert Keith Smiley was born in Vasselboro, Me., March 17, 1828. He was married to Eliza Phelps Cornell July 8, 1857. When he was married he was instructed in Harverford College. He, with his twin brother, founded the English and Classical College of Philadelphia. In 1869 he purchased property at Lake Mohonk, Ulster county, New York and built a great summer hotel. Later it, with its magnificent grounds, was converted into a park which has fifty miles of roads and twenty-five miles of paths and trails. It is open to the public. He has been a member of the Board of United States Indian Commissioners and each autumn since 1882 he has invited upwards of 200 guests to visit him and discuss various phases of the Indian question. Each spring since 1894 a similar conference has been called in the interest of international arbitration.

In 1889 he purchased with his brother the large property in Redlands known as Smiley Heights. This, as was the case with his eastern possessions, has been thrown open to the public and thousands of visitors visit the magnificent estate each year. In 1898 he presented to the city of Redlands a public library and adjoining park at a cost of $60,000 and in 1906 he spent $11,000 in making additions. He has been a member of the board of trustees of Brown University since 1875; has been since its inception one of the trustees of Bryn Mawr College; is president of the board of trustees of the New York State Normal School, and is a member of many national societies which have for their object the uplift of the race.

RIALTO IN MAZE OVER ITS TROLLEY LINE PROSPECTS.

RIALTO, March 17.—Trolley line thrills have seized this city successively the past week, the presence here of a surveying party from the Pacific Electric Company, adding anticipations of a trolley "way out" in two directions in the near future.

The operations of the party which had been at work for several days between here and Rosena, has started guesses again as to the proposed route designed to carry the company's line from its present terminus, Upland, to San Bernardino, via this city. The lines run this week would appear to have the middle route in view, as they start at the intersection of Perris and Willow avenues, west of the city, and extend northwest through sections 34 and 35, intersecting Highland avenue at a point some two miles west of Rialto. The middle survey with which this appears to connect traverses the Fontana Land Company's big holdings, but escapes by some distance, the town site, which the lower proposed route would traverse, and it lies south of the Arrowhead Land Company's land, another interest that is bidding for the line. Also it would leave out by several miles the big orchard interests to the north of Rialto, known as the Rialto Heights, which have coveted the route for shipping purposes. Should it be the selected route it would prove a case of the quickest way to the desired point. However, the operations of the party this week are generally conceded to be but another of the many preliminary surveys contributary to the final choice.

OLIVE CULTURE.

C. C. King, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition made a deal with the Fontana Water Company this week whereby he purchased a sufficient quantity of water for a permanent supply for his 100-acre olive ranch at Rosena. Mr. Moore has plans under way for the erection of a pickling plant with the capacity of 300 tons for which he will use the water supply purchased. The increasing annual growth of Mr. Moore's large acreage, warrants the erection of this large plant. In 1908 the grove yielded only ten tons. In 1909 it increased to fifty, in 1910, 175 was the output, and 1911, proved the record-breaker for the crop amounting the past year to 350 tons.

James W. Shaw of the National Irrigation Journal of Chicago, who has an assignment covering all the government reclamation projects of the Southwest, and who has been spending some weeks in this city, Manager Miller of the Fontana Company and Secretary McGregor of the local Chamber of Commerce, visited the Fontana's system, for the conservation of the flood waters of Lytle Creek, and took pictures of the system in time of the recent floods, for uses as illustrations for Mr. Shaw's article appearing in the April number of his journal, under the title, "Utilizing Flood Waters; Difficult Problem Solved at Rialto, Cal."

Rialto, now an incorporated city and desirous of looking after its own affairs, the City Trustees at their last meeting, voted to employ T. E. Moon of Colton, an expert auditor, to look after the city's welfare in regaining the unused portion of money paid into the county treasury by the district now within the incorporate limits of Rialto, for use on the county roads. This money will be placed in the city treasury and used upon the city streets as the officials in charge may direct.

Nearly a hundred dollars constituted the proceeds of the Chamber of Commerce St. Patrick's Day ball given last night for the benefit of the clubhouse fund of the Rialto Woman's Club. The affair called out sixty-five couples for the pleasures of the dance, at which "the wearin' of the green" was prominent. The decorations of the ballrooms consisted of emerald streamers and suspended baskets holding greenery. Card rooms held whist devotees. The local Elks were the hosts, assisted by Mrs. William Buxton and Mrs. A. L. Utz, as hostesses.

Theodore E. Schmidt,

One of the two Anaheim pioneers who settled in that city in 1862. He died yesterday, aged 88 years.

Anaheim.

CITY'S FOUNDER PASSES AWAY.

THEODORE E. SCHMIDT OF ANAHEIM IS CALLED.

Came to America in Eighteen Hundred and Forty-eight and Came to California Shortly Afterwards—Leaves a Big Fortune and an Honored Name.

ANAHEIM, March 17.—Theodore E. Schmidt died this morning at 2 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herman Dickel of North Lemon street, this city. Mr. Schmidt had been ill for several weeks, suffering with infirmities of old age. He was past 88 years. He was one of the only two remaining pioneers of Anaheim, having arrived here in 1862.

Mr. Schmidt was born in Bielefeldt, Westphalia, Prussia, December 26, 1823, a son of Frederick William Schmidt, and a grandson of Prof. Schmidt, for many years a well-known educator of Germany. In his native town of Bielefeldt, Mr. Schmidt was educated in the public schools, and at a comparatively early age embarked in the dry goods business. This business experience was supplemented by extensive travel in the different parts of Europe, principally in France and Spain, after which he enlisted in the German army as a private in the Fifteenth Infantry of Fusilleers, and for meritorious service was advanced to the grade of lieutenant. After an honorable discharge he came to America in 1848, the craft in which he sailed landing in New Orleans after a tempestuous voyage. There he secured employment as a clerk in the gold exchange, but in the meantime made plans for a future life in the opportunity-laden West. December 14, 1848, he started out to cross Texas and Mexico. This trip was made on foot and when he reached Mazatlan boarded a French vessel, which anchored at San Francisco, the entire journey having consumed seven months.

Two years after he purchased land here in 1857, he located here and engaged in horticulture upon forty acres and continued with fair success until 1871. He was a member of The Independent Order of Odd Fellows and was also a member of the Turn Verein of San Francisco. In his effort to improve Anaheim and place it in touch with the older centers of culture and refinement he started the first musical society of the town. For many years he was president of the Anaheim Water Company, and for a longer time a director.

Three daughters living are Mrs. H. A. Dickel and Mrs. E. Turk of Anaheim, and Mrs. Frances (Dr. J. H.) Bullard of Los Angeles. At the request of the deceased the body will be cremated at the Evergreen Cemetery, Los Angeles, tomorrow. The funeral is to be conducted at Back's undertaking parlors, Anaheim, at 10:30 tomorrow morning.

BOOSTER TRIP.

The Anaheim Board of Trade has decided that the time is ripe for another one of their big "booster trips" and plans are being made for the Anaheim merchants to tour Orange county with a parade of automobiles, numbering 100. J. W. Duckworth, who so successfully managed the former trips, was appointed to arrange this tour. The date and the line of march are now in the hands of the committee and a report along this line will be heard at the regular meeting Monday evening.

TO TOUR EUROPE.

Mayor C. O. Rust will leave Sunday for a six-months' tour of Europe. With the Mayor will go Mrs. Rust, his daughter, Miss Elsa, and son, Percy Rust. They will sail from New York March 28 on the Ibernia of the Cunard line. The tour will include a visit to sixty European cities. They expect to return to Anaheim in September.

SCHOOL ELECTION.

From the present outlook there will be one of the liveliest school elections ever conducted in this city April 5, as there will be two trustees to elect for the Anaheim High School and five in the field for the office, one being a woman.

PLAN DOUBLE WEDDING.

Cincinnati Girls Visiting in This City Find Soul Mates Here and Inform Parents.

Service Director Frank A. Zimmerman and wife of Cincinnati announced there yesterday the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ella, in this city, to Robert C. Wrede, a young business man here, formerly a resident of Cincinnati.

Coincidental with this announcement was one made by Mrs. Nancy Howland, also at Cincinnati, that her daughter, Miss Leonore, now with Miss Zimmerman here, is engaged to Horace Thompson of this city.

Miss Zimmerman and Miss Howding here April 24. This affair is the culmination of a western tour made by the two young ladies who came here in October.

MAY COMPROMISE DARROW'S CASE.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY HOLDING OUT FOR ADMISSIONS.

Officials and Counsel for Defense Deny Conference, but It Is Believed Overtures Have Been Made and Rejected—Prosecution Is Assembling Valuable Data.

Within the next few days it will be definitely decided whether Clarence Darrow, accused briber of jurors in the McNamar trial, will stand trial May 15, or some other disposition of the case is made.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks held out for the confession of both the guilty McNamaras despite strong pressure brought to bear and he is not in sympathy with any compromises where justice demands a conviction. Though he refused yesterday to make any statement about the Darrow case, it was learned from other sources that friends of Darrow are trying to arrange some compromise that will keep the enfeebled lawyer from standing trial.

Darrow has rapidly failed in health since his indictment. He has stated on several occasion that the stigma of disgrace will always attach itself to his name even with an acquittal which he confidently predicts. His chief counsel, Earl Rogers, is planning for the trial, but it may never take place.

It has been reported that Darrow has had an interview with Assistant District Attorney Ford, but this is denied by Ford and counsel for the defense. However, it is believed that overtures have been made to the District Attorney and rejected.

Bert H. Franklin, former confidential agent for the McNamara lawyer, confessed and was fined $4000. Many criminal lawyers take this sum as a basis for estimating a possible fine of $10,000 for Darrow should he make a confession and supply the State and Federal officials with valuable information. However, the District Attorney may never consent to any such disposition of the case.

The prosecution is collecting valuable data for the trial. Witnesses are being arranged for and depositions have been taken. Additional evidence secured during Detective Foster's visit here has been briefed. Franklin, Attorney Harrington, Detective Foster, stenographers, confidential clerks, detectives and documentary evidence are at hand in addition to the testimony of the bribed juror and talesman.

There is no one in the District Attorney's office who will admit the possibility of a compromise. The attitude of the prosecution appears to be to accept nothing short of a plea of "guilty" without conditions. The court is the one to fix the punishment in such event unless there is a recommendation for leniency by the District Attorney.

Franklin's case furnishes no precedent as he was wanted as a witness against Darrow. The latter may have information concerning labor-union plots but that investigation is more within the scope of the Federal grand jury than of the inquisitorial body of Los Angeles county.

That's the Question.

WAS SHE INSANE TEMPORARILY?

DEFENSE OF REALTY MAN'S SLAYER INDICATED.

Parents and Lawyers Remain With Girl Nearly All Day Preparing for Arraignment—Peculiar Actions in Jail Seem to Strengthen Probable Line of Her Defense.

Miss Viola Carver, the young music store clerk who shot and killed J. Edwin Edge, a real estate operator, a week ago today, will be arraigned at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon before Police Judge Chambers. She was taken before the court last week, advised as to her constitutional rights, and at her request was given a continuance.

Miss Carver spent her first Sunday in jail talking with her parents and discussing her case with her attorney. They were together most of the day. Carver arrived at the jail shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning but was not permitted to see his daughter for some time. He was followed by the mother and later by the attorney.

It is stated that Miss Carver's defense will be that she was insane at the time of the killing; that she had been wrought up to such a pitch that she was not responsible for her actions and did not know what she did.

Since her incarceration the girl has strengthened the insanity theory by her actions. One moment she will seem to be in the depths of gloom, and the next she will joyously laugh, sing and whistle. There are times when she will not talk, sitting in one position for minutes at a time or walking restlessly up and down in the matron's quarters.

When she is asked to pose for a picture for illustration purposes, her almost invariable rule is to ask that a certain photograph be used instead of a snapshot, remarking:

"That picture does me justice; these pictures taken up here will not look like me."

THE BIG EATS TABOO.

Alumni Enjoy Simple Food Instead of Epicurean Diet in Honor of Track Team.

Instead of the usual elaborate banquet of from six to eight courses and ranging from consomme to rochefort cheese, fifty men, attending the regular annual meeting and dinner of the local alumni association of the University of California, at the University Club, Saturday night sat down to a simple, but wholesome repast.

The cause of the switch from the bird and a cold bottle to the food of the simple life, was the presence of the track team of the university, whose coaches have them on a diet to keep them in condition.

Other than the change from an epicurean dinner, the usual banquet programme after-dinner stories and speeches was carried out. Harry Mayberry, retiring president of the association; Dr. H. G. Brainerd, Prof. Morgan, head of the chemistry department of the university, and Walter Christy, who for fifteen years has been a trainer at the university, gave short talks.

Officers elected for the year were: President, Frank Simpson, Jr.; vice-president, Dr. Arnold Kress; secretary-treasurer, Sayre McNeil, and directors, Harry Mayberry, Stuart O'Melveney, Irving Netzler and Herbert Stanton.

His Head Is Sore.

J. H. Moore, No. 330 Crocker street, had a sore head yesterday as the result of an encounter with two highwaymen at Second and South Central yesterday morning. The trio had been drinking in a saloon on Los Angeles street. Moore announced his intention to go home. He was followed by the men, he says, who beat him over the face, head and shoulders with two bottles of beer, and then robbed him.

A couple of young sneak thieves worked the cash register of the Hotel Victoria, Seventh and South Hope streets, for $20, and the Richards & Kanne candy store, in the same building, for several dollars, early yesterday. How long Stickrod had been here, and in what business he was engaged, is not known.

Loses Her Finger Nail.

Miss Elizabeth McDermott, who lives with her parents on Bishop street, lost a finger nail in a street car accident yesterday afternoon. That she and three other members of the family were not killed is considered remarkable. The father, mother, daughter and baby sister were out driving. At the intersection of North Broadway and College street a street car crashed into the buggy, demolishing it and throwing the little girl to the ground. A heavy piece of timber fell on her finger crushing off the nail, which was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

TELLS STORY OF STEALING?

Standard Holds Conference With Authorities.

Prisoner's Chance to Talk in Sunday's Quiet.

May Give Testimony Before Grand Jury Today.

Despite great secrecy on the part of Federal officials yesterday, it was learned that Earl Standard, the confessed embezzler of nearly $150,000 from the American National Bank of Pomona, paid a long visit to the office of United States District Attorney McCormick yesterday. It is believed he made a complete statement of the case.

McCormick sidestepped interviewers last night, but Edward A. Regan, his first assistant, admitted the interview took place. He would not disclose what transpired in his office, or state whether Standard would plead guilty and thus save a tedious court trial. However, the authorities believe this course is apparently the only one open to the young embezzler at the present time.

On Saturday, Attorney Loucks, who has been retained by Standard, was adverse to his client's conferring with the United States Attorney or consenting to be a witness before the Federal grand jury. He apparently took the view that it was one thing to make an informal confession to the press and quite another to go into details with the Federal authorities. Standard evidently did not abide by the advice of his counsel.

McCormick and Regan evidently took yesterday for the conference in order to have plenty of time to go over important details with the defendant. On Sunday most of the government offices are closed and the usual crowd of week days was not in evidence to cause complications.

Shortly after 2 o'clock, Standard was taken from the County Jail by Deputy United States Marshal Dingle to the offices of the Federal prosecutor. He was not returned to his cell until 5 o'clock. There must have been many questions asked and answered during this period of three hours.

While Standard has talked quite freely with newspapermen since his return from flight and probably has gone into still more complete details with the bank officials, he had not told an officer of the law just what transpired in the bank during the period he says he stole the $149,270. Why he first began to pilfer from the bank funds and how he disposed of the money without detection are two questions that the Federal prosecutors probably had answered yesterday.

There are many persons in Pomona who do not believe that Standard squandered all of the money in poor investments and reckless speculation. They think there are many thousands of dollars hidden away in safe deposit vaults awaiting the disposition of the case. It is believed that this phase of the investigation was gone into yesterday afternoon by McCormick and Regan.

GOING FOR THE BOTTOM.

It is expected that Standard will be a witness before the Federal grand jury tomorrow unless his attorney heads him off. It is evident that District Attorney McCormick is determined to probe to the bottom and prosecute all implicated in the defalcation. So far it is not thought that any others have been exposed by the inquiry but new developments may come to the surface at any time.

Standard's examination before United States Commissioner Van Dyke is set for April 15. It is probable that the Federal grand jury will also indict him unless it happens that his testimony will be needed in the prosecution of others. The Federal law is more exacting than the State statutes in criminal matters of this kind and even those who had knowledge of a series of defalcations are held guilty of conspiracy.

Standard hopes to secure the necessary $20,000 bail today and be released from the County Jail. He is suffering from a slight throat affection and is under treatment by a local physician. His wife, accompanied by friends, called at the jail yesterday.

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?"

"I met Smithson."

"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"

"Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by all dealers.—[Adv.

GIRL LITERALLY CUT INTO HALF.

Three Others Hurt When Car Crushes Automobile.

Pretty Girl Book-keeper Dies Under the Wheels.

Secrecy Sought; Police to Make Investigation.

Hurled from her seat to the railway tracks when a swiftly-moving street car crashed into the auto in which she was riding, Miss Louise Wichman, 22 years old, was literally cut in half before the horrified eyes of her sister and brother, both of whom were more or less badly hurt by the collision at Santa Barbara and Western avenues at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Miss Wichman was the guardian of her brother, Glenn, aged 19, and Pauline, 17, orphaned. They reside with G. G. Stillman, a relative, at No. 229 Thorne street, Garvanza. Miss Wichman was employed as a bookkeeper for the firm of Evans Brothers, lumber dealers of Alhambra. Charles Evans, owner of the automobile, was also hurt, though not seriously. He was able to return to his home, No. 201 West Main street, Alhambra, last night.

Every effort was made to keep the details of the affair quiet and as a result, the police announce that the most rigid investigation will follow the tragedy. A representative of the railway company made a report to the police in which the statement was made that only two persons were in the car but this was corrected by the official investigation.

Miss Wichman and her sister and brother were invited on the auto ride by her employer. They were going toward the southwestern edge of the city to visit friends when the accident occurred. It appears that Evans attempted to cross Western avenue between two Georgia-street cars, east bound and both traveling at what witnesses describe as high speed. The car which struck the auto, No. 369, was traveling at a rate sufficient to knock the machine clear into the gutter.

At the instant of the collision Miss Wichman, who was occupying a seat with her brother and sister, was thrown from her seat into the path of the car. Both wheels passed over her body and death was instantaneous.

As the automobile was thrown from in front of the car, both Pauline and Glenn Wichman were thrown out, but escaped with the exception of a number of severe lacerations and bruises on their heads. The driver of the street car was hurled from his post of duty, and, in landing on the pavement, was badly shaken up, in addition to a number of sprains and bruises.

The alarm was sent to the University Station, but upon the arrival of the police all of the injured parties had been removed at the order of physicians employed by the company. The body of the unfortunate young woman was immediately sent to Pierce Brothers' undertaking rooms, where it will be held until the Coroner and police authorities have settled the question of responsibility.

The entire party had been to church previous to taking the automobile ride to this city, and were to attend the services last night. The members of the congregation first heard of the tragedy through the police, who called at the little suburban town to obtain information as to the identity of the dead woman.

Miss Louise Wichman,
22 years old, who was hurled from her seat in an auto and cut in half by a swiftly moving street car which collided with the machine at Santa Barbara and Western avenues, yesterday afternoon. Three other persons were slightly injured.

WIFE SEEKS ANOTHER'S QUICK LEAP YEAR PRIZE.

Charles Lindstrom,
Of Cheyenne, whom his wife is seeking on a desertion charge. She asks the local police to locate a chauffeur who was met, wooed, won and married by a Los Angeles widow on February 29, thinking he may be the man.

IN THE belief that a Los Angeles chauffeur who broke all existing records for rapid-fire matrimony by being met, wooed, won and wedded by a widow all in thirty minutes on Leap Year Day may be her missing husband, Mrs. Charles Lindstrom of No. 1122 Warren avenue, Cheyenne, has appealed to Chief Sebastian to find him and find out.

Acco-ding to Mrs. Lindstrom her husband, a chauffeur, left her with a 5-weeks-old baby on October 10 and started in this direction. Since that time she has not heard from him but naively states that the hurry-up style of the wedding described "would be very much like him."

Mrs. Lindstrom describes her husband as being tall, weighing 175 pounds, brown-gray hair, large blue eyes, large hands, 39 years old. He wears a gold watch and chain with a compass charm with the initials C. L. and a cameo ring. The name given by the Los Angeles chauffeur is similar but not identical with that of the missing man. The wife offers to swear out a warrant for the arrest of her husband the instant he is located.

The local chauffeur was married under somewhat startling circumstances on February 29. His auto crank kicked back and hurt his arm as the machine stood by the curb. The widow came along, tied up the arm and, in the course of desultory chat, proposed to him. He jumped at it, rushed her to the Courthouse and then to the Justice Court and they were married less than half an hour after the accident.

The police are making inquiries.

POT OF COFFEE TIPS CITIES UP.

Chop Breakfast Kindling on Line Survey Post.

Driven Down Six Inches; Now Data's All Wrong.

Government Orders Complete Investigation.

If a remarkable set of checked and rechecked surveying data prepared by C. E. Bailey, City Engineer of Pomona, is proven up by still more extended investigation, it is likely to show that many Southern California cities are out of plumb because a Mexican family once enjoyed an out-of-doors breakfast and used the neatly copper-plated top of a government survey post for a chopping block on which to prepare kindling for their fire.

Since the discovery that Park avenue, Pomona, is apparently a foot off grade, there has been a radical overhauling of government and county data and the uncovering of a large number of unexplained discrepancies. Engineer Bailey has already extended his investigations far beyond the city limits of Pomona and the results of his work indicates that a similar state of affairs exists at nearly every point where the base line of the United States government is drawn.

BASE LINE OFF?

It is upon this government base line, made in feet above sea level, that the cities were laid out by the county and State surveyors. While the discrepancies at any given post may not be more than a few inches, the painstaking exactitude with which the work is done is witness to the fact that a few inches grows into several feet in the course of some miles. That the government is sensible of this fact is attested by instructions sent to Bailey to prosecute his surveys with the greatest accuracy and forward the results to Washington immediately.

Not only do the government figures fail to coincide with the corrected data, but they fail to agree among themselves, according to Bailey. For example, the post set by the United States Geological Survey at the Southern Pacific station, Pomona, gives the elevation of that point as 861 feet above sea level. In the records of the department at Washington the elevation of the same point differs by more than six inches. At the Odd Fellows' Hall the post reads 854 feet, the record, 855.069, a discrepancy of about thirteen inches. At the Gordon-avenue fixed point the difference is a little over eleven inches.

In order to hunt to its beginning this odd state of supposedly exact data, Bailey took his transit to Spadra, from which place the government base line runs to Pomona. Allowing for corrected figures, he found by painstaking measurements the difference in elevation of the two places to be 151.46 feet, as against a difference of 149.994 feet according to the figures of the geological survey. Part of this discrepancy is due to the fact that the Spadra elevation post is marked 710 feet instead of 711—the latter figure, corrected, being 711.998. The actual variation, therefore, is about six inches.

EXPENSIVE KINDLING.

This Bailey believes is the result of the Spadra post having been used as a chopping block. The government stakes are capped with a cylinder of copper three inches in diameter and are at a convenient elevation for anyone wishing to make a little kindling thereupon.

Making allowances for the corrections enumerated, Bailey did the same thing for Ontario and Pomona. Here his rechecked figures differ from the government's by only .037 feet, indicating that the chief source of trouble lies in the Spadra chopping-block. Upon forwarding his data to Washington, Bailey received confirmation of the discrepancies in the government figures themselves and also got instructions to carry his investigations on to Lemon. Should the previous experience be met with here, it is considered as inevitable that all points determined by this base line are off by several inches.

Whether an entire resurvey of the territory will be made necessary or whether the existing data can be corrected to fit the facts is something for further investigation to establish.

LIQUOR; NO LICENSE?

H. J. Wrede, proprietor of a drug store at Fifty-third and Wall streets, was arrested yesterday morning by Officers Kennedy and Luth of the metropolitan squad, charged with selling liquor without a license. He was booked at the University Police Station and released on $100 bail. The officers say Wrede confessed to selling liquor. They have had several complaints against him, they say.

BIGGEST "TIMES."

Sunday's Times of March 17—168 pages—was not only the largest Sunday newspaper in the world and the biggest regular issue ever published by The Times, but broke all records in the volume of advertising.

Six hundred and fifty columns of advertising, all told!

Thirty-seven pages of classified advertisements!

It was a wonderful achievement, bespeaking in glowing terms the magnificent prosperity and unchallenged leadership of the section of the country in which The Times flourishes and which it has helped build up.

Father and Son.

RACE FOR LIFE THROUGH DEATH-INFESTED WASTES.

A. M. Hansley and His Son, Whitney,
With whom he returned to his Hollywood home, yesterday, after experiences of a most terrifying character with Yaqui Indians in the interior of Sonora. The son was wounded, and still carries his arm in a sling.

BRAVING perilous mountain trails and in constant expectation of ambush at the hands of treacherous Yaquis, A. M. Hansley, a wealthy mining man of No. 221 North Hartford avenue, Hollywood, reached home yesterday with his 19-year-old son, Whitney, from the interior of Sonora, Mexico. The father's devotion to his boy led him from his luxurious home into the almost impassable wastes of the Mexican State, overrun by insurrectos and Indians.

The father escaped without scathe, though he is suffering from the effects of exposure and exhaustion, but the son did not fare so well. A bullet from some Yaqui's rifle ploughed through the fleshy part of his left arm, he lost some of his equipment, and was in deadly peril for two weeks before his father arrived.

Young Hansley, who is a graduate of the University of Southern California, went into Sonora to look after some of his father's mining property. When the insurrection against Madero broke out, trouble began. The Mexicans employed at the mine refused to work and Hansley finally was forced to abandon the property.

RUNNING FIGHT.

It was while Whitney was trying to escape from the dangerous locality near Cumuripa, that word came to this city of his danger and of a running fight he had with murderous Yaquis. At last his father decided to go in search of him. After reaching the border, the elder Hansley pushed on as best he might to the vicinity of Cumuripa. He learned that his son had already left there for the border. The father did not stay to rest but, hiring Mexican guides and equipment, pressed on in pursuit.

As he passed through the country there were evidences on every side of brigandage and rapine. The peons were desperately afraid of the Yaquis and kept to the shelter of their adobe huts. Hansley escaped actual hostilities, but he heard fighting, and saw the burial places of many who had been killed by Indians.

Finally he got into telephonic communication with Sahuaripa, about 150 miles from the mining camp, and there received the first word he had had of his son. He found him under military protection in the little town some days later. They were warned that the passage between that section of Sonora and the United States was fast closing. So they quickly left for their long and toilsome ride over the mountain passes.

NEARLY KILLED.

Before reaching Sahuaripa, young Hansley had a narrow escape when fired on from ambush. One bullet struck the horn of Whitney's saddle and another struck his left arm. From the shelter of a bank he returned the fire, but without effect.

At Montezuma father and son were hospitably entertained by George Woodruff, cattle king of that district, who has relatives living here. A stage carried them still closer to the border and finally they got to Douglas and American civilization, exhausted and with clothing in tatters.

Hansley believes that intervention is likely to come, for he says there are hundreds, if not thousands, of Americans penned in that country and that despite the efforts of the loyal troops, there will be bloodshed and massacre ere long unless the United States government steps in to protect her citizens.

Desperate.

SAWS THROUGH BARS OF CELL TO ESCAPE TRIAL.

APPARENTLY fearing the outcome of his trial on the charge of robbing the Wells Fargo Express Company of a $40,000 package of money and securetics in 1903 Charles Ray Spaulding, alias Walter Dale, alias Troy Smith, alias Frank Stout, made an effort to gain his liberty by sawing the bars out of one of the windows in the jail at the Central Police Station. He would probably have been successful Saturday or last night had not Jailor Shand detected something wrong. After his investigation Spaulding was placed in a steel cell inside a steel tank on the second floor.

Spaulding evidently expected to take with him a 40-caliber revolver which is missing from the detective office. It is thought a trusty stole the weapon and placed it where the escaper could find it when he made his break for liberty.

Since he was brought back to Los Angeles from Sing Sing by Detective Chapman about three weeks ago, Spaulding had been given the freedom of the large "bull pen." His cot was to the east of a window looking down into the driveway in the rear of the police station.

Several days ago Jailor Shand noticed one of the prison blankets, folded, lying on the window sill. He made an investigation and found the bar on the right side of the window sawed almost in two. The cut was filled with blackened soap and hidden by the blanket. It was evident that Spaulding, while the other prisoners were asleep, sawed at the bar as he lay on his cot.

The bars are of ¾-inch iron, and far enough apart so that Spaulding could have squeezed through the opening made by cutting two of them. From the sill to the driveway is about twenty feet, but near the window was a ladder used by the construction gang in remodeling the jail. Once in the driveway, Spaulding had but a few feet to run to reach the remodeled section of the police station, and from it gain the street.

Neither the saw used nor the gun could be found. Spaulding professed not to know what the officers were talking about when they questioned him but the answers he gave satisfied them of his guilt.

For two nights Jailor Shand watched the window at which Spaulding had worked in the hope that he could be caught in the act. But the prisoner had seen the jailor pick up the blanket and did not dare resume his operations.

How and when the saw was smuggled into Spaulding is not known.

EMPLOYEES' BALL.

Annual Function of Music Faris, Walker Company Enjoyed by Four Hundred Men and Women.

The annual ball of the Muse. Faris, Walker Company, which was held Saturday night at Cumnock Hall, was one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind ever given by any firm in this city and was enjoyed by about 400 employees and their friends.

The programme and order of dances were printed on handkerchiefs, those for the ladies being handsomely embroidered and for the men hemstitched. The hall had been transformed by the store decorators into a bower of beauty by the aid of ferns and ribbon, the color scheme being pink and green.

A reception was held from 8 to 9 o'clock and the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Walker, was started at 9 o'clock.

Souvenirs in book form were given to everyone. They were handsomely gotten up and set forth the object and work of the clubs and by whom carried on.

These clubs are part of the store organization and were formed to increase the efficiency of the store force and thereby render better service to the public. Classes in salesmanship, demonstrations in selling merchandise, better knowledge of goods, more attention to sick and incapacitated employees, are a part of the good work being carried on under the direction of these clubs.

ON HEAVENLY PROGRESSION.

"Heaven a Place of Eternal Progression" was the theme of a lecture delivered yesterday by Mrs. S. H. Harriman at Blanchard Hall to a good-sized audience of Biblical students and church workers. Her argument was that progression, in harmony with the Divine scheme, makes real the design of a Divine Intelligence for the world.

SAINT PATRICK AMONG ORANGES

Green and Yellow in Amity at the Land Show.

Erin's Patron Brings Crowds to Fiesta Park.

Special Musical Services to Charm Throng.

Thousands of loyal sons and daughters of Old Erin yesterday observed St. Patrick's Day at the Land Show Beautiful, and the initial Sunday sessions were among the most brilliant since the exposition opened.

The green flag and harp and the shamrocks and streamers were added to the decorative scheme throughout the hall, and the big crowd in holiday attire made the occasion a notable one.

P. D. Barnhart, superintendent of the great floral display massed at the entrance of the main exposition hall, had ransacked this region for a supply of the shamrock for free distribution to the Gaelic hosts, but the demand was so heavy for the coveted clover that all was gone early in the afternoon.

When Creatore led his band through a magnificent rendition of the "Irish Caprice," one of the most popular compositions of the famous Italian bandmaster, the crowd cheered so lustily that "The Wearin' of the Green" was given as an encore and it aroused even greater enthusiasm.

Irish lassies are numerous in the chorus and they were active and enthusiastic at both afternoon and evening sessions of the Land Show yesterday in the pleasant work of compelling due recognition of the patron saint's day. The girls captured Creatore, the Italian bandmaster, and pinned the shamrock on his uniform with orders to keep it there throughout the day, and they did the same to many of the other musicians from sunny Italy.

Many of the visitors stayed all through the day coming in the afternoon and waiting until the close of the Creatore concert in the evening before they departed. Troops of Irish lassies wearing shamrock and trailing ropes of green smilax made their way from booth to booth. They clambered upon the big bale of Palo Verde cotton in the Riverside booth and sang Killarney. In the court of honor they gave a Maypole dance. Down in the floral exhibit they set up a Blarney stone which proved a great attraction.

TODAY AT THE SHOW.

"Kern County Day" and "Arizona Day" will be celebrated today.

Secretary T. F. Burke of the Kern county Board of Trade, who has had charge of the rich northern section's interests at the exposition, in company with several prominent citizens of Bakersfield, will receive visitors at the Kern booth throughout the day. Hundreds of former residents of Kern county are to celebrate.

Dr. A. G. Chandler will be in charge of Arizona's observances, and will receive visitors on behalf of the new sun-kissed State. The first State Legislature of Arizona convenes today which prevented Gov. George W. P. Hunt from attending on this occasion.

The celebration of Arizona Day will center about the Chandler ranch headquarters, which represents the youngest State, and in which a great deal of interest centers because of the big government irrigation enterprise.

"Whether or not there is a third term," said Dr. A. G. Chandler last night, "the Roosevelt dam is in to stay and we find that every stranger attending the Land Show is acquainted with the biggest of Uncle Sam irrigation and ranching projects. We rather expect that all the Southwest will turn out tomorrow and help us celebrate Arizona Day."

Creatore and his band will present an especially attractive new programme at both the afternoon and evening concerts.

The Grand Chorus of 300, under Director Drill in the evening, will render what are probably the four most popular songs of its repertoire: The "Soldiers' Chorus" from Faust; the "Halleuj ah Chorus," from the "Messiah;" "Loch Lomond," and "The Rosary."

UTAH COMING IN FORCE.

Tomorrow is "Utah Day" at the Land Show, and the occasion will be recognized in extraordinary fashion by the enterprising developers of the Mormon commonwealth.

Gov. William Spry will arrive in Los Angeles this evening, at the head of a large delegation aboard a special train on the Salt Lake road, the party including Douglas White, industrial agent of the Salt Lake, who has just been elected a member of the Board of Governors of the National Irrigation Congress, and Joseph L. Caine, secretary of the Salt Lake City Commercial Club and head of the Utah Development League.

A reception will be tendered Gov. Spry by the Land Show management, headed by William M. Garland of the Executive Committee, at 8 o'clock, in the evening on the stage at the exposition. Following the reception the Governor's party will be guests at a banquet tendered by Manager Wilson at the Alexandria Hotel. During the day there will be special exercises at the Utah booth, which is one of the finest in the exposition.

Several thousand Utah people now in Southern California will be at the Land Show on Tuesday for the special events and to welcome Gov. Spry and the big party.

"California Day" and "Society Night," on Wednesday, will be one of the biggest occasions of the exposition. The forty girl whistlers, who made such a hit Friday evening, will appear again Wednesday night.

"San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties Day," on Thursday also will be a great occasion, and an excursion will bring thousands of southern bay boosters. It is hoped to have President Collier o fthe Panama-California Exposition here and acceptances have already been received from Director Joseph Sefton, Jr., and Winfield Hogaboom, director of publicity of San Diego's big 1915 show.

The popularity of the Land Show has caused a number of exhibits to be installed from day to day since it opened. Last night the exhibit of modern household appliance was moved up from the architectural shoy and will be in readiness by opening time today. This exhibit includes sanitary drainboards, floors and wainscoting, pure ozone generators, tile roof and walls, the Bohn system of refrigeration, water heaters, folding windows, Venetian blinds, disappearing screens and other modern inventions. This exhibit is in charge of C. O. D. Blanchfield, and will add a feature of especial interest to women and home builders.

Music Makers at the Land Show.

Director Drill, of the chorus, who sang the "Wearin' of the Green" as his first solo, to a large and appreciative St. Patrick's Day audience last evening. The young women are members of a whistling chorus that is making a great hit at the exposition.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

The week end at the country clubs was unusually gay, owing to the many dances and dinner parties that were given in honor of St. Patrick's Day, Saturday evening. The coming week will also see many delightful social events, in honor of the many visiting golfers, who are here to contest the women's golf championship of California. This event takes place on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club, commencing today.

A large invitation tournament is also in progress at the Annandale Country Club this week, and Friday and Saturday will see the San Gabriel Country Club the scene of action, as they, too, have two large golf events for ladies on those days.

At the Los Angeles Country Club.

Thomas Bundy was an interesting host at a dinner party on Friday evening, at which the guests were chiefly his intimate tennis confreres.

On Saturday evening the dining-room was crowded to its utmost limits, dinner and dancing parties being the order. Judge Graaf had the largest party, which occupied the now famous round table in the center, his guests numbering about three dozen.

At another table Dr. and Mrs. Guy Cochrane were entertaining. Then also W. O. Hill had a goodly party down, and Dr. Hunt of Santa Monica was another host. Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Ward and Mr. Wilkinson of Pasadena, were each responsible for small parties.

Afterwards the band furnished its usual sweet melodies, and dancing in particular—with some auction bridge on the side—occupied the attention of the happy throng.

Annandale Country Club.

A noteworthy social event of the week was the dance given by Miss Ethel Hinds on Saturday in honor of St. Patrick's Day. She was supported by a goodly array of popular relations, and her guests numbered about 150. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sheehan, Mr. and Mrs. St. John Raney, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Doty, S. S. Hinds, J. E. Hinds, J. A. Booge, the Misses Elsie Childs, Alice Early, Margaret Mears, Ethel Slagin, Louise Elliott, Helen Rowland and Louise Harkins, Messrs. G. G. Gatch, Harry Fitzgerald, Jr., Curtis Armstrong, Benjamin Bell, John Simons, Robert Cassamajor, Harold Cornell, Dr. McLachlin and a host of others.

The clubhouse presented a fantastic picture, decked in great clusters of shamrock and emerald foliage. The very programme and menus were carried out in green, and most of the guests properly honored the occasion with touches of green in their toilettes.

The whole affair was a scintillating success.

Mrs. A. E. Edwards was also entertaining on her own account earlier in the day when she had a little party down for luncheon. Mrs. Roy Simpson was another luncheon hostess and Mrs. Charles N. Post gave a bridge tea party of considerable dimensions.

Mrs. John D. Reavis was dispensing hospitality at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. George Russell of Seattle who is here on a prolonged visit. Those invited to meet Mrs. Russell were Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. White, Mrs. Robert Gortner, Mrs. Leuth, and Mrs. Moorts Van Brunt. The table was fragrant with spring flowers, baskets of which also formed the souvenirs given to each guest.

San Gabriel Country Club.

The St. Patrick's dance on Saturday evening found all the members in their merriest mood, and many of the coy bachelors, who have hitherto been in the habit of restricting their attentions to golf au serieux, were induced to take part. San Gabriel probably enjoys the largest contingent of interesting bachelors of any of the clubs, but it has not always been found possible to make them socially useful.

Amongst the many members that entertained dinner parties prior to the dance on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Purley; D. W. Fargo, who had a party of five; Dr. and Mrs. Whomes, with whom were Mr. and Mrs. Simpkins; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ainsworth, with whom came two friends; C. H. White, who was entertaining three prominent lady golfers, Miss Tobey, Mrs. Field and Mrs. McNiel; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hickox, Mrs. L. O. Crenshaw, C. A. Nichols, who had several friends down; Miss Della French, who brought four guests, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Chipron, whose party included Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore of Salt Lake Railroad interests. Then also there was a very interesting table at which F. E. Story presided, his guests being Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Atkinson and Miss Margaret James. R. L. Wuerker was playing host to a party of ladies and another table was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Scales and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marsh. Mrs. M. E. Herch was another hostess with a party of dinner guests. The bachelors and golfers likewise occupied a large table, as is their wont, preserving a tantalizing exclusiveness.

The dance afterwards saw the crowd greatly augmented and everything went merrily as is usual at these jolly club dances, and no small part of the success was ascribed to the efforts of the ever popular Messrs. Jim and Edmund Parker, bachelors both.

At Riverside.

The Van de Grift-Karstens wedding was the social event of the week at Riverside, the bride being a very popular young lady, whose parents are prominent in social life here. Miss Nellie Frances de Van Grift became the wife of Herman Garfield Karstens of Nebraska City, on Thursday evening at the home of her parents on Lemon street, and a very beautiful ceremony was witnessed by a large concourse of friends. The musical service in particular, was most delightful.

The bride's sister, Miss Josephine, and her friend, Esther Gleason, of Los Angeles, were fern bearers, and the bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Orr of San Francisco, and Miss Clara Kastens, the groom's sister. Mrs. Rudolph Blaur was matron of honor and pretty little Miss Dorothy Taylor made the most winning flower girl. Archie Koutz supported the groom as best man, and the Rev. Horace Porter officiated.

The bride's gown of white brocade and real lace was very graceful and picturesque, and the groom's gift, a diamond and pearl brooch was her only jewel adornment.

The young couple have gone north for their honeymoon and will then return to Riverside for two weeks prior to going to Nebraska where they are to live.

A Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. Paul Day Willard of Minnesota was the guest of honor at a very smart affair given by Mrs. J. E. Hall, at the Glenwood, at Riverside, on Thursday. About twenty guests were invited to meet Mrs. Willard, and the floral adornments for the table took a rare and elaborate form. Bridge was played afterwards and the guests included Mmes. Frank C. Nye, A. E. Childs, De Witt Hutchings, Emerick Hewitt, Charles E. White, Albert Miller, F. P. Taylor, and the Misses Dolly Bettner, Elizabeth Greene, Grace Cameron, Jean Adair, Pauline Darling, Eloise Gundrum, Martha Waite and Ethel Smith.

Women's Hair Destroyed

Great Havoc Wrought by Women's Carelessness.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Most people can rid themselves of dandruff and correct diseased scalp and hair conditions if they will use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will eradicate dandruff and prevent baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the remedy that will grow hair and overcome scalp and hair troubles. It will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You would better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Los Angeles only at our stores. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle and Spokane.

SUNSET'S AFTER HOME TELEPHONE HERE TOO?

WITH the absorption of the Bay Cities Home Telephone Company in San Francisco by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, Los Angeles is virtually the only large city on the Coast to maintain the dual system and many predict that it will not be long before the Home Telephone here changes ownership. Though any such move was strenuously denied yesterday by A. B. Cass, president of the Home Telephone and Telegraph Company of Los Angeles, there are indications that powerful interests are secretly purchasing Home stock. Whether it is possible to secure a controlling interest in the face of the opposition of the wealthy men who compose the directorate of the Home Telephone Company is a moot question. Overtures were made some time ago to the principal stockholders of the Home Telephone Company but the terms were not satisfactory. The closing of the big deal in San Francisco is expected to exert a strong influence on the local situation.

The San Francisco deal was consummated day before yesterday and now it is said that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is trying to get the Home Company in Santa Barbara. Overtures to purchase the holdings of owners of the stock have actually been made, according to the statement of one of the stockholders yesterday.

Local representatives of the Pacific Telegraph and Telephone Company are averse to discussing the matter. President Cass of the Home, however, declared, that the sale in San Francisco has no significance locally. "The situation is far different there than here," said he. "While there may be a desire on part of some subscribers for one service, I do not know of plans under way to accomplish such a result. Possibly outsiders are buying Home stock—I cannot say as to that—but I think there are many reasons to prevent any sale of our company even if the majority stockholders wanted it so."

Cass is of the opinion that the franchise of the company does not permit of its sale and that probably the matter would have to be referred to a vote of the taxpayers before the rival company could purchase. While not caring to go into legal details he intimated that there are many almost insuperable obstacles even if the officers and stockholders were willing to sell their holdings.

A Case of "Have-to"

What Thinking Takes Out of Brains must be Put Back by Food

Every one must rebuild, each day a little, in order to keep the body healthy. The daily energy of brain, nerve and muscles destroys some of the cells and these must of course be rebuilt each day.

Now suppose you observe some trouble with the body and that you are slowly going from bad to worse. Will you accept the evidence as a hint from Mother Nature that either you are doing some hurtful thing, or more likely, that you are not selecting the food which contains the elements Nature requires for the daily rebuilding?

For instance, suppose you have an increasing tendency towards nervousness or perchance "Brain-fag" and Nervous Prostration. Stop the habit or food which may be the cause and use food which you know contains the things required.

Analysis shows the soft, gray filling of Brain and Nerve centres to consist of Albumin, Water and Phosphate of Potash. Now, unless your food contains these elements you cannot rebuild and make good the daily destruction of this gray substance, a little being broken down each day by brain work and nervous tension.

There is a safe and sure food which can be relied upon and which does contain the required elements for rebuilding.

IN THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.
SINNERS LIES BEHIND THE UNWILLINGNESS OF US TO GIVE OURSELVES TO CHRIST.

At TEMPLE AUDITORIUM yesterday Dr. R. A. Torrey spoke on the subject, "What Are You Waiting For?" his text being, "And now why tarriest thou; arise and be baptized and wash away thy sin, calling upon the name of the Lord." (Acts xxii:16.) He said in part:

"Note especially the three words, 'why tarriest thou?' It is God who asks the question. He asked it of Ananias through His servant, Paul of Tarsus was a enemy of Jesus Christ. If Jesus Christ ever had a more bitter enemy or a more dangerous foe than this man. He had persuaded himself that Jesus of Nazareth was an impostor and while professed to be the Messiah and Son of God, that in reality He was a fraud of the worst sort and with all the intensity of a strong and honest soul he bitterly hated this One who he thought to be an impostor. There were times when the thought would arise in his heart that this Jesus of Nazareth was what He claimed to be, that He was in fact the Son of God and the long-looked Messiah.

"He breathed an atmosphere of murder and of slaughter. He went up and down the streets of Jerusalem seizing men and women and children, sparing neither age nor sex and dragged them before the Sanhedrin to be judged and slain. Whenever a vote was taken he always voted for the death of the Christian. Blinded by the madness of the vision of the Jerusalem mob on his face to the ground before the glory comes a voice, saying, 'Saul! Saul! Why persecutest thou me?' Back from the prostrate man comes the answer, 'Who art Thou, Lord?' And back again comes the startling reply, 'I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. It is hard for thee to kick against the goad.' Thoroughly humbled Paul cries, 'What wilt thou have me to do, Lord?' 'Arise, stand upon thy feet, go into Damascus and there it shall be told thee what thou must do.'

"He arises to his feet and seeks to look around, but to his amazement finds he is totally blind. He puts out his hand and is led as a child into the city he had come to enter as a conqueror. He goes to the house of a friend and shuts himself up for three days and three nights, neither eats nor drinks but spends the time in fasting and prayer. But he does not come out of the darkness and confess his faith in Jesus as the Messiah and the Son of God at last God weary with waiting comes to him with the question of the text, 'Why tarriest thou, Saul? What are you waiting for? Why do you not accept Christ and openly confess Him before the world?'

"God is putting that same question to every man and woman in this auditorium this afternoon who has not accepted Christ and publicly confessed Him before the world. Why are you waiting for? The answer is that some of you would make is by waiting until I am convinced that the Bible is the Word of God and that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. If any of you make that excuse I wish to make you an offer. My offer is that if you will come to the close of this service, I will show you a way to find out to an absolute certainty that the Bible is the Word of God and Jesus Christ the Son of God.

"Some of you give a different answer to the question. You say you are waiting until you have enjoyed yourself long enough. You are making a great mistake, for, first of all, while you are waiting to enjoy the world you are missing every hour you are missing infinitely greater joy that is to be found in Jesus Christ.

"To answer that some of you say is that you are waiting for your friends. That is true of many of you. Husbands are waiting for wives, wives are waiting for husbands, parents are waiting for sweethearts are waiting for sweethearts, friends are waiting for friends. What shall I say to you—that you come to Christ first bring your friend with you. If you love them as you love them if you want to Christ they will come also. Which is better, that you should lose your friends to heaven with you or that you should allow them to go down to hell with them? I answer, Suppose they will not come. Then come without them. Is it better to go to heaven alone than to go to hell in company. If I am not a Christian, and not anxious to get started for heaven in time today I would start today. I would rather go to heaven alone than go to hell in the best company on earth."

REV. W. LEON TUCKER.
CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.
THE WORD OF GOD IS THE VEHICLE OF THE POWER OF THE SPIRIT.

Rev. W. Leon Tucker at Calvary Baptist church preached yesterday morning on "The Word of God and the Spirit." He said in part:

"The word of God is the revelation of the will of God. The word of God is the revelation of the Son of God. The word of God is given by the inspiration of the spirit of God. The word of God makes known unto us the way by which a ruined sinner may become the son of God. The word of God is instrumental in the birth of a man of God. The word of God are necessary to make known the gospel of Jesus Christ. Thomas has beautifully said that in all christian work there are three elements absolutely necessary. The spirit of God is the sword of God. The word of God is the message of God. The spirit of God uses the word of God and the man. The spirit of God uses the word of God and the man. The handbook for Christian workers is the Acts of the Apostles, we find the three elements in order to success in us. The first eleven chapters tell of the spirit of God. The next eight chapters have less of the spirit, and very little of the word of God. The next eight chapters have less of the word of God, but a great deal about the man of God.

"The scriptures make us wise unto salvation. They bring to the darkened mind of man the truth of God. Wilberforce looked at one of Turner's pictures and said to him, 'I never saw anything like nature.' 'No, madame, but don't you wish you could?' Wilberforce was once taken by Robert Cecil to hear Robert Cecil pray. Wilberforce prayed that he might get a blessing. Wilberforce got a blessing in the message rejoicing in the message that his friend needed. Pitt placed himself on his knees just as he would have done in the House of Commons. At the end Wilberforce arose with joy and thanksgiving in his message, and said to Pitt, 'Now you think of it?' Pitt said, 'I gave the gentleman my best attention, but I could not understand what he was driving at' Why not? These things are spiritually discerned. The natural man receiveth not the things of the spirit of God,' and we might go on to translate the Greek, 'neither can he recognize them.'

"The Holy Spirit, who is the divine author of Scripture, is God; the Bible, therefore, is the utterance of a changeless mind. This we have already seen. Also, the office and joy of the divine spirit is to bear witness to Christ; and Christ is the theme of the written word. On these two grounds we are assured that the Holy Scriptures live. But the argument is not complete until we carry it on another stage. The written word is the vehicle of the spirit's power."

REV. BAKER P. LEE.
CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
LET US NOT SELL OUR BIRTHRIGHT FOR A MESS OF MERE POTTAGE.

Rev. Baker P. Lee, in his sermon yesterday, chose for his subject, "Our Divine Birthright," his text being, Genesis xxv:34: "Thus Esau despised his birthright." He said in part:

"Here are two brothers, as unlike as brothers frequently are. Esau was a warm-hearted, red-blooded, affectionate fellow, fond of athletics and out-of-door sports, passionate and headstrong, yet utterly careless and indifferent to the higher and deeper things of life. He laughed at the idea of his father's blessing or that his birthright possessed any real value. He had brawny muscles and ate with the relish of a farm hand. He slept the sleep of the ignorant and had a contempt for Jacob and laughed at him when he caught him praying on the hillside or listening with wide eyes to Isaac's stories about the love of Jehovah.

"'Pshaw, laughed Esau in his great, ringing voice, 'what good does prayer do, Jacob? You are a fool! Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die and we stay a long time dead.'

"On the other hand, Jacob's faults are very glaring. We men despise a mean, tricky, underhanded creature, and yet in our very contempt for Jacob let us see if big, generous Esau hasn't a fault that is infinitely greater than all of Jacob's combined and that is an entire lack of faith in God, an absence of spiritual perception. Practical atheism is the curse of the world today, and here in America, especially out here in this free and splendid West, in this pleasure-living, cosmopolitan city of ours, where on the surface we applaud the robust personality of Esau, we are in danger of forgetting God and losing our Divine birthright. What is that? It is the consciousness that while we are proud of being Americans, proud of our California and our beautiful city. Yet our chief glory and heritage is in being sons of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ. The life of Jacob is such a paradox, so full of contradictions, that it holds a heart-gripping interest for honest men of every age, because in Jacob's life, as in a mirror, we see our own image so clearly reflected.

"Oh, men, my brothers, our divine birthright in having Jesus Christ as our Savior, our comrade, our silent partner in every business, is the most blessed heritage, the most kingly honor, that has ever been conferred by God upon any of His creatures. Therefore, let us not sell our crested helmet in the dust, let 'noblesse oblige' be our motto and let us try to be worthy His love and faith in us."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
ENEMIES OF THE SOUL WILL SUFFER DEFEAT WHEN CHRISTIANS STAND STEADFAST.

The sermon preached Sunday by Rev. Edward Campbell, D.D., pastor First Presbyterian Church, was upon the theme, "Every Man in His Place." He said in part:

"Gideon, the great leader of Israel, had commanded his immortal three hundred to surround the camp of the enemy and stand every man in his place with readiness to carry out his orders. Throbbing with a holy zeal to honor God, this victorious leader has sent back to their homes the whole army of 32,000 men save 300, whom he retained because God had given him a sign to keep these as the arms which should capture the enemy that were camped in the valley below them.

"It is interesting and helpful for us to consider that when God has given signal success to men engaged in His work it has been through an orderly way and method. When the people captured Jerico in such a miraculous way it was through an orderly and obident army. When Christ sent his disciples to perform work from which they came rejoicing in success, it will be remembered that they went two-by-two and labored vigorously under his specific direction.

"It comes to us today that God has honored work that has been undertaken in a spirit of obedience and carried out with method and order. He speaks to the men of the church today; men who are heads of families; men who are placed where opportunity for service are great when dangers to church and families and individuals are very manifest, and He says, 'Stand every man in his place.' He calls to the men who are in a position to protect from dangers that beset us in the industrial world, the civic world, the moral and religious world, and the home, and He commands as emphatically as He did Gideon that they shall stand 'every man in his place,' bearing the torch of God's word and proclaiming the sword of the Lord and of Gideon.

"When the men of the church of Christ will go forth bearing the message of Christ as it is proclaimed, standing every man in his place, witnessing for the Master at the desk, in the home, in the social gathering, upon the wayside, in the public place of worship, the enemy of the soul will suffer defeat as signal as the defeat experienced by the multitudes of the Midianites, who turned their own weapons upon themselves and fled before the Immortal Three Hundred."

REV. J. C. PINKERTON.
UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
THE MEASURE OF OUR CHRISTIANITY IS THE EXTENT OF OUR WILLINGNESS TO SERVE CHRIST.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at the First United Presbyterian Church yesterday morning. At the public recognition and reception of new members immediately preceding the service thirty-eight persons were formally received making a total of 164 new members added since the coming of the Rev. J. Clarence Pinkerton as pastor thirteen months ago. Mr. Pinkerton took as his theme "The Lord's Supper." He said in part:

"Just as the parting desires of our friends are held by us as jealously sacred, so to all Christians there is something most precious in the fulfillment of the Lord's injunction just before His death, 'Do this in remembrance of Me.'" It was a request which came after the unspeakable agony in the garden of Gethsemane, when he prayed for deliverance, and in answer to His prayer, not deliverance, but strength to meet God's will and carry out His plans, was given to Him. Through that example, and through the strength which we get from this communion with Him, and partaking of the emblems of His body, the Christian develops that calmness of soul and poise of spirit which fit him for the trials and temptations of everyday life.

"Christ was desirous of making it possible for all men to enter into the family life of the children of God. The measure of our vision of our Lord, our consciousness of His presence and of his complete forgiveness is the measure of our complete surrender to Him, and of our participation in that life with Him as our elder brother. At the communion table we sit face to face with Him, we hear His voice renewing to us the promises which he left for us, and we receive from Him that strength which comes only from partaking of the very life of the Son of God."

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.
THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH IS THE ONLY MEANS OF BRINGING WARS TO AN END.

At the First Congregational Church yesterday, Dr. William Horace Day preached from the seventeenth of John: "That they may all be one—that the world may believe." "That they may be perfected into one—that the world may know." He compared the competitive Christianity man has developed with the unified and co-operating Christianity Christ prayed for. He said in part:

"Jesus prayed for unity among his disciples because men did not believe that he had come from God to declare the love of God. For the unknowing and unbelieving in the world today his prayer was uttered. Because men do not believe that He came from God to declare the love of God, and because they do not know that Christ's way is God's way, the earth is torn with strife.

"At this hour thousands of coal miners in Germany, other thousands in Britain, and still other thousands in America stand upon the verge of industrial war. In China the progress of human liberty is jeopardized and civil war is imminent. The inability to settle the industrial warfare in Christendom, or the civil war within the four seas of China the world of industry and politics will not believe that Christ's way is God's way. The unbelieving and the unknowing world is here in Southern California as well. Two very conspicuous personalities well known for force and ability were talking together in a neighboring city. One spoke of certain projects for the church, of which he was a member. The other turned with great surprise and said: 'Do you mean to tell me that you're a member of a narrow, bigoted, insignificant church?' 'Yes, I am, and I'll tell you why. I'm not a very good church member. You know what the situation today is, with labor and capital hating each other. You've seen dynamite before and after. You and I know that force and retaliation will not settle this thing. Is there anything that can bring peace and good will except the Christian church?' When confronted with the proposition, he was ready to admit that if the church could not, he did not believe anything could. After two milleniums of Christian teaching, there are many even in our most Christianized communities, who do not believe that Jesus came from God, and do not know that the law of love is the only law of life.

"Serious as is the indictment against Christians because of quarrels and disunion, we live in an hour of glorious possibility for unity and cooperation. Our Lord recognized that real unity must come as the result of a process, and he prayed 'That they may be perfe ted into one.' Today Christianity is being "perfected into one." The rapidity with which the spirit of unity is modifying the old spirit of competition is one of the most marvelous religious facts of our time. We are beginning to feel the power of Jesus' principle of efficiency, through unity. Not a mere outward uniformity imposed by law, civil or religious, but a unity in the spirit of Christ. He teaches us that two are mightier than one, and when they agree God can do things that he cannot do when they do not agree. He tells us that two or three gathered in His name makes possible His presence in new fullness and power. And the words of this great prayer suggest that when all His disciples are one, the world can believe and will know. At this hour there is in progress of forming a united church of Japan. In Korea denominational names are forgotten. That scene in West China described so graphically last Sunday by Dr. Arthur Smith was paralleled by what Dr. Jones told us last year of the non-competitive, non-sectarian church of South India. Our evangelistic campaigns have great advantage to the community, but these men and religion movement institutes just concluded are of far greater importance, because they are giving practical expression to the new co-operative Christianity of Los Angeles."

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH.
OBEDIENCE TO FATHER AND MOTHER IS THE LADDER BY WHICH ALL CLIMB.

"How Should She Treat Her Father and Mother?" with side lights on the twentieth century girl, was the topic of Dr. Arthur S. Phelps at Central Baptist Church, Alvarado and Pico streets, last night, continuing the series on "A Girl's Life." He said in part: "I have three texts: Ex. xx:12, 'Honor thy father and mother;' Judg. xi:34, 'Behold, his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances; and she was his only child;' and Ruth 1:6, 'Whither thou goest, I will go, and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.'

"My subject is fundamental. Woman is the anchor of society, and the home is the harbor in which that anchor is cast. It is the center of the social life of the nation. The light of the stock exchange is not the sky-light; the light of the office is not the desk light; it is 'the light in the window.'

"On the girl's shoulder of today rests in large measure the salvation of the world. The 'street angel, home devil' kind of a girl will never save a nation. That is why, in the midst of the ten commandments, flanked by four duties to God on one side, and by five duties to man on the other, are the words, 'Honor thy father and thy mother.' To honor is more than to obey. First, choose the right kind of father and mother. Do you say, 'I can't?' Then I will help you.

"To honor father and mother means to treat them with the utmost reverence and respect. They have traveled the road—you haven't; they have read life's book—you are at its introduction; they have fought life's battles—you are buckling on the armor. The spirit of the average twentieth century boy and girl is not a spirit of reverence and respect. Egotism and impudence often take their place. The boy is the first to come to the 'know-it-all' stage. The girl's chief temptation is pride. She is made of 'sugar and spice and all things nice,' but sometimes the spice outweighs the sugar. There is nothing that generates moral fibre like cordially doing what we are told.' Obedience is the ladder by which we climb to a place of command. It induces self-control. We get our ordination to the ministry of life the way the preacher gets his ordination to the ministry of the gospel—by the laying on of hands. Only in the minister's case, the hands are on his head. A headstrong nature leads to humiliation and defeat.

"Love is the secret. She who met her father Jephthah with timbrels of gladness, faced sacrifice with an unflinching heart. The golden light of home casts its glow over all the after years. We enter the world by childhood's garden of Eden. By being daughters, you learn to be mothers. Follow father and mother into the church and through the gates of pearl. 'When I became a father, I understood God.' I knew what it meant to have a yearning heart. How often the hen gathers the downy chickens under her wings, but the mother's outreached arms are turned back empty."

Next Sunday night Dr. Phelps will speak on "Her First Love Affair."

DR. TIROE.
BOYLE HEIGHTS M. E. CHURCH.
THERE IS BREAD ENOUGH AND TO SPARE. LET US MAKE MERRY AND BE GLAD.

At the Boyle Heights M. E. Church yesterady Rev. W. E. Tiroe, D.D., spoke on "The Wisdom of Evangelism," his text being "It Was Meet that We Should Make Merry and Be Glad," Luke, 15:32. He said in part:

"The great masses of men never do things without good reasons. There are some people in asylums. There are others outside asylums, who are foolish. The great crowd is always reasonable. One of the largest things on earth is the sanity of human life. Men and women can live alone. They do live in families. The reason is the human heart is built for love and friendship. People have lived without law, every man doing what was right in his own eyes. They do live in tribes and nations. They have found system and order to be first things.

"For 400 years the crowds have crowded across seas to America. Life was comfortable and broad over here. It was hard and narrow at home. The other day one-fourth of the human race changed its rulership from despotism to a republic. They had heard of democracy and the worth of one man. I see the wisdom of evangelism first in that it has caught the crowds. It is a tremendous assertion to declare that Christendom is folly. It holds too many people in its hands, too many masters of their kind, too many kings among men to be a blunder. The wisdom of Christian evangelism has with it the sanity of human life.

"Finally the wisdom of evangelism is seen in its recognition of every other good thing. While it is meet to make merry and be glad over the prodigal, the son at home has every consideration. He is ever with the Father and all the riches of the estate are at his call. Prodigality is never a good bargain. Sin is always a dead loss. There is no premium on wrong anywhere in the Universe. It may be natural enough for the doctor to think the whole earth is a hospital. As a matter of fact it is a comfortable home. It is easy enough for the soldier to imagine the normal state of man is war. Were not his average condition one of peace he would not find the sinews to war with.

"Because righteousness has right of way in the world it is abundantly able to go after wrong and conquer. That Christian evangelism carries with it a philosophy of the whole problem of human life it demonstrates its wisdom. It is meet to make merry and be glad when the sinner comes home because at home is life and happiness and plenty. The Heavenly Father is not bankrupt because His children sometimes take their portion and run away. That there is always bread enough and to spart it is meet to make merry and be glad when the lost and hungry are at the door."

REV. J. A. GEISSINGER.
UNIVERSITY M. E. CHURCH.
IF WE LIVE AS SONS WE SHALL ENJOY THE FATHER'S COMRADESHIP.

Rev. J. A. Geissinger of the University Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday spoke on the subject: "The Surprise of Life," or, "If He Ask for an Egg Will He offer Him a Scorpion?" Luke 11:12. He said in part:

"It is true sometimes that life is eclipsed with real disaster, a disaster that leaves the soul dust and ashes. The defeats of life are many, for sin sometimes leaps upon the soul like a wild beast; sometimes tears up the heart as a wind tears up giants of the forest by the roots; sometimes it eats into the heart as a worm. But this is not when we follow the law of life but when we flaunt it. It is not material for an indictment of the universe but an indication of our own folly. It is also true that there is much of hardship in the world today due to the oppressions of the strong and the self-indulgence of the weak. But this is again no real challenge of the optimism of Christ.

"The truth is that the facts are against our pessimism. Life is better than it seems. The reality is better than our dream. The generosity of God is the surprise of life. We ask him for bread and he gives us a banquet. Goethe had a saying that Saul went out to seek his father's asses and found a kingdom. That is not an overstatement. The Bible preaches that from lid to lid and human experience bears it out. Abraham went in search of pasture and became the father of an innumerable company of spiritually minded people. Joseph went out to seek his brothers and, like Saul, found an empire. So David. Amos went up to Bethel to protest against the corruptions of the shrine and stepped into the glorious company of the prophets. Peter went into the fish business and God made him a fisher of men. Paul expected to become a rabbi and rule a synagogue. God made him an apostle and gave him rule over the ages.

"We may waste our substance if we will—or life may open for us into sonship and the Father's house. We may defy the law of gravity and come to disaster or we may obey and let it turn the water on our wheel. We may burn our grain and come to famine or we may sow our grain and reap a harvest. Life is better than our fondest hopes. The world is the kind of place not to maim us but to develop initiative, self-reliance, foresight, courage and sympathy. If we live as servants and simply drive hard bargains with nature she makes large returns for our investments, often a thousandfold. On the other hand, if we live as sons, we may not only have the "bread enough and to spare of the servant's lot, but we have the peace of the Father's roof and joy of the Father's comradeship. The spiritual life emerges in man. If he will it becomes dominant. In the fellowship of Christ life becomes a continuous conquest by the highest and best in us. If life has been a disallusionment for you, you have lost your way. You need the Guide. May you find Him."

MANHOOD IS MIGHTIER THAN MONEY, AND CHARACTER WILL ENDURE LONGER.

Dr. Brougher took Matt. vii:26-27 for his text Sunday night at the Temple Baptist Auditorium. It reads: "And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand; and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the wind blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell; and great was the fall thereof." He said in part:

"In these words Jesus Christ gave emphasis to the fact that the only character which can stand the test of time and eternity is a character built on Christ, the Rock of Ages. Every man is building a character. Every man, in the strictest sense of the term, is a self-made man. The man in the gutter is as much a self made man as the man in the President's chair. In a very true sense, every man has two creators, his God and himself. God furnishes him the raw material of his life, and the laws or principles, in conformity with which he can make that life what he will. His second creator is himself. A man has marvelous powers with which to work. When a man fails, he is inclined to blame God for his failure. When he succeeds, he is liable to boast that he is a self-made man.

"Jesus Christ declares that the only character that will be able to meet the storms and floods of life will be the character that is founded upon the principles which he taught, and rests upon the foundation of the character which he lived. More than this, Jesus declared that a man was a fool who built a character on the passing and temporary pleasures of life. The man who builds his house upon sand will find that some day it will come down on his own head, and he will have to pay the penalty of his folly.

"Manhood is mightier than money. When money has passed away, manhood of the true and noblest type will still endure. Character will endure when intellectual culture shall have failed. It will give joy and happiness when earthly pleasures have turned to bitterness. That man indeed is a fool who builds his character upon sin, for its ruin is absolutely certain.

"It costs something to build a character that is true and noble and upright. It means a terrific struggle. But to be a true Christian does not cost half so much as not being a Christian. To be a Christian means to give up only such things as would destroy our happiness, and make life ultimately a story of shame, sorrow and disgrace. It means the attainment of a noble manhood, the mastery of one's self, the truest enjoyment of life here on earth, and the preparation of a character that will make eternity a source of everlasting peace and pleasure."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.
A MIGHTY MISSIONARY CRUSADE IS THE GREAT NEED OF THE CHURCH TODAY.

"Winning the World" was the theme of the sermon by Dr. C. M. Carter at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning. His text was: "The field is the world." He said in part:

"The business of Christians in this world is not business, neither politics nor society. The business of the Christian men and women of today is the winning of this world to the dominion of the Lord, Jesus Christ. This means the whole world. Los Angeles and the Congo Valley of Africa. Some people are near sighted and can see only the needs at home, others can see nothing except the needs abroad, but the wise Christian sees the needs of the whole world and knows the power of the gospel to supply these needs.

"Jesus gave the direct command: 'Go ye into all the world.' The apostles were missionary or nothing. They went 'everywhere preaching the gospel,' in Jerusalem, in Judea, in Samaria, and to the uttermost parts of the earth. In one generation they practically preached the gospel to what was to them as the whole known world. The only anti-missionary people are the 'hard shells.'

"We must either be 'hard shell' or missionary. The whole spirit of the gospel is to be missionary, to help the needy, and to save the lost. Christ left heaven on this same mission. We are to be like him. Our business is to send the gospel where the need is greatest. The Christian is to ask not for the easy place, but for the place of the largest usefulness, delighting to endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. Most heathen nations are sunken in the darkness of ignorance, superstitution and sin, with all the wretchedness that follows from these. There is evil in Christian lands, but this evil is in spite of Christianity which wages a deadly and continuous combat with it. The vileness of heathen lands is a part of the heathen religions themselves.

"There are some people in Los Angeles living in reach of more than a hundred Christian churches, who say that 'we have heathen enough at home' while whole provinces of China and Africa have but one or two missionaries to a million people. 'The heathen at home' is the one who would withhold from the heathen abroad a knowledge of the gospel of Jesus. But his selfishness is so pronounced that his condition is practically helpless. Marching orders of the church of God is to preach and to minister. This ministry and this message must be to the whole world. The church building is a place for inspiration and the point of departure on the divine work of winning the whole world to Christ."

FIRST UNITED BRETHREN.
GOD IS ON THE SIDE OF THE RIGHT, AND THOSE WHO ARE THERE ALSO SUCCEED.

"For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have." Luke viii:18.

Dr. John Albert Eby of the First United Brethren Church took as his text yesterday the remarkable statement of Jesus in which He seems to recognize the law of the survival of the fittest.

"He said the same thing on at least four different occasions. The man that hath shall still accumulate and the man that has not will still have less. This is no cruel edict of the Master but the warning given to all men of the stupendous fact that is fundamental in life and which is as unchangeable as the God who spoke that truth. It is not true because He said it. He said it because it is true. And it could not be otherwise in a world of free agents and the power of individual initiative.

"When He used it following the talents He was dealing with the man who refused to recognize this principle. He had been guilty of hiding in the earth his whole future. He closed the door of opportunity in his own face.

"Now let us not imagine that Jesus refused to recognize the possibility of such wrong social conditions as to make it clearly impossible for many to obey this law of the power of personal effort and initiative. He would give us a burning message of rebuke if He were to visit our cities in which economic and industrial social conditions prevail which do not give the poor their fair chance. But that is not our question today. If the social conditions were absolutely ideal there would still be the working of this same law of life. The poor would get poorer and the rich would wax richer. The same wind that brings health and vigor to the strong would be the harbinger of death to the weak. The wise would still learn and the ignoramus would profit in his ignorance, the righteous would become better and the wicked would increase in sin and folly. There is this principle in life in all its departments and the sooner we recognize it the better. After all there is much in human, individual initiative whether in the affairs of temporal life or in the realm of the moral and religious.

"What Jesus was trying to do was to get men to put their choices and their efforts on the side of the right. He wanted them to know that, given the start in righteousness there is lying out in the future boundless possibilities of improvement. He wanted each man to appreciate the value of right beginnings. He wanted each man to recognize the imperial power of the personal initiative in every life. There is the diversity of gifts. But the same faithfulness and loyalty will develop in like proportions the gifts of God, life and the world. Let us not put it off on conditions. Let us not complain of our gifts and our chances, but let us go to and strive to improve the talents we have for the Master will reward not according to the abundance of our possessions but in keeping with our faithfulness."

PERSONAL IMMORTALITY IS ONE OF THE WORKINGS OF THE LAWS OF NATURE.

Rev. George A. Henry at the West Adams Methodist Church, yesterday, spoke on the subject "If a Man Die Shall He Live Again?" He said in part:

MISSING NOTHING.

Women are to be barred from the Pulitzer School of Journalism in New York City. The discrimination will not work to their injury for the chances are one hundred to one that the graduate from this school of journalism will share the fate of those taking the course of all other schools, which is that they will all be barred from most newspaper offices.

A BUG'S RIGHTS.

The right of bacteria to live, providing they have the hardihood to survive, seems to be demonstrated by the many modern uses found for the cheerful germ. Bacteria are needed by the millions for the soil, and now the plant pathologist of the State is using them to inoculate trees with disease in order that he may propagate a cure. We've got to quit kicking our germs around.

RETALIATION.

California shipped forty-two carloads of eggs to the East within the last three months. It would be a capital idea if our commission merchants would simply forward the eggs received from Kansas and keep our own splendid output at home. When it comes to eggs we are in favor of home industry. The Kansas egg has such a reputation for longevity that a few months more added to its maturity should be no offense to the East.

ENCOURAGE THE TOURISTS.

Pasadena seems to have made up its mind that it is good policy to encourage the tourists. And so it is. Thousands of them visit this State each winter and more come south than go north. This will be the rule to a greater extent in the future even than in the past if all the towns get together and thrust out to the visitors a composite glad hand. Pasadena is not only thinking of amending its charter so that tourists who want a glass of wine can get it at the hotels, but it has come to the conclusion that to tax the automobiles of visitors is a poor way to welcome them.

SMALL THINGS.

The value of details to business is illustrated by the seed industry in Los Angeles. One of the big houses which sells two thousand carloads of seed every year, makes an annual profit of $5000 by its sale of garden seeds in 5-cent packages. The little salesman which does the work is a tiny rack less than ten feet in length, to which the people can go and help themselves. Los Angeles has the luck of being the center of a large and rich agricultural district, with the result that the seed trade here amounts to several hundred thousand dollars each year.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

It is highly satisfactory to note the real interest taken in good roads in cities and towns of the county outside Los Angeles. A meeting has been held at Pomona in order to arouse enthusiasm in road improvement. Covina also is to the front. Among other matters which the citizens of the latter enterprising place will have to decide at the coming municipal election is the question of continuing the policy of improving the city with macadam and asphalt streets. It is proposed that bonds be voted so that Covina can continue its march of progress in this direction. Good roads are powerful aids to settlement.

THE RIGHT NOTE.

When the president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the United States advised Los Angeles advertising writers to consider ethics before profits he gave them excellent counsel. Higher ethics always mean better business. Reliability in advertising wins public confidence as perhaps no other business asset. When people know that the article they receive will be exactly as advertised they look to the advertising columns to do their bargain hunting for them. Some of the finest minds in the land are devoted to this profession and it is a subject of public congratulation that the modern advertising man is taking this advanced stand.

LOOK OUT FOR THE SHERMAN LAW.

Atty.-Gen. Wickersham is hereby appealed to to keep a vigilant lookout upon Congress. We notice that some of the statesmen in that fearfully and wonderfully made body, with wisdom far exceeding that of Solon, Blackstone and Kent, and all other lawmakers, from Moses to the new Chinese Parliament, are agitating the passage of a law which surely violates the terms of the Sherman act and all anti-trust amendments thereto.

These wise men at Washington are discussing a law which shall forbid the passage through the Panama Canal of all ships owned or controlled by transcontinental railroads, and also by all ships owned by any ship combine. Now there may be a little germ of wisdom, half-clearly conceived, under this proposed law. Undoubtedly the idea is to prevent the controlling of the steamship lines by railroad lines, thus creating a monopoly on the sea as well as on the land.

But why go at this in the wrong way when there is a right way? Why create a restraint of trade in order to prevent such restraint? If any steamship or steamship line owned by any individual or corporation, railroad, shipping, banking or otherwise, is discovered to be in a combine to unduly raise rates and thus restrain trade, by all means apply the law. But must this be done by forbidding railroad men or anyone else to go into the carrying trade over seas, and using the canal? We think not.

LA FOLLETTE'S CLASSIFICATION.

Senator La Follette, in his Dakota speech, hit the nail squarely on the head when he said that public men were divided into men of talk and men of action. He classified Roosevelt among the former and the country will accept his classification. He was not candid enough to class President Taft among the latter, but the people will so classify our Chief Executive. Roosevelt, like many other talkers, talks too much and sometimes talks very foolishly. The colonel is given to jumping at conclusions instead of first informing himself as to the facts and then reasoning from the facts. An old-time phrenologist would have reported upon his bumps: "Perceptive faculties large. Causation very small. Combativeness large. Destructiveness immense. Conscientiousness below the average and a hole in the head where veneration should be." The colonel's lack of veneration was evidenced by his order to strike the motto of "Trust in God" from the American dollar. His absence of conscientiousness was clearly shown by his double-dealing with and treachery toward La Follette. His combativeness is so great that, like the British tar of "Pinafore," "His fist is ever ready for a knockdown blow." His destructiveness would be testified to by the tigers, and lions, and elephants, and hyenas, and giraffes, and antelopes of Africa, and the bears and jackrabbits of Colorado. His perceptiveness—such as it is—and his causation, such as it is not, appear in his treatment of industrial problems. He dealt with the vexed transportation problem without knowing or trying to know anything about the business of the railroads of the country, and he proposed to "bust" the trusts, not through the enforcement of existing laws by the courts, but with chance medley new laws, and when Congress would not enact them, then by indiscriminate assault without laws, to be made by the Executive upon all corporations which, in his opinion, deserved to be assaulted. He did not consider the steel trust as within this category, for he gave his Presidential permission to it to gobble up the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company in order to help out some New York brokers who were his friends, and he saw nothing to be criticised in the conduct of "my dear Harriman," so long as the beloved Harriman aforesaid was willing to contribute to an election campaign fund in the colonel's behalf.

The colonel for years went up like a rocket and lit the skies with a sputtering shower of colored fire. He might have remained in the memory of the people as a corruscation if he had only, like Cincinnatus of old, occupied himself in tilling his Oyster Bay acres, and kept his mouth shut. The latter he was constitutionally incapable of doing and so he came down like a stick—a burned, useless and disfigured stick. And on the ground he lies, and nobody will lift him up and fasten him to a rocket for another flight.

SOCIALIST FAILURE IN MILWAUKEE.

The non-partisan, anti-Socialist campaign for civic control is now being as actively and determinedly prosecuted as was the successful similar campaign in Los Angeles last November, and with every indication of probable success. The complete failure of the present Socialist administration, headed by Socialist Mayor Seidel, the man of many promises and but few performances, is being shown by facts and figures impossible of refutation.

Under two years of Socialist control of the city government the city expenditure has been increased by $1,080,000, for which great sum there is absolutely no adequate return. If the Socialists have been able (as they have) to add $1,080,000 in two years to the taxpayers' burden in conservative Milwaukee, what would not Socialist Harriman & Co. have added to the taxpayers' load in ultra-enterprising Los Angeles in the same time (or less) had they won control of the city on December 5 last? The way we go ahead and do things here, not only for the present but also for the future, Socialist Harriman & Co. would have cost us in two years somewhere between five million and ten million dollars. We must not forget that it was the women's votes and the "Old Guard" votes on December 5 last which saved us from having to carry that Atlas-like load on our shoulders.

In Milwaukee hardly one of the promises made by the Socialists prior to their election has been kept. And, worse than that, the city's salary list has been greatly increased to provide jobs for Socialist hangers-on and tools. What would not Socialist Harriman & Co., for like purposes, have added to our aqueduct and other city pay rolls?

It is to be hoped that the Socialist defeat in Milwaukee on April 9 next will be as crushing as was their defeat in Los Angeles on December 5 last.

EMBARRASSING QUESTIONS.

The British government has commenced the new session of Parliament with its back to the wall. Bonar Law, the new leader of the opposition, is a born fighter and he has already succeeded in attacking the government on one or two vulnerable points, the most sensitive being his accusation that many lucrative government positions have been filled by "Liberal satellites" without civil service examination. Seventeen out of thirty-four Welsh members alone are said to have been given such billets.

He has now asked for a detailed account of every position filled by the government since its inception six years ago, setting forth the name, age, date of appointment, salary, address at time of appointment, and details of occupation for last five years prior to appointment, of every person appointed without competitive examination since January 1, 1906.

Which is distinctly nasty. For two of the appointments allude to Premier Asquith's own relatives, and one to Chancellor Lloyd George's son.

Not that the Conservatives have been blameless in the past in this insidious form of graft, but that the Liberal government, with its marked socialistic tendencies and its loud claim to superior virtues, is expected to show greater integrity.

Then come further embarrassing questions anent the reform of the House of Lords, which was foreshadowed in the now famous preamble to the Parliament bill, which clipped the legislative powers of the hereditary peers last year. Very naturally the government has no particular wish to reform the House of Lords until a few of its more radical measures have been safely passed—home rule for Ireland, disestablishment of the church in Wales, abolition of plural voting, and such like, to all of which the Lords may reasonably be expected to offer the most virulent opposition. In their present disabled state the Lords cannot put up any effective obstruction to those long-cherished measures; but a reformed House of Lords, with all the weaklings weeded out, composed only of the great men who have served the empire in some form or another—great soldiers, great sailors, great statesmen, and great commoners ennobled for merit, would be an adamant force to be reckoned with, and England's present government, with its strong socialistic leanings, is running no risks.

This session is therefore likely to be one of the most exciting and bitterly controversial of any yet seen during this administration. The opposition is arrayed for a fierce fight, and embarrassing questions are by no means the only weapon they have up their sleeves.

MUSIC IN THE YUCCA.

Climatologists and musical instrument-makers will not be surprised at hearing of the extraordinary success that has attended the efforts of a Californian artist to fashion novel and unusually melodious tympanums from the woody fiber of the desert yucca. The atmospheric and thermal conditions under which this unique and extraordinary desert plant lives and thrives are exactly similar to those attempted artificially for seasoning and perfecting the material used by the highest class musical instrument-makers. And since man with his unbounded ingenuity and scientific application of accumulated knowledge has never been able to improve on the processes of nature, so the hardy, grim, heat-and-drought-defying yucca has natural musical qualities that no artificially-dried timber can ever be made to equal.

For fifteen or sixteen years the common species of yucca slowly matures under conditions which would destroy the life in any less sturdy plant. Its long hard fight for existence has toughened and tightened every fiber like the taut parchment on a drum head. Indeed the Joshua tree of the Mojave Desert has been estimated to live for nearly a hundred years. All this time it has been attuned to the dry, tense, sterilized air off the scorched sands of the desert. It has absorbed more direct thermal units than any other living plant.

Is it any wonder that it has a resonant, vibrating melodiousness far superior to that of any substance known to man? Deftly shaped and worked and modeled by the cunning hand, directed by a music-loving nature, the yucca has been transformed into musical instruments of a sweetness and harmony wild enough to tempt back the soul of Stradivarius himself from the islands of the blessed. It seems possible that the grandest old "Cremona" may be surpassed by the hidden harmonies of the sun and wind, stored up in the heart of the gaunt, twisted Joshua tree of the Mojave Desert.

So on every hand, in every direction, fresh wonders are constantly being manifested in this magical, sensuous, marvelous Southwest of ours. Even the produce of the desert—bleak and sterile though its aspect be—is rich in possibilities for the ardent and enthusiastic seeker after the mysteries of nature. Perhaps the music of the ages may be revolutionized in a little Pasadena workshop by an artist in sounds, working on the dried dead fiber of the vigorous desert yucca.

ROOSEVELT AND RECIPROCITY.

A letter to The Times says "farmers of California are remembering" President Taft's advocacy of a reciprocity treaty with Canada and because they "remember" will support Roosevelt or someone else. The letter is signed "Farmer."

"Farmer" either has a bad memory or none at all, or else is deluded. If anyone led him to believe that Roosevelt swam in blood to the bridle to defeat reciprocity with Canada that person abused "Farmer's" confidence. For the record shows plainly that on this question Roosevelt and Taft were o' the same mind—then, at least—for we cannot account for recent changes of Roosevelt's.

Why should any farmer or other antagonist of reciprocity with Canada or any other sovereignty vote for Roosevelt for such a reason? There might be some logic in their supporting La Follette, for he fought against and voted against the measure in the Senate. But with Roosevelt, it is different.

In two speeches in February, 1911, Roosevelt advocated the pending reciprocity measure. At Grand Rapids, Mich., February 11, he said:

"I feel that we are to be congratulated as a nation upon the likelihood of obtaining a closer reciprocity of tariff and trade relations with Canada. Among all the powers of the earth there is none with which we should desire to be upon more intimate footing of equal rights, to which we should be more closely bound in relations of mutual helpfulness, esteem and good will, than in the case of our great neighbor of the north, whose prosperity and growth should be a matter of pride to all who dwell on the American continent.

"I welcome the proposed reciprocity treaty as making a signal advance in bringing about the closest and most friendly relations between the two countries."

Two days later at a Lincoln celebration in New York he said:

"I want to say a word or two on a couple of subjects outside of that to which I am assigned to speak. I was glad to hear the enthusiasm with which the members of this club responded to the two appeals of Secretary Meyer to uphold the hands of President Taft both in his effort to secure reciprocity with Canada and to fortify the Panama Canal. In addition to what the Secretary said about reciprocity, I would like to add this point: It should always be a cardinal point in our foreign policy to establish friendly relations with other peoples. I hail reciprocity with Canada because it represents an effort to bring about more friendly relations between that country and the United States."

Do these expressions present any difference between the President and Roosevelt on this question? If they do not—and they do not, of a verity—then, if Taft is right with the farmers on other questions, and he is, where is there any room left for "Farmer" or agrarian voters to give support to the new-found friend of all the dangerous fads which are likely to do more harm to the farming interests than any reciprocity that Taft or anyone else ever urged?

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Though low and humble is my station,
I'll help to save this ailing nation. I won't stir up a revolution by means of frenzied elocution, or load myself with facts and labor to bring conviction to my neighbor, or on the streets do verbal capers, or write long letters to the papers. I'll do my task appointed daily, and do it cheerfully and gaily; I'll waste no time in idle ravings, but carry to the bank my savings, and pay my bills when they're presented and wear a mug serene, contented. I'll keep my shack supplied with bacon, and waste no precious hours in quakin' o'er perils dark and dire that threaten, my little bungalow forgettin'. Some patriots, on sidewalks sitting, may watch me tending to my knitting, and say I'm full of sordid notions, incapable of high emotions. I ought to spend the day a-yelling, the loud and blatant chorus swelling; I ought to whoop for Bill, already, or bust a gallus for our Teddy, but I'll just tear around the harder and rustle for my private larder; for that's one way to save the nation that should receive your admiration.

GETTING EVEN WITH THE SHOW.

[Everybody's Magazine:] A young man had taken his wife to a show, and as there was no one to look after the baby they had brought it along. It cried lustily all through the first act. At the close of the act an usher came down the aisle and informed them that if they could not keep the baby quiet they would have to go to the box office, get their money back and go out.

They succeeded in squelching the baby and all went well for a time.

Then, five minutes after the last act had commenced, the young father leaned over and said: "How do you like the show?"

"Rotten!" was the reply.

He was silent for a moment and then, leaning over again, he whispered:

"Stick a pin in the baby!"

In Minnesota the question of the cost of high living has been determined, for statistics show that it is possible to keep a number of persons on an expenditure of 85 cents a week each. But it might be remarked en passant that they live on the poor farm.

REFLECTIONS OF A JAPANESE PHILOSOPHER.

BY YONE NOGUCHE.

Truth.

Truth is often insignificant, like a feather on a pigeon's back, and sometimes solemn, important, heavy, like a cloud-scorning mountain of the North (North whence cold winter of wisdom comes;) but truth is truth, not less, not more, under any circumstances. It is like a moon under a veil of mist, when you see it rather obscure and less impressive; it always exists full and round; it has no ebb nor flow.

It became more a habit of human nature, I dare say, than necessity, to seek truth; in fact, we need so often no-truth to get fire and power and adjust ourselves, just as we go straight to hatred for love. I even think it was started from human weakness; but it has grown a strength in general consent because it protects you. Therefore it was regarded as the most worthy object of life and the world from time immemorial; and I find already in the very old age quite a number of people who left their own record of sad failure in truth-seeking. It is strange enough we mistook it for success; the writing is at best merely an apology. I have ample proof, however, to believe that the ancient people got more truth than we, because they were more quiet, not talking so much about this truth as we do. And it is our saddest hearts of modern age to discuss all days and nights on it and rarely agree with the others; we have found it so difficult to seek it. There will be no more talking about it when we have it right before us; indeed, what necessity have we then to talk about it when we see it clear like the big sun of summer day?

We see many a one hurrying to the East to look after truth; another to the West for the same purpose. One stops in one place; the other journeys far and distant. It is a pity to laugh over their restlessness with good intention; but restlessness is always a tax that fools have to pay. I will say to them: "Be composed and cool, my friends, and learn that descending is only the way of ascension. Not to seek truth is the shortest cut to get it. And if you want it you can find it anywhere in the world, even in the dusts of a street. You may ask me, then, how and where to find it. But to tell it to you does no good at all; it is you are the person that wants it, not I; and I am not you. You must find your own salvation. It is not necessary to drink all the water; just a drop of it tells you the taste and mystery of the whole ocean."

Ugliness.

We have a frequent moment when we see more beauty in ugliness, which often penetrates our soul; the ugliness, in such a case, must show a sort of eagerness of hope, though vague and distant, of reshaping. Such a hope itself is a virtue, therefore beauty; through that virtue the ugliness is already redeemed of half its ugliness; there is nothing more divine than confession. Knowing its sad side for anything is always beautiful; that, only that, makes the ugliness reveal a far better light than beauty itself; its triumph is more staying. We often see one passionately fallen in love with the ugliness, and wildly scorning the smile of beauty; we might think such a one rather amusing, but he is not. He feels an irresistible happiness in pity; that happiness is, indeed, its highest water-mark, because it is burst from charity, therefore justification. Strange enough, however, is the fact that the true ugliness (often the true beauty) is not such a weak thing to always call for one's sympathy; it never needs any kind of improper argument. To say that one is interested in ugliness is ironical; the truth is that he sees clearly a beauty in it, that beauty that leads you to peace, certainty and eternity. It is quite a modern note to say that it is perfectly a shame to remain ugly, and we do not see the reason why we cannot turn beautiful; but the ugliness is far nearer to truth. This is the life of confession; indeed, the real life only begins when you see your real self itself. And not the beauty but the ugliness knows better about its own worth. It is true that beauty is false, or more apt to be false; we see more ugliness in beauty than beauty in ugliness. It is not my new discovery, but it is the fact old like life and the world. And it seems to me that we are slowly but steadily approaching the day when justice shall be done for anything. It is not too much to say that our life finds a solid support or life's nourishment in the beauty that is distilled through ugliness; ugliness is not ugliness after all.

Life.

"Good Lord, what do I know of life?" I exclaimed. I cannot help often thinking that it is impossible for me to understand life's meaning; I am a perfect failure; is there not a hidden joy that I missed, where a willow-tree swings?. Is not there a strange tear that I should shed where a cloud points? Oh! is not there a beautiful love that I could not even dare to dream, where a stream chatters and away hastens? (Pray, stream, stay with me a little longer and speak more clearly to my prosaic mind!) I may have been a mere spectator before the stage of life; at least I have been regarded as such, and late at night when people sleep, early in the morning when people do not rise, I bitterly cry that I could not become a real player. Had I not any art as a player? But I can say, I believe, I had some experience when I thought I was a real player myself, when I pressed a cup of life's wine, and, in truth, did not know properly what to do with my own body, which was tickled, happy or sad, by an unfamiliar touch of love, and I walked alone by a lonely road, more often sobbing, sometimes singing; alas, those hours did not last long. And I always found myself suddenly cool and passionless, and my uncertainty of mind awoke; when the scene changed I was no more a player, but a critic. Was it my strength or weakness? I could not accept wisdom good-naturedly, as my skeptic eye saw much foolishness in it; when I faced laughter my first question was of tears, and I was really a sad mortal, prone to undervalue the worth of love.

Happy was the ancient sage when the minds of people were not tortured and wounded by questions, did not attempt to understand what they could not understand; and they had a great genius to turn their ignorance to the wonder of awakening. They lived fully. It is true that even I know how to live fully by reason or argument; but I have no faith, and without the touch of faith reason cannot become a living thing. Shall I go eastward, westward, southward or northward to seek Faith? If I were sure I would get it I should not mind to travel any thousand miles. But night may fall before I walk much, when my head, of course uncontent but tired, may drop upon the dead leaves of a roadside tree.

"Now, Willie," said the superintendent's little boy, addressing the blacksmith's little boy, who had come over for a frolic, "we'll play 'Sabbath-school.' You give me a nickle every Sunday for six months, and then at Christmas I'll give you a 10-cent bag of candy."

ANNANDALE BEAT BEVERLY.

Norman Macbeth Wins from E. S. Armstrong.

Marion Clark Gets Craft-Higgins Medal.

Week-end Social Events at Country Clubs.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

All the golfers blossomed into renewed activity on Saturday, and matches were held on every course.

At Annandale the postponed league match between Los Angeles and Annandale was played off amidst keen enthusiasm, the latter winning by 5 to 2.

The home team was composed of E. R. Williams, captain; E. S. Armstrong, Tom French, Michael McLaughlin, J. K. Jewett and E. N. Wright, while Los Angeles was represented by Norman Macbeth, captain; Jack Jevne, Arthur Braly, William Frederickson, George Schneider, F. H. Edwards and J. W. Wilson.

Norman Macbeth played E. S. Armstrong and defeated him by one up, after a close match, distinguished as usual for its amiable courtesy. Macbeth's game arm had recovered sufficiently for play, and both men were in excellent form.

Jack Jevne played with Tom French and was defeated by 2 up, which is distinctly a feather in the cap of Mr. French. Quite a lot of Los Angeles men have parted with some "iniquitous capital" over this match.

Judge Frederickson met McLaughlin and his fate by 2 and 1. McLaughlin has certainly taken his place finally among California's best players during the past two months.

Mr. Jewett distinguished himself by defeating one of Los Angeles' best players, George H. Schneider, by 1 up, and E. R. Williams accounted for F. H. Edwards by 2 and 1.

Arthur Braly won his match against Armine Brand by 3 and 2, but poor Mr. Wilson met a horrible fate at the hands of E. N. Wright in one of those conclusive sort of defeats that are best not detailed.

So Annandale was by no means as thoroughly routed as the prophets had predicted, and if Los Angeles is indeed to win the trophy this year, she has her work cut out.

The links were in rather heavy condition, naturally, and sand was liberally applied, but a week or so will see all the local courses in fine trim, for which the golfers offer up much gratitude.

INVITATION TOURNAMENT.

The postponed invitation tournament is also to be held at Annandale this week, commencing tomorrow, Tuesday, immediately preceding the club championship event, which commences on the 25th inst. The thirty-six-hole qualifying round begins tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Socially, Annandale has been busy, and Saturday evening it was the scene of a joyous St. Patrick's Day dance, given by the charming Miss Ethel Hinds to about 150 guests. Shamrock pervaded the scheme of decoration and even the very programmes and menus were of emerald hue.

Mrs. John D. Reavis was a hostess at luncheon in honor of Mrs. George Russell of Seattle. Spring flowers everywhere and dainty Japanese place cards served to please the eye, the guests including Mrs. W. Harrison, Mrs. White, Mrs. Leuth, Mrs. Norris Van Brunt, and Mrs. Robert Gortner.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Charles N. Post, whose tea and bridge party was a most delightful affair; Mrs. Roy Simpson, Mrs. A. E. Edwards, who both gave luncheon affairs.

Bitterness of Defeat.

"RIVERS CAN WHIP ATTELL OR KILBANE"—WHITE.

Jack Says that Joe Mandot Is the Only One Hundred and Twenty-eight-Pound Boy in the World that the Mexican Need Be Afraid of—Gives His Account of the Fight.

"JOE RIVERS has only one man at 128 pounds in the world to fear and that is Joe Mandot of New Orleans," said Jack White last night as he nursed his battered features and told the story of his game defeat at the hands of Joe Rivers Saturday at Vernon. "Outside of Mandot there is not a man at his weight in the world who can beat him.

"I think that Rivers would beat Abe Attell to a frazzle. As for Johnny Kilbane, who boasts of the only knockout over Rivers, I think that should Kilbane meet Rivers today, the latter would tear Kilbane to pieces.

"I have no kick to make. I fought the best battle that I could but that punch in the second round really won the fight. I started a left hook and Rivers beat me to it with a right cross just below my jaw and under my ear. After that I could not get my head clear. For three rounds after that I fought only by instinct. I could not grasp what the Gilmores told me in my corner between rounds. They told me, so I learned afterwards, to cover up and make Rivers do the leading until my head cleared. I could not grasp this and by instinct I just naturally tried to hit Rivers as hard and as often as I could.

"I never thought that Rivers was as clever as he proved himself to be. I had expected to face a rough and ready fighter with a terrific punch. I found him as clever as any man I ever have met and I have fought Attell, Kilbane and Mandot and know all of their styles and speed.

"Rivers is a natural hitter but hasn't a knockout punch. If I had had Rivers where he had me in the second round the fight would have ended there.

"Rivers hits so straight from the shoulder and keeps up his hands so well that his blows do not travel very far and there is no preparing for them, but he can't hit as hard as Joe Mandot.

"In one round when Rivers struck me after the bell had sounded, it was a clean foul but I did not claim it. There is some talk about me calling him a bad name; that the blow was struck by Rivers in retaliation. This is a mistake as I did not call Rivers any name and had dropped my hands and started for my corner when he struck me on the chin. It was a wanton foul.

"Rivers weighed six or seven pounds more than I did when he entered the ring. In the morning Rivers just made the beam of the scale tremble at 128 pounds and he had eaten nothing for breakfast and had dried out for several hours. I weighed a little below 126 pounds and I had eaten my breakfast and drunk as much water as usual. I lost a pound or so before entering the ring while Rivers gained four or five pounds after he had eaten his breakfast and drunk his fill of water. He went into the ring weighing about 133 pounds; I weighed 124½.

"Gilmore wanted to throw the sponge into the ring at the close of the eleventh round but I would not let him. I knew that if I could connect but once with Rivers's chin it would be my fight, so I made one last try. I started the twelfth intending to tear loose and take a dying chance. When I was put down in the twelfth and before Referee Eyton started to count, the Gilmores had started into the ring to take me out.

"I have nothing but the best wishes for Rivers and do not want to detract from his victory. Anything I may have said that sounded like it was not intended in that way. I have simply tried to tell you how the fight happened and how I acted as I did and why."

Harry Gilmore, Jr., Fred Gilmore, accompanied by Jack White, Mrs. White and Jack Herrick, will leave Tuesday morning for Catalina Island, where they will remain several days resting.

SOLDIERING IN MOTOR TRUCKS.

Important Military Tests by National Guard.

Two Moreland Trucks Used for Transports.

Ninety-three Men Carried to Encampment.

BY ALBERT G. WADDELL.

[Exclusive test correspondent appointed by Capt. Harry McReynolds, commanding officer.]

The efficiency of motor trucks in the military service and the fact that the "army mule" will only be remembered by the army pennants at West Point athletic contests, was proved beyond a doubt, when the Moreland motor train reached the Armory last night after two days of service on the roads, good and bad, and in a military camp three miles up Santa Monica Canyon.

The run, which was officially known as "The Times Military Motor Truck Test," started from the Armory at Eighth and Spring, Saturday afternoon at 2:41, and ended at 8 last night.

FIELD EQUIPMENT.

The train consisted of ninety-three officers and enlisted men of the Seventh Regiment, their field equipment, 300 feet of lumber for disappearing targets, and full rations for two days.

The first trial came when the trailer of the rear truck proved too strong for the chain coupling. A parting occurred right out in the middle of "Gasoline Row" and a delay of five minutes was required to hitch a new coupler.

The second proof of power was re-

Vernon Recovers.

TIGERS TRIM H. AND C. TEAM.

Picked Club Get Three Runs Off Dolly Gray.

Hap Hogan Surprises Himself With a Base Hit.

Litschi, Kane and Hosp Show the Real Class.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Vernon, 9; H. & C., 4.

It was probably a lucky thing for Hap Hogan's Tigers that Jack Killilay of the Jersey City team got tired and quit pitching in the fifth inning yesterday. It was his first out for weeks and if he had not wanted to go to the clubhouse the chances are that Hogan's first team would have been easily beaten in the game it played yesterday with the Henry & Cornett Club at Washington Park.

While Jack Killilay was trying he held the Vernons to one hit and one run in four innings, but in the fifth he gave two passes, made a wild pitch, was touched for two sacrifices and a single, and saw the score tied.

After that Harry Killilay went in to heave for the H. & C. team, and was hit freely for six hits and six runs and the Tigers finally won by a score of 9 to 4.

It was a nice little game to watch at that, but exhibition contests are not much. Everyone knows that the league team is merely getting a workout and that robs the play of any real interest. A few of the old-timers were there, but the majority of the fans hate to separate themselves from two bits to see a practice game and the crowd was naturally a very small one.

Dolly Gray pitched the first three innings and four hits and three runs were made off him. Three of these singles, a pass and an error came in the second inning and resulted in three of the Cornett runs. Carson held the enemy safely in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings and Castleton was touched for four singles and run in the last three innings.

Kane was again the feature of the contest for in five times at bat he made three runs and had two stolen bases and two outs. If he keeps up this lick this summer he will come very close to the top of the list in real class.

Litschi showed that he is some second baseman for he had three outs and seven assists without an error but he could not hit the ball. He is apparently a sure, safe fielder who will do here if he can hit. This seems to be his only weakness for he is a very pretty fielder. Hosp showed up in good shape at short but several of his chances were hard ones and while he made errors on them there was some excuse for him. A muff on a throw to second did not enter into a run so his first error in the second was the only one of any importance.

BAYLESS LOOKS GOOD.

Bayless looks like a live one in left field and if Carlisle did not arrive here yesterday evening he should lose no time for he might lose his job if he has to compete with Bayless for the kid showed yesterday that he can hit and we know that he can field. He made two corking singles and stole a base as if he had been used to doing that kind of business. Patterson cracked out a double and a single and Sullivan showed that he is there by hitting a single.

While the Tigers made three errors they put up a game that would do in the Coast League and barring a little weakness in the arms the boys seem to be about ready for the season.

Jack Killilay gave a good exhibition of big league pitching for four innings but began to get bad in the fifth and retired after that spasm. With two out in the second Hap Hogan beat out a scratch bounce along the third base line for a single, got to second on Gray's pass, to third on Bayless's single to left, and scored on a wild pitch.

Bayless opened the fifth with a pass, got to second on Kane's single, and scored on sacrifices by Patterson

TWEEDMOUTH, DEPARTING, GIVES FIRST INTERVIEW.

BY R. A. WYNNE.

LORD TWEEDMOUTH, captain of the Royal Horse Guards Blue of London, Eng., and formerly field secretary for Lord Roberts, during the Boer War, accompanied by Lord Reginald Herbert of London, Lady Herbert, the Viscount Lucien Gower, second son of the Duke of Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dupee, John Dupee, Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs and a half dozen of other polo enthusiasts arrived at the Alexandria last night from Coronado.

The three English noblemen will leave this morning for New York where they will sail immediately, to join their regiments in London. John Dupee will travel as far as Chicago in the party and will leave it there. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dupee will remain in California for a short time before going East for the summer polo season in the New England States.

With the departure of the titled Englishmen the polo season in Southern California is formally over.

TWEEDMOUTH'S INTERVIEW.

Lord Tweedmouth gave out his first interview since coming to California last night at the Alexandria.

"Herbert, Gower and myself have been royally entertained," said Lord Tweedmouth last night, "since we came to California. I have never enjoyed winter polo playing as much as I have here.

OUR GREAT PONIES.

"I have never seen ponies in England, or in India that could equal some of the best animals of the Pasadena or San Mateo Clubs.

"I think that it is but a question of a very short time until California will be recognized as the center of winter polo of the world.

Lord Herbert voiced practically the same sentiments as Lord Tweedmouth and the Viscount Gower nodded an emphatic endorsement.

Lady Tweedmouth, who has not been in the best of health this winter, will remain quietly at Coronado for several months resting.

MAJ. ROSS GOES EAST.

Maj. Colin George Ross, secretary of the Coronado Country Club, and one of the best polo players in America, has consented to take charge of the Point Judith Club polo tournaments at Narragansett this summer and will leave for the East in May. This means that Maj. Ross will probably secure several of the big Eastern polo teams for next winter's tournaments in Southern California.

Capt. J. C. Besley of the Coronado team was in Los Angeles yesterday and left last night for his estate in Hermosillo, Mex. He will remain there about one month and will then join Maj. Ross at Narragansett and participate in the polo tournaments.

John Hobbs, captain of the Coronado team is also planning to run over to Naragansett during the early summer months and participate in some of the big Eastern tournaments.

ELEVEN "TIMES" MEETS DECIDES ELEVEN WINNERS.

Eleven City Grammar Schools Held Track Meets Under the Auspices of "The Times" Catalina Camp Department—Eleven Happy and Sturdy Young Athletes Won Trips to "The Times" Camp.

BY ARTHUR LEE.

THE unusual attractiveness of an eight-day trip to the Times Catalina Camp as a prize to the boy in each school who scores the highest number of points in a track meet was the means of bringing 450 promising young athletes together in Times Camp track meets, Saturday. The contests were held on three fields. The boys who competed were the picked "stars" from eleven different grammar schools in the city. The unbounded enthusiasm and interest that the boys take in these contests proves that they are "hungry" for the athletic activity and competition afforded by The Times meets. They have all the earnestness and vim of a varsity team.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning on the St. Vincent's field, the first gun was fired that sent away the junior fifty-yard boys from the Arlington Heights school, followed immediately by the boys from Sentous, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Magnolia, Normal Training, Vermont-avenue schools. At the same hour the races started over on Boyle Heights at the Athletic Park. The boys from the Belvedere schools Nos. 1 and 2 entertained a good-sized crowd of spectators at the latter point, by their keen competition for the Times Camp trips.

At 2 p.m. the boys from Loretta and Micheltorena-street schools held a combination meet on the Occidental College oval.

Eleven boys were made happy by winning trips to the Times Camp. Hundreds of others were made happy when they found they could win a trip to aCtalina even though they had lost in the races. When the announcement was made that any boy in the city could win a trip to the Times Camp by securing six subscriptions to The Times, for a period of two months, joy reigned supreme.

TIMES CAMP MEETS ON ST. VINCENT'S FIELD.

The seven teams that were turned loose on St. Vincent's field Saturday morning furnished enough fun and amusement to have satisfied and entertained an audience of 10,000 people instead of the 500 that were present.

The races developed several juvenile stars. Paul Renton, son of P. A. Renton, the prominent local automobile man, was entered in the Arlington Heights tryout, and won each of the seven events on the programme. Some of his records were remarkable for a boy of his age and size. He seems to have the strength and endurance of a "Mais" and the speed of a "Velie."

Mac McKenna is another youngster that will be heard from sometime in the high school and college ranks. He won all the running races in his division of the Seventeenth-street school. Mac had a real competitor in the senior division in the person of one, Yogi, a Japanese boy attending that school, and a former "star" runner in Japan. Yogi had a world of speed to spare, but could not get enough points in the jumps and shot to win the Times Camp trip away from McKenna, the junior all-round champion.

An unlooked-for condition arose in the Normal training division, when the meet resulted in a tie score between Harry Turner and Floyd Kring, one in the senior division and the other in the junior class. The boys will have to have some sort of a drawing to decide who gets the vacation trip.

Harold Packman duplicated young Renton's grand stand stunt by winning every event in his division. Packman is a junior at the Magnolia school. He got the full possible score of thirty-five points in the meet.

The deaf and dumb department of the Sixteenth-street school was represented by two unfortunate young athletes, Harold Woodley and Joaquin Sobro. While neither of them scored enough points to win a Catalina trip they gave all other contestants in each race a hard run for places.

George Kenney, a clean-cut chap from the Sentous school, won the meet of his school after a long, hard tussle with his neighbor, George Looney. Kenney won the jumps and one of the running races and Looney took the rest. Dahlen, however, won the shot.

Frank Webber was the hero of the Vermont team in the senior division. Webber has a lot of speed and good form and with good advice and coaching will make a great athlete. Frank might not have won The Times camp trip with such ease if it had not been for the fierce competition that developed in the junior division between five of the neatest and gamest little athletes that it has been by pleasure to see in action. Percy Wood, Daniel Scott, Ewing Scott, Sammie Sturges and Jerome Ranahl, are all to be congratulated for their gentlemanly and sportsmanlike conduct on the athletic field.

Leo Germain, one of the successful contestants in The Times Greater Contest held recently, was the star performer of the Magnolia-street senior division. Leo is not a member of this school but just competed for the pleasure of the "going." The officials of the meet were: Horace Gillett, clerk of course; Judges, Craig, Dukes, Connon, Urwick; starter, Arthur Lee; referee, Floyd Gillett.

Fast Boys Win Honors.

A sturdy bunch of young "speed burners" who ran their way into the ever enlarging ranks of juvenile athletic heroes, by winning eight-day trips to The Times' Camp.

SATURDAY TIMES CAMP WINNERS.

Max McKenna No. 503 West Twenty-first street, Seventeenth street school.

Harry Turner and Floyd Kring of the Normal Training School tied for first place and will draw for the trip in any manner that they may agree.

Harold Packman, No. 1215 Berenda, Magnolia street, scored the highest number of points in the junior division, and will win the Catalina unless some senior scores more than 35 points in their meet to be held at a later date.

Ricardo Qigoyen, No. 157 West Sixteenth, scored 35 points and wins the eight day trip to The Times Camp.

Frank Webber, No. 2683 Menlo avenue, Vermont avenue school. Eight days.

George Kenney, No. 1306 West Twelfth, a junior gets the eight days at The Times Camp from the Sentous School.

Glenn McWilliams, No. 1436 Hyperion street, Micheltoreno School will go to Catalina for eight days and very likely will be accompanied by his big brother Paul who has a good chance to win the Los Feliz trip.

Edgar Tedford, No. 4417 Mojart, goes to The Times Camp from Loreta School.

Dean Caldwell, No. 114 South Ditman wins in Belvedere School number 1.

Emil Willenberg (R.F.D. Box 33) wins in Belvedere School number 2.

Paul Renton, No. 1260 Fifth ave, would have won the Times Camp Trip from the Arlington Heights School if the boys had not chosen that their meet Saturday should be nothing more than a try out and practice affair.

TIMES CAMP MEETS AT OCCIDENTAL.

The boys from the Micheltorena and Loretta street schools held their home meets Saturday afternoon on Occidental field. The points were contested closely and an eight day trip was given to the boy scoring the highest number of points from each school.

Glen McWilliams was the lucky winner of the trip from the Micheltorena School scoring 20 points in all. Garden Arthur ran him a close second of 18 points. Edgar Tedford easily walked away from the rest of the boys from the Loretta street school with a total of 17 points for the meet. The following are the results:

50-yard dash—McWilliams, Micheltorena School, first; Arthur, same school, second; Tedford, Loretta School, third; time 7s.

100-yard dash—Arthur, Micheltorena School, first; McWilliams, same

corded when the sands of the road along the beach were encountered, but the mechanical wagon train pulled through after slipping into the low and backing for a flying start.

At the crossroads in the canyon the provisional batallion took the road for military purposes, and the trucks went up the rest of the wash road on the high with only the testing officers and the drivers accompanied by The Times representative.

GOING INTO CAMP.

A real military camp was built in thirty minutes, and when the truck which was detailed to go back to Santa Monica for a load of wood and straw, under Capts. Anderson and Stretton, returned to the little canvas city, supper was being prepared and a guard had been mounted, with Lieut. James K. Crum of Co. F as "officer of the day."

The straw mattresses were made up and the soldier beds put in readiness for the tired infantrymen. "In the twenty years of my military service, I have never seen a command of infantry troops in such a fit state after a day under orders," said Capt. Anderson. The men, who had just completed their camp-making, enjoyed a miniature field meet afterward.

Soon the welcome sounds of "porkey" slipped out of the bell of Sergt. Mondan's trumpet and a bounteous soldier's fare which had been provided by the local merchants and clubwomen, was served up by two chefs, under the personal orders of Quartermaster Raul A. Roth.

As soon as the evening meal was over the officers proposed a trip to Venice and here the big Moreland buggy was called out for service as a pleasure car. Up the hill and through Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, rambled the distillate auto; and after a short joy ride, out to the 101 Ranch, the officers and The Times man, together with the drivers, were entertained at the Ship by Lieut. Jesse McComas, Battery "A," First Field Artillery, who is factory representative for the Moreland truck.

Promptly at 12 the humming motor raced up the canyon and landed the officers at their tent doors. A few muffled retiring words, and all was quiet.

REVEILLE SOUNDED.

The notes of "Reveille" started the military machinery at 5:30. The men hastened through their morning toilet and fell in for setting up exercises, which were completed five minutes before mess call.

After breakfast, the camp was prepared for inspection and at 8 o'clock, Lieut. Samuel C. Haver, Jr., inspected the camp. The inspecting officer was acting for the Brigadier-General, who is at present in San Francisco, and the aide-de-camp complimented the men on the condition of their camp.

Capt. McReynolds ordered three squads (twenty-four men) into a truck and went five miles out into the hills to place the disappearing targets for the afternoon's field firing. The roads were bad and the grades heavy; but the power-wagon never failed the driver and the lumber and other equipment was carried out to the mouth of the pits.

While the field officers were at work with the men on the targets, the non-commissioned officers of Battery "A," who had come down to see the exercises, held a revolver shoot and some high scores were made. Sergt. Bushnell took first honors with a score of 111 out of a possible 125. Sergts. Hover and Smith tied for second with 107.

OFFICERS' MESS.

The officers' mess entertained some prominent citizens at the noon meal, among whom were Cecil Costello, Capt. Charles Startzman, Lieut. Henry T. Ward, and Col. Saltmarsh, and Capt. Ford of the First Field Artillery.

Both trucks were used in the afternoon and after the men had been carried to the first firing point, all who were to compete in the firing, were assembled and under the command of Capt. McReynolds, Lieut. Crum and Second Lieutenant Sidener, advanced over the varied ground firing by patrol.

The Moreland trucks followed the advancing attack and with their glasses, the officers watched lead plow up the earth of the valley and spatter against the hills. Here a volley would send a shower of balls singing through the air to tear jagged holes in the life-like forms 800 yards away, there a section was chopping out the eyes of the silhouettes at a distance; and out on the flanks, sharp shooters were to be seen ,picking holes in the black cardboard, 1500 yards up the hill.

RICOCHET HITS.

At the close of the staged engagement, the targets were inspected and there were counted 284 hits out of the 3000 rounds fired at the varied ranges. This is of course, counting the ricochet hits.

The soldiers were rushed back to camp and the trucks were loaded, the trailers hooked up and the run back to Los Angeles was on.

The train was conducted by Lieut. McComas, of the Moreland factory. The lead car was driven by Herbert Schlagel of Cleveland, Ohio, who drove Garford to first honors in the great Cleveland endurance road run, last August.

The other driver was Thayer Harp of Port Huron, Mich., who is now a tester in the Moreland factory. Harp will be remembered as a former driver for the Buick factory at Flint, Mich.

All the officers who were on the test committee expressed themselves as delighted with the motor truck as a military carrier.

Capt. McReynolds who commanded the camp and arranged for the trip said: "The motor truck will soon take the place of the army mule on every government reservation. If the roads are not absolutely impossible, the truck is practical. When we get that great ocean to ocean highway through to New York, the troops in time of peace can be easily transported across the continent and by each company alternating in the hiking and riding by platoons, the men can be kept in good condition and fast time made."

OAKS GET REVENGE FOR FORMER GAME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LIVERMORE, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Those fighting Oaks this afternoon gave a flash of true form, which they are fast rounding into, and more than evened up matters with the home players who held them to a tie score last week. The Oaks handed them a big coat of whitewash, the final score being 7 to 0.

More than 350 Oakland fans were in attendance, there being numerous auto parties in addition to an excursion train run over the Western Pacific. On Tuesday afternoon Manager Sharpe will take a team out to the University of California at Berkeley for a game with the varsity team.

TWO EXCITING ACCIDENTS THRILL CROWD AT RO

THE Rodeo will continue until Wednesday, March 20, giving nine full days of contests. Finals in the different championship events will be held daily. "Cyclone," the unbreakable outlaw horse positively will be attempted to be ridden today. Eliminations for the finals closed with yesterday's programme.

A quarter of a mile of spellbound humanity, banked fifty feet high in the grand stand, yesterday afternoon witnessed two miraculous escapes from death at the Rodeo Interstate cowboys' contests, on the "Lucky" Baldwin rancho, Santa Anita. During the steer wrestling contest for the championship of the Southwest, Vester Pegg was trampled unconscious by one long horn Texas steer, and Wiley Hill had a horn plunged entirely through his shirt during a struggle with another.

Judges alloting awards declared the danger to the young cowpunchers lay in the fact that they were not permitted to hold the steer by the lip with the contestant's teeth. Officers of the Human Society stated before the opening of the contests that this was cruelty to animals, and that contestants would have to hold the wild steer down with their bare hands. This has been done.

REAL HARD LUCK.

Pegg has been followed by a streak of bad luck throughout the meet, being injured several times. Saturday his throw was not allowed, and he was given another steer yesterday. Mounted, he galloped into the stretch after a particularly vicious steer, secured—from the saddle—a hold on the steer's horns, permitted himself to be jerked from his seat—as customary—and then began the fight to toss the steer before he had a horn run through him. When it seemed the animal was on the point of falling, Pegg suddenly collapsed under the steer. The steer attacked him, and when the cowpunchers drove the steer off, Pegg lay unconscious. He was carried across the field toward the hospital tent, but, recovering on the way, he insisted on walking. After his head was dressed, he remounted his horse and continued in the contests.

Hill had his steer almost fairly down when the animal suddenly jerked loose, lowered its horns, and plunged toward the prostrate man. The left horn straddled Hill's body, and he saved himself from receiving the right horn through the body only by a quick twist. The horn went through his shirt.

The steer started bowling Hill along the ground in an effort to free himself of the human burden from its horn. Aides realized the cowpuncher's predicament and started rescuing Hill. When he was clear of his horse and galloped down the track before the grand stand, 10,000 spectators cheered the plucky hearse.

Although these were the only two really serious mishaps, the thrills in every one of the contests sparkled with sensation. Time and again, as some particularly daring stunt was accomplished by the cowboys or cowgirls, the grand stand rose to its feet, and sent cheers rolling across the ranch.

GREAT OVATION TENDERED KILBANE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND, March 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cleveland welcomed her first pugilistic champion this afternoon in a manner never equalled in this or any other city. Johnny Kilbane, 23 years old, featherweight champion of the world, was accorded an ovation on his arrival from Los Angeles today, greater than any ever given a President or war hero.

Even the enthusiastic receptions accorded Col. Roosevelt and W. J. Bryan in this city pale into insignificance compared to the spontaneous demonstraton of today.

For an hour before the train was due from Chicago the people began to fill the Union Depot and the streets near-by, until when the train arrived more than 25,000 persons were jammed into the train sheds and overflowed for blocks into the streets radiating therefrom, while other thousands stood along the line of march. Kilbane, with his wife and little child, with Manager Dunn were put into a big auto and started through the jam. So dense was the crowd the large body of police could not handle it and reserves were sent for. The many bands and uniformed bodies that had waited to escort Kilbane could not fall into position and the parade was a disjointed affair, the people refusing to leave the Kilbane auto.

The champion, with his hat off and his baby in his arms, stood up, his face lit up with a smile, but with the tears streaming down his cheeks as sheer after cheer rent the air.

Gibbons will meet Jack Demming in a return bout in New York on March 26, and is matched with Ernie Zanders for April 5, at South Bend, Ind. Reddy is dickering for at least one more bout before they return home.

Pie-pan Thrills.

GREAT CROWD AT STADIUM.

Graves Trembles as He Rides De Rosier's Machine.

Ten Thousand See Bikers Flirt With Death.

Manager Young at the Helm Assures Square Deal.

Ten thousand spectators were thrilled and awed at the Los Angeles Motorcycle Stadium yesterday afternoon, when the crack professional bike riders fought out a series of fast dashes. At ninety-five miles an hour Charles Balke, M. J. Graves and Joe Wolters see-sawed for mile after mile on the fastest board track on earth.

Death rode with M. J. Graves, who appeared on the pie-pan for the first time with the machine on which Jake De Rosier was so fearfully injured Sunday. With the machine wobbling dangerously, Graves went after the leaders and forced Raymond Seymour to drop back into the discard. It was too dangerous to take a chance.

With the motorcycle trembling with the speed at which he forced it to move Graves was a strong contender during every minute of the great four-mile race and was only beaten by a wheel length as Balke jumped across the tape at terrific speed.

Speed demons had a chance to tear over the boards of the freak track yesterday. It is a most dangerous form of racing, but it had the crowd as there was something doing every second. With the men clinging like flies to a ceiling, and whirling around at a speed which only Barney Oldfield has equalled, the crowd had an afternoon's entertainment that was novel.

It takes a motorcycle fan to enjoy a motorcycle meet. The fans were there yesterday. Few automobile men get into the heart of the unique speed fest. Few automobile men were there, but that did not make any difference regarding the attendance. The grandstand and bleachers were full, with the exception of the far side of the track.

Something happens every second the spiteful hiss of the gas explosions are heard. The racers are tuned to top speed. The riders are keyed to their best efforts. It is nip and tuck as the men fight it out on the boards and the danger is such that a frightful accident may happen any second.

Summary action is necessary regarding the number of men entered in the different meets. With from four to seven riders bunched on the boards the danger is intensified. Not more than four men should be allowed to start in any race.

Summary:

Six miles free-for all—Albert Ward (Indian,) won; M. J. Graves (Excelsior,) second; Charles Balke (Excelsior,) third. Time, 4m. 3 3-5s.

Two miles, Class A professional—Joe Wolters (Excelsior,) won; Graves, second; W. E. Hasha (Indian,) third. Time, 1m. 20 1-5s.

ST. MARY'S EXPERTS WIN FIRST GAME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, March 17.—In the first game of the annual series between St. Mary's and Santa Clara for the Catholic college baseball championship of the State, St. Mary's was victorious by a score of 3 to 1 at the Santa Clara campus this afternoon.

It was a pitchers' battle between Barry and Cann, the latter winning because of his team's ability to bunch hits. Two of the five yielded by Barry came in the fifth inning and netted one run, while the other three were bunched in the seventh for two tallies. Santa Clara made a game rally in the ninth, but could not score. The immense crowd overflowed into the outfield, and filled every seat on the grounds. Score:

OUTLOOK FOR THE SEALS FOR THE SEASON OF 1912.

More Changes Than in Any Other Coast League Club.
Busher Gedeon Appears to Be a Real "Find"—Jess Baker of White Sox Seems Most Promising Pitcher.
Field Much Stronger Than Last Year.

BY HARRY B. SMITH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SEALS' TRAINING CAMP (Paso Robles Hot Springs) March 17.—"What Shall the Harvest Be?" That's the question that Frank M. Ish, J. Cal Ewing and Danny Long are asking of the squad of something like thirty men now quartered at the springs, getting into shape for the season that is to open two weeks hence. Something like $20,000 will have been expended by the management of the San Francisco club by the time the turnstyles at Recreation Park are open for business, and it is but natural that the men back of the team from a financial standpoint should be a trifle anxious as to what is to come of all the energy and money expended.

The answer? That will have to be read in the next few weeks, but so far as appearances count, much depends upon the pitching staff. If the tossers can hold up, there is little question but that the team will be a contender if not a pennant winner.

In all fairness, it can be said that the strength of the 1912 San Francisco team has been improved over the 1911 team in many respects. In hitting, there is no question but that there will be a change for the better. There will unquestionably be more speed on the bases as well as in the field and the infield looks to be as strong if not stronger. That leaves it up to the pitchers. If they fall down, all is lost. If they are up to the standard of the balance of the team, the San Francisco fans will have something to yell about during the coming months.

MANY NEW FACES.

In probably no other team in the league will there be so many changes, so many new faces as with San Francisco. The public has demanded this and since the fans are paying the fiddler, it is but right that they should get what they want.

There are two men out for first base. Jack, who hails from Texas way, and Ned Sheely, a big boy from Spokane, are the two. Jackson seems to have the call on Sheely because of his greater experience and his ability to field his position. Sheely, however, is hitting at such a good clip that there is bound to be some sort of a string attached to him if he is released at all.

Comparing Jackson with Tennant it can be said that the newcomer looks better than Tennant when he first joined the club and even better than Tennant performed last year. It must also be remembered that with Tennant out and Jackson in, there will be fewer cliques calculated to disturb the harmony that ought to exist in a ball team.

GEDEON—A FIND.

Kid Mohler, the old reliable, is a fixture with the club, but he is going to be hard pressed by Joe Gedeon, who was a busher last year with Galt in the Sacramento Valley. And incidentally, Gedeon looks to be the "find" of the new squad. He shapes up far better than did George Weaver, is rangy, a good batsman and not at all afraid of going after the ball. Of course, he may not do so well under fire when the pennant race is warm, but he looks mighty good at this writing. It is doubtful whether Mohler wants to play all of the time and he will doubtless be glad to give way in fashion to Gedeon. In fact, the Kid dropped the remark the other day that he thought from appearances, he would have an easier time this season than last.

Harry McArdle has been stationed at short with the regulars and from the way he is covering that position he is bound to stay there.

Roy Corhan, bought from the Chicago Americans, is also a short stop, but Long doesn't want to break up that teamwork around the second base and is trying to break Corhan in as a third sacker. The former Western League boy is a speed burner in handling grounders, and he has much the same style as McArdle in that he can get the ball away from him in quick fashion, which counts a lot.

Corhan's usefulness was impaired so far as Chicago was concerned, when he was struck in the head with a pitched ball, but in the exhibition games, at least, it has not affected him, for he is getting his hits as regularly as any other man on the club.

OTHER INFIELDERS.

Of the other infielders there is Joe Altman, who played one season with Spokane and then went to Memphis; Bill Yohe, a veteran from the South, whose strong forte was hitting; Westmoreland, a youngster from Alabama, and Davis, recommended from the New York State League. Of this aggregation, Altman looks to have the best chance to retain his position as a utility infielder. Long had so much trouble with his infield last year that he wants to hold enough men on the bench to be able to use them should necessity arise.

Westmoreland will hardly do and Davis doesn't appear to have the physique, although he is a likely looking youngster and ought to find a home for himself in the Northwestern League.

It is in the outfield that the local manager is going to have more trouble picking his men than in any other department. As men from last year's squad he has Wat Powell and Bill Johnson, along with Howard Mundorff, who is being tried in the outfield and has more than held his own.

THE OUTFIELD.

The new comers are Tom Raftery, formerly with Portland, later with Cleveland and more recently from the New York State eLague; Chick, Hartley from New York Staters and Otto McIver, last year with the St. Louis Nationals.

The veterans are hitting their old gait, particularly Johnson, who is hitting the ball like a fiend and fielding up to the top notch.

Tom Raftery is as fast a man as there is on the club, hits well and fields in the same fashion, so that it is hard to say how he can be held off the team. Hartley is a strapping big fellow, who has never hit below the .300 mark except one season, while McIvor has speed, ginger and an ability to swat the leather.

Out of that aggregation, five men will hold their jobs, at least for the major portion of the season, but the question will be which one is the chap to let go to some other ball club.

WEAK BEHIND BAT.

Unless Schmidt reports, or Long gets a catcher from Comiskey, the backstopping branch may be weak. Young Auer, the San Francisco boy, looks to be the right sort, but it is hardly probable that he has had sufficient experience to carry him through the season as the change catcher.

Schmidt's complaint seems to be that Berry is getting more money than he was offered, but that is beside the point. He was given a raise last season in spite of the fact that he was out of the game a good share of the time and it doesn't look as if he were treating the San Francisco management right.

Berry is rounding to in good form and ought to be able to hold up his end.

And now we come to the pitchers. Of last year's squad there are Henley, Frank Miller, Wynn Noyes and Charlie Fanning. Fanning is the only one of the quartette who doesn't look up to snuff and that is because he has been sick during the winter. A month in California ought to go a long way toward building him up. But Henley and Miller have put on weight during the winter months while Noyes, in practice, appears to have gained.

THE PITCHERS.

Jess Baker is by long odds the best of the new men. He is a Tacoma boy, who last year was with the White Sox. He complains that Callahan tried to make him change his delivery and that didn't help him. Baker, like Toner, Strand and Masow, is a southpaw and to date has produced speed and control.

Strand is a Spokane boy, who was sold to the Boston Americans for a price claimed to be $5000. The Washington State lad can show as much speed as any man in the league, but he hasn't much of a curve or any great variety to offer. If he can be taught the change of pace, he will be well worth while.

Masow is a Berkeley chap, who gives indications of being a pitcher but has hardly had enough experience to warrant retaining him.

Red Toner is a right hander, who hasn't come very much in the public eye, while Taylor, a sidewheeler, has been very much of a disappointment, although he may come around.

Willard Meikle can hardly be called a new man or a veteran for that matter. He has been with the Seals off and on for several years, but is still an uncertain quantity.

And that's about the way the club looms up this far ahead of the real games.

DEMETRAL WINS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, failed to throw William Demetral, Greek champion, twice in seventy-five minutes today, thereby losing the handicap match. It required fifty minutes and twenty seconds for the Pole to pin his opponent's shoulders to the mat for the first fall. The Pole weighed 235 and the Greek 195.

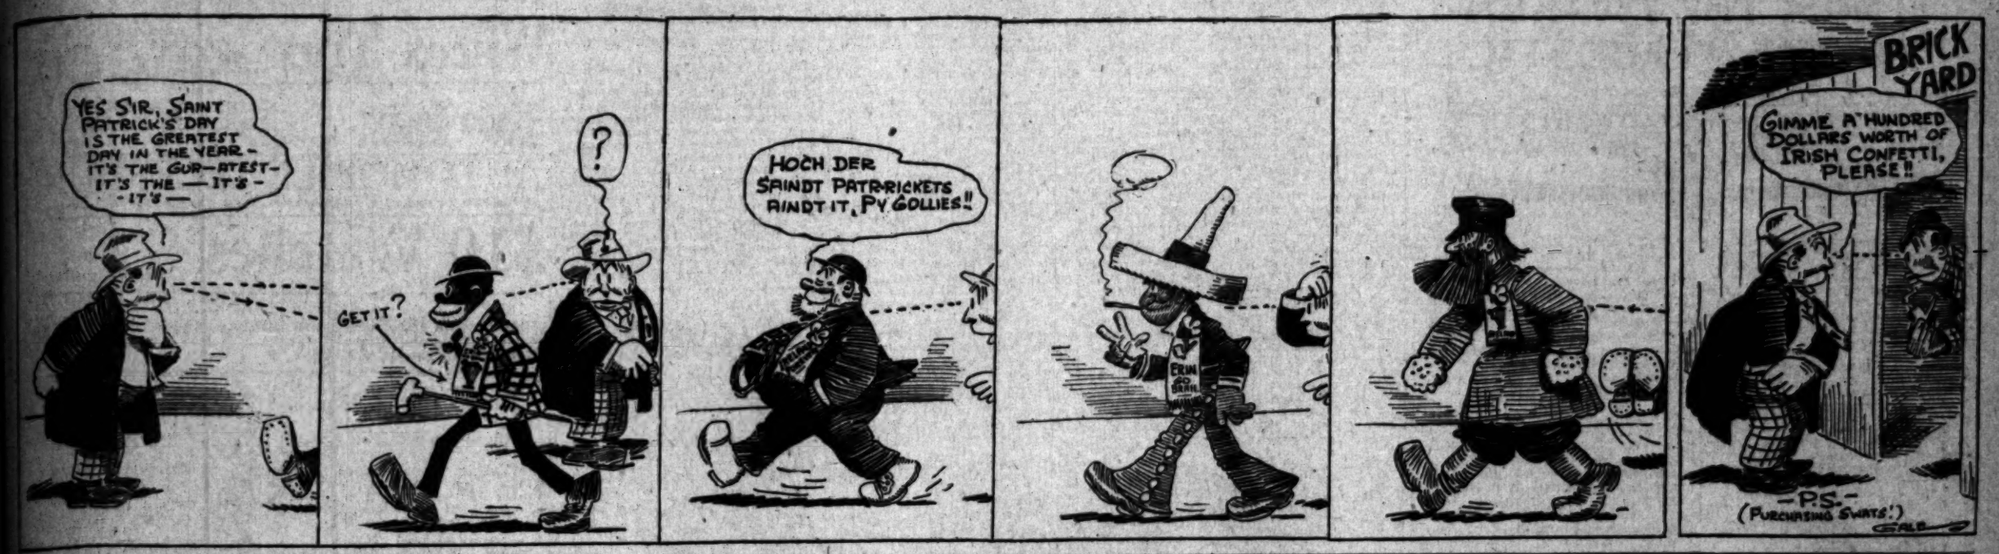
Mr. Wad Thinks That Some Boobs That Did the Wearin' o' the Green Yesterday Must Be Color Blind!



DE WITT VAN COURT'S COLUMN.

The White-Rivers fight satisfies us that Joe Rivers is about the most likely man to take the title from Ad Wolgast, if he ever does lose it.

It would be a foolish thing to send Rivers against the champion as soon as the Fourth of July. Rivers fought Ritchie at 122 pounds at 10 o'clock in the morning, that sent him into the ring weighing about 130 pounds, a little too light for such a tough fellow as Ad.

That he won from Jack White, he showed about the best boy in the country in the 128-pound class, but it is a big step to the 133-pound class. Even the showing and improvement made Saturday, it is quite possible he could easily beat such boys as Mandot or even Knockout Brown. Both of these boys would be much harder to hit than Wolgast, for a clever boxer like Joe.

Wolgast is about the toughest lightweight that we ever had to knock out, and Joe Rivers, has made a great improvement in the past two years. Give him another year to develop and improve by a half-dozen more fights, and his chances might be considered good.

Joe Rivers is at the age between boy and the man, and should be watched very closely. If he is handled the coming year as he has been during the past three months, he should be at least 50 per cent. better than he is now, and I do not believe that Wolgast has that much on him at the present time. There are plenty of boxers near his weight that could meet without taking such terrific chances. The man that can floor Wolgast must not only be a clever fellow but a very hard hitter as well. I believe that Joe is clever enough to out-box Ad right now, but he needs much more stamina and must hit much harder than he does. Another year would give him the class. Then the betting should be even.

A year hence, Rivers's muscles will be much harder and he would be able to train just about as hard to stay the lightweight limit as he did to fight with White. This would bring him into the ring at his very best. He showed a marked improvement in his hitting with White, but he was lacking in guarding Jack's left-hand body swings. It should be remembered that this very punch is Ad Wolgast's best. Joe would have to develop a much better guard for Wolgast's body punches than he showed against White. I believe that if he works hard along these lines, he will have a great deal to learn from Jack Johnson.

Rivers is a boy who has the ring generalship, the cleverness and the punching ability to develop into a great fighter. He is a boy who will bear watching, and I predict that he will be heard from in the near future.

Jack White was doing his best and was willing at all times. But it seemed cruel at times to see such a game fellow walk to the center of the ring with a hopeless look on his face, trying his best to win and at the same time getting more and more needless punishment as each round was called.

Time after time he walked to his corner in a dazed condition and acted as though he was in a trance.

Charlie Eyton, the referee, saw all this, and was on the point of stopping the fight several times and no doubt, had he not considered the crowd, many who are never satisfied short of a cold knockout, would have done so. Then again, he appealed to the Gilmore boys to throw up the towel, and after telling White of this, they allowed Jack to continue.

The chances are that if Eyton had paid no attention to the crowd or the Gilmores and stopped the fight, there would have been a great howl from some of the short-enders.

It was plain that Eyton did this against his good judgment, as he lost no time in any further arguments the last time Jack was knocked down, by never even starting to count Jack out.

If the fight fans and seconds would take more stock in the referee's judgment in such matters, and abide by his decision without a single kick or question, it would be much better for all concerned, especially when such an experienced man as Eyton has charge of things in the ring.

It was rumored that Harry Gilmore bet $200 against $800 that White would knock Rivers out. This was common talk around town and if true it might account for his allowing Jack to take such a licking. But it is hard for me to believe that such an experienced man as Harry would go so far. The best thing for the fighting game is, when you are behind a man that is fairly beaten, is to acknowledge it at the proper time and call enough, and the proper time is when the referee gives his warning as Eyton did.

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By JULIAN JOHNSON.

Tragedy note—"Pop" Fischer broke his glasses Saturday evening and hasn't been able to see his own show.

Willie Ervast tells this one: "The other day a drunken man came to the box office of the Burbank Theater and, after asking incoherently for something I couldn't get at all, said very plainly:

"'I wish all theatersh wash run by th' gover'm'nt.'

"'Why?' I asked.

"'Then we might get civil service,' he murmured, weaving away."

Scandal item—The genial press agent of the Mason Operahouse brought into our midst last evening Mr. Gallagher, Faversham's manager—opposition stuff.

The day before the ungenial press agent of the Hamburger Majestic brought up Mr. Mitchell, of "The Pink Lady." More opposition.

Why this unbusiness-like conduct?

Bernarr MacFadden, the muscleman, food-fiend and ego-evangelist, is in town, and will give three lectures at Blanchard Hall. The first, tonight, will deal with a topic of general interest to men and women, on the care of the body.

Blanche Scott, the air tom-boy, parted Charlotte Greenwood up into the empyrean yesterday afternoon. They came down right side up. The government at Washington still lives and the Orpheum can continue to do business.

Florence Reed and Walker Whiteside are leads in "The Typhon," in Chicago. Malcolm Williams, the somewhat mysterious fiancee of the pretty actress, is also in the cast.

Howard Scott is with Louis Mann in "Elevating a Husband," at present playing in Chicago.

Forrest Stanley has been dubbed Parsifal by his Burbank fellows.

Wonder why?

Stanley is fast becoming an Elbert Hubbard. Last night he was found wandering around the Burbank stage asking everyone for a paint brush and a pot of paint.

Out of pure curiosity one of the property men made good the request. Seizing the pot and brush he rushed back to his dressing room in a manner that made everyone believe he was afraid of losing a real thought.

Shortly after, above the mirror in his dressing room appeared the following:

"Laced Makes Waist."

Mons. Molasso's European pantomime, "Paris by Night," with Mario Molasso and Alice Kremser and a company of twenty, has just been booked by the Sullivan and Considine circuit and is now on its way to the local Empress Theater.

Funny how authors are running to color combinations. Only a couple of weeks ago we had "The Deep Purple." Next week we get "The Pink Lady" and shortly there will be a peep at "Green Stockings."

Neal McKinley, probably the greatest singer of ragtime the local stage has ever held and who will undoubtedly be remembered from his appearance at the Empress Theater last season, is shortly due for a return engagement at this house.

A letter from Charles Meakins, recently seen here in "Excuse Me," informs us that his vaudeville sketch, "Bunty Strings the Bulls," is now completed and ready for production.

Activity Note—The Models de Luxe, composed of ten finely formed young women, as the posters say, and La Diva, a recently discovered diving beauty, who is said to have found something new in the line of a "tank act," are on their way to Deane Worley's "Emp."

James J. Jeffries yesterday sent his check for fifty dollars to the committee in charge of the George Fuller Golden benefit, for a loge for the benefit performance at the Majestic Theater next Sunday afternoon.

Sounds like "Alias Jimmy Valentine," but it isn't. The latest "crook" sketch to break into vaudeville is "Bill Jenks, Crook," a one-act play composed principally of characters of the underworld and not from the pen of Paul Armstrong, although this author is making big royalties out of plays of this type.

"Bill Jenks, Crook," was produced in New York two weeks ago, where John W. Considine saw it and immediately "grabbed" it for the "S. & C." time.

Theodore Roberts will make his vaudeville debut in a one-act play, "The Sheriff of Shasta," opening on the Orpheum Circuit today. Mr. Roberts is considered one of the best character actors on the American stage. His numerous successes have obtained for him that greatly coveted goal of stardom.

The company of Scottish players, who will be seen on the Orpheum circuit in Graham Moffat's farcical playlet "The Concealed Bed," includes Helen MacDonald, Janet Gardner, Bessie MacDonald, Andrew Clyde and Stuart Black. The entire company, previous to their present engagement, were members of the permanent company at the National Theater, Glasgow.

Charley Case is again to acquaint the Orpheum circuit with the idiosyncrasies of his father. Case's stories of his paternal parent's courage and daring have long constituted one of the most delightful monologues in vaudeville.

May Tully's medium for her Orpheum circuit engagement is called "The Battle Cry of Freedom." It is a satire on Reno divorcees, written by herself in collaboration with Bozeman Bulger.

Supporting William Lytell in "An All Night Session" is Miss Lillian Spencer. Miss Spencer succeeded Lulu Glaser in the title role of "Dolly Varden," and since then has appeared with Maude Adams and Fritzi Scheff. She is a very valuable acquisition to Mr. Lytell's company.

EPIGRAMMATIC "LANDSLIDE."

Bright Sayings From Austin Adams, Play, Now On At the Belasco Theater.

"Life is just like motoring. The only car you really enjoy is next year's model—which isn't out yet."

"Propriety is propriety; no matter what it does or does not cover."

"Morality is doing whatever you please, without being talked about."

"The Esquimaux have no problems, because if there's blubber everybody eats; and if there's no blubber nobody eats. It's only we civilized Christians who enjoy the blessed privilege of stuffing ourselves while others starve."

"What would you do, Aunt Cynthia, if you ever came face to face with the naked truth?"

"In heaven, you think, servants will know better than to try to enter into conversation with the aristocratic saints."

"To touch is human; to come through—divine."

"Respectable persons have no sex—to speak of."

"Haven't you noticed how crime and poverty have been wiped out since charity was organized into a science?"

"She's an advance copy of the new edition of woman, to come out later. Better not ruin your eyes trying to read such fine print."

"If somebody would only start a society for the prevention of cruelty to millionaires—a sadly neglected class."

BIG LEAGUERS BAD.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 17.—San Antonio's Texas League Club today defeated a team of Philadelphia Americans, 9 to 7, with Plank, Krause and Coombs pitching for the visitors. Krause was hit for five runs and Plank for three.

You'll Observe

That though Charlotte Greenwood's eyelids have grown together, notwithstanding the fact that her kick has become double-jointed and working on a graphite bearing, and in spite of the fact that she would be taken for a flagpole much more quickly than for a sugar barrel, she still retains her girlish laughter. Miss Greenwood's business address is the Orpheum; her home is wherever she can hang her foot.

GOLF AT ANNANDALE.

usual crowd of enthusiasts on Saturday—and a most welcome cloak of fresh green on the hillsides to charm the eye from every view.

The winner was R. J. Cash, Jr., who captured the major dole of balls with a net score of 1 down, C. H. Knappe and W. J. Chick tieing for second and third place with 2 down.

Other players included G. W. Pendleton, L. T. Bradford, F. C. Ward, Ed Tufts, W. F. Morse, W. R. Leeds, S. D. Hudson, J. E. Cook, L. D. Sale, C. A. Henderson, Godfrey Holterhoff, L. L. Elliott, W. B. Walton, S. S. Parsons and John North.

The links will be given over to the lady players all this week, the championship meeting commencing today, with an eighteen-hole qualifying round at 1 p.m.

Social Side.

Lent does not seem to be affecting the social side very much at the country clubs and last week Beverly was as gay as ever. On Friday evening the one and only Thomas Bundy was the host at a gay dinner party; and on Saturday nearly 100 merry diners occupied the great dining room. Judge Graff had a very large party, which included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, Y. L. Mott, Dr. Bryant, W. E. Dunn and Mrs. McGowan and Dr. and Mrs. Guy Cochrane were entertaining their little coterie, which is always incomplete without Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland. Then there was W. O. Hill playing host to a dozen or so, and Dr. Hunt of Santa Monica with a cozy little party. Mr. Wilkinson of Pasadena also had a small dinner party, and Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Ward and two little maidens were among the diners.

Next Tuesday the club will again be the scene of a large social event, when Mrs. T. B. Jones entertains a number of friends at luncheon. All the championship women golfers will be there, too, to swell the happy throng.

San Gabriel Country Club.

The fifth play for the Craft Higgins medal took place among the lady golfers at San Gabriel on Saturday, Miss Marion Clark being the winner on this occasion. Former winners were Miss Shirley Burns, Mrs. Purley, Mrs. Gabrielle Elliott and Mrs. Pierce. The next match will be the final contest, after which the best average of the net scores takes the medal for permanent possession. The winner must have played in four of the six contests. Those to take part on Saturday were Misses Constance and Marion Clark, Mrs. Purley, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. and Miss Roberts, Mrs. and Miss Pierce, Mrs. Howard and Miss Halstead. Miss Marion Clark and Mrs. Purley will be among San Gabriel's certain representatives at the championship meeting.

Immediately following the championship meeting, which closes on Thursday, San Gabriel holds her woman's invitation tournament, commencing Saturday and taking the form of mixed foursomes. This is described as a Leap Year event, which means that the ladies may choose their own partners. There are ever so many nice golf men at San Gabriel (lots of them single, too) so it ought to be a very jolly affair.

On Friday the women golfers will hold their Women's Golf Association match play against bogey, commencing at 1 p.m.

A large St. Patrick's Day dance took place at the club on Saturday evening, when most of the club habitues were there, and the dining room was stretched to its uttermost limits for dinner reservations.

VERNON YANNIGANS WIN.

The Vernon Yannigans and the Jeffries team played a little game out at the Vernon grounds yesterday morning which the Yannigans won by a score of 4 to 1. Cummings and Riseberg heaved for the Yans and Ferraris for the Jeff team. About the only feature of the game was a home run by Reams in the sixth inning.

and Litschi. Kane reached third on a wild pitch and stole home on a double steal worked with Stimson, who had been passed. Jack Killilay retired after this inning.

HARRY APPEARS.

In the sixth Harry Killilay was put in and after he had made the first man fly to left, he walked the next two. The next two hit to left and Patterson followed with a double to left and stole third but the following two were easy outs. In the eighth a pass, and steal and two singles netted the Vernons two more runs.

For the Cornetts Hosp threw Heitmuller's grounder low to first in the second and then Cornett and Grindle singled, Heitmuller scoring. Jack Killilay was passed and on the fourth ball Hap Hogan threw the ball to second base and, while he was doing this Cornett stole to the plate, to the great amusement of the fans who joshed Hogan for his carelessness. Grindle reached second on Kill's pass and scored when Jess Stovall rapped the ball to center for a single.

In the eighth with Castleton pitching Kaufman shot a hot grounder to Hosp and after a fine recovery and throw to first Patterson spoiled it by not getting his foot on the bag in reaching back for it. Kauf ran to third on Heitmuller's bouncing single to right field and scored when Richards forced Heitmuller at second. Three men were on bases in the ninth with two out and Heitmuller went to bat with a chance to hit in some runs, but the best he could do was to force Kaufman at second for the third out.

The U.S.S. Alert will be in San Pedro Harbor about April 15, and has issued a challenge to a ten-man team shoot to be pulled off at that time, conditions as to ranges to be arranged later. FISCHER'S NEW MUSIC-REVUE.

SHOW INAUGURATED AT THE LYCEUM THEATER.

Always Size, It Will Gain by the Process of Compaction and Revision—Many Clever Principals, Pretty Numbers, Big Chorus. Other Theatrical News Mention.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Probably the only fire company in the world using silk hose exclusively made its appearance in town Saturday night.

Since this company is numerous, energetic and more inclined to put out conflagrations than to put out, it will probably have a busy time—an existence which we

Julie Opp,

of the little dancer, Vanity, whirling like a dervish; a grand opera tenor in the person of Georges Simondet; an orchestra of seventeen men, and a chorus and smaller list of principals of bewildering variety.

The aural and optical feast provided by Messrs. Fischer and James is more like a twenty-seven course dinner than anything else. At the invitation dress rehearsal Saturday evening "The Neverhomes" and the after-piece, "The Songbirds," wound up shortly before 1 o'clock. Yesterday the race was pulled off in considerably shorter time.

"The Neverhomes" is a suffragette paraphrase in six swirls.

The women of Lilydale monopolize the town, infest the fire department, become the police force, take the city government by force of arms. The gents are reduced to tidy-knitting or baby-tending, while their once superiors, now equals, do all of man's work, from judging police courts to "white-winging" the streets with enamelled carpet-sweepers.

The centerpiece of this feminine uproar in the original production was George Monroe, that broadly-blatant lady-burlesque last seen here at the Majestic, with "The Midnight Sons." This time it is a real woman in the part, and to know how primitively blinkful, bunkful and bangful a real skoit can be in the role, see the only May Boley.

To Texas Guinan falls the role of Mrs. Daly Bunn, wife of the village inebriate and herself mayoress of Lilydale. Miss Guinan's blonde beauty is of the sort that carries the conviction of punch and personality, and her voice is of brilliance and exquisite sympathy, but the unescapable part of her is her world's-champion smile, guaranteed to be an absolute winner in all weights from bantam to white hope, and in considerably less than twenty rounds. I would warn Le Peach Guinan, however, that some gink in a box will take advantage of her seductive invitation, "Whatcha goin' to do tonight?" one of these lively evenings, and come right up on the stage.

Jennie Metzler-Urban won a big hand at her opening performance, and seems destined to establish herself as one of our best little ingenue-soubrettes.

Herbert Cawthorne is supposedly first comedian of the company, but Bob Lett distances him in this show. Lett plays Daly Bunn with a great deal of really sly unction. Cawthorne is Dinglebender, chief of police, and perhaps has not Lett's opportunity for originality. Especially pleasing are Lett's topical songs, and the really musical way in which he puts them across.

Madison Smith, a big, manly chap, pleases in the role of Dr. Breeze, the most available bachelor in the town. He sings very effectively.

Charles Dudley, late of the Grand; Anna Montgomery, soprano, Lon Chaney, a dancer and character actor, and numerous others are to be found in the principal cast.

Vanity, a dancer of delicate beauty and remarkable ability, especially in the throwing of a set of supremely difficult "Arabs," a twisting Bedouin somersault, makes brief but brilliant appearances. She catches on, but I would suggest a revision of her work, and making her a more integral part of the show.

"The Songbirds," a travesty on Conried and Hammerstein, several years out of date, but still containing some remarkable music, concludes the show. The features are Bob Lett's fine satire upon Hammerstein, and the remarkable singing of Georges Simondet and the entire Fischer company, concluding with the "Trovatore" Miserere set against the "Rheingold" of Wagner—the whole deftly and even thrillingly amalgamated by Victor Herbert.

This new show needs compression. It needs elision. It needs settling. No show ever started perfectly, and I would suggest that to make this one come closer to perfection the entire laundry scene in "The Neverhomes" be omitted, save perhaps for the finale.

"Pop" Fischer's entertainment made good at two performances yesterday—distinctly. As it becomes settled and compacted, with some eliminations and a few revisions, it will more than make good.

Elsie Janis, in "The Slim Princess," supported by Joseph Cawthorn and a large company, will be seen tonight at the Mason Operahouse.

In Miss Janis's aggregation is Oscar Ragland, originally of this city.

"The Girl and the Boy," Walter De Leon's musical play, featuring himself, Muggins Davies and Ferris Hartman, started another week of its eminently popular career at the Grand Operahouse yesterday afternoon.

William Faversham, the tragedian of "Herod" has become transformed to William Faversham, the comedian of "The Faun." Such changes are not uncommon from season to season with the stage favorites of the day, but they are not often accomplished with the same ease and felicity that have accompanied the transition in the case of Mr. Faversham.

Mr. Faversham will open his engagement of one week in "The Faun" at the Majestic Theater tonight.

With seven days, or ten performances to capacity audiences to its credit, the funmaker, "Seven Days," yesterday entered upon the eighth day of its fourteen day's endurance-run at the Burbank Theater, and if yesterday's two big audiences may be taken as any criterion the balance of the second week will be equally as large in the matter of attendance as the first.

During the present run of "Seven Days" the Burbank Company are busily engaged with the rehearsals for Charles T. Dazey's new play "Capt. Lafitte" which is scheduled for its first production on any stage following the current comedy hit.

Oliver Morosco is expected to return from San Francisco today. Mr. Morosco has been north in conference with John Cort since last Thursday and the result of this conference will no doubt have considerable bearing on Los Angeles' theatricals for the next twelve months to come.

Mr. Kolb and Mr. Dill, better known by the firm name of Kolb & Dill, yesterday made their first public appearance together, since their parting of ways, at the Savoy Theater, San Francisco, in "The Girl In The Train."

With Cliff Berzac's comedy circus, Harry Van Fossen and the four baseball players as the three attractive features, Sullivan and Considine will this afternoon offer one of the biggest and most popular priced vaudeville bills that has ever occupied the Empress stage.

Sullivan and Considine have just let the contracts and accepted the plans for a new $250,000 Sullivan and Considine vaudeville theater in Portland. This will make the fifth theater this theatrical firm has in process of construction at the present time.

"The Landslide," Austin Adam's comedy, will form the offering of the Belasco Company tonight. Since the announcement that this new play would be presented by the Belasco Company a great deal of interest has been shown.

In "The Landslide," Mr. Aaams treats upon the rather ticklish question of Socialism with the methods of a Shaw or Brieux, discussing present day problems with light, brilliant comedy that melts any bitterness for its frankness and pointed truths.

Philip Bartholomae's comedy, "Overnight;" William Hodge in "The Man from Home;" Louis Gunning in "The Balkan Princess;" Margaret Anglin in "Green Stockings," and Holbrook Blinn in "The Boss," are five of this year's successes headed this way that will shortly occupy the stage of the Majestic Theater.

Although finished arrangements for the George Fuller Golden benefit performance, to be given at the Majestic Theater next Sunday afternoon, were only started last Thursday, fifteen acts have already volunteered to aid in the performance and before tonight the programme will be closed with at least twenty-two acts on the list.

The acts already announced comprise the pick of the talent from the attractions appearing at the local theaters this week.

Elsie Janis and Joseph Cawthorn will be seen in several of the most delightful bits of "The Slim Princess," in which they appear at the Mason this week; Ferris Hartman, Joseph Hart and several members of the Hartman company, together with the big Hartman chorus will be seen in a scene from "The Boy and the Girl;" Walter De Leon and "Muggins" Davies will offer several of Mr. De Leon's sprightly, clever new songs; the Five Acrobatic Merkels and Fred Wyckhoff, "The Mayor of Tanktown," will come from Pantages and the Land Show Chorus, under the direction of Thomas Taylor Drill, will be one of the features of the performance.

May Boley and Herbert Cawthorne will bring to the Majestic stage much of the fun from "The Never Homes," at the Lyceum; Harry Van Fossen, the "modern" minstrel man and the Four Baseball Players in "Twenty Minutes in the Clubhouse," will go from the Empress Theater; Ethel Davis and the Armstrong "baby dolls" will be present from the Olympic, while others on the bill will be Elimore and Raymond; Helen Drew and the four Whistling Girls.

Although it is not yet a certainty it is expected that Lillian Burkhart will also appear at the George Fuller Golden benefit.

The committee of local managers of members of the White Rats who have the benefit in charge announce that all of the boxes and loges together with over $250 worth of seats have already been disposed of and at the rapid pace the seats are being sold now, the entire capacity of the Majestic should be gone long before Saturday.

The regular sale of seats for the benefit will open at the Majestic box-office this morning.

The Orpheum's bill for today is topped by as spectacular an act as that theater often has the pleasure of presenting—Pouchot's flying ballet, a quintette of coryphees, who dance and evolute, but in midair, swinging from invisible wires. Not only are they a picture in their gorgeous winged costumes, but they really do dance figures in air, and not merely swing about in a wooden fashion, as if so many dummies. Besides, the principal, at one stage of the act,

In God's Work.

LOS ANGELES LEADS COUNTRY.

Holds National Record for Religious Registration.

Whirlwind End of Forward Movement Week.

Thirty Thousand Hear the Transcontinental Team.

Eloquent speakers, appealing to 2000 persons in the monster meeting at Temple Auditoroum last evening to go on with good work begun, featured the close of the Men and Religion Forward Movement yesterday. The final word was spoken by members of the powerful team under the leadership of Dr. C. A. Barbour of New York.

Among those who spoke to thousands at many meetings yesterday were Dr. Robert M. Moore, of New York; Dr. David Russell, the "Moody of Africa;" John L. Alexander, New York; William A. Brown, Chicago; Rev. John M. Dean, Seattle. The gatherings were of a stirring nature and made a fit close for the successful week's campaign for the enlisting of more men in Christian work.

The silk banner for the largest total attendance was presented to the Social Service Institute, of which Raymond Robins is the head. The attendance at this institute for the three days was 627.

Dr. Barbour expressed himself as greatly pleased with the result of the meetings in Los Angeles as they appeared to him day by day.

"We have finished a week of strenuous campaigning," he said last night, "meetings to the number of 150 have been held by the team. We have never been received anywhere with more courteous treatment and kindness. We have never talked to audiences more intent on benefiting by our efforts. The meetings have grown in power from the first.

"As men have begun to understand what the message is, it has gripped them. Now comes the week of conservation of results. We think it has been a week of education. The programme of the week has been left large and elastic enough to furnish plans of work along this line for the next twenty years. We earnestly hope and confidently believe that the churches of Los Angeles will grasp the methods proposed and carry them out with wisdom and persistence. If they do, this seed which we have sown will yield a bountiful harvest."

THIRTY THOUSAND HEAR.

Dr. Barbour estimates that 30,000 persons, most of them men, have attended the meetings which were held in many churches since last Sunday. One hundred and forty churches have joined in the work. Altogether there have been over 2000 men actively enrolled in the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

Yesterday afternoon three simultaneous meetings were held. The main meeting in the First Methodist Church, where Dr. Barbour and Dr. Russell spoke. At the First Congregational Church John L. Alexander, boys' work specialist of the team, spoke, and at the First Baptist Church, Rev. William A. Brown, Bible study expert, addressed a large audience of women.

Interesting to large audiences were the addresses by Rev. Robert M. Moore, in the First Methodist Church, Rev. John M. Dean, in the First English Lutheran Church, and Dr. W. A. Brown, at Temple Baptist Church, in the morning. Subjects dealing with the effort to enlist more men in the Christian Endeavor were uniformly chosen.

LOS ANGELES LEADS.

Promotion Secretary Emmet announced last night that Los Angeles now holds the national record for registration in the work. When the campaign of meetings began, a greeting and challenge was received from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, which held joint sessions the week previous. The northern cities challenged Los Angeles to gain more recruits for the Men and Religious Forward Movement than they have done. Oakland claimed the national record, 1047 registrations. Los Angeles registered 1374 men in the work.

The team which has been holding campaigns here have visited eighty-seven out of the ninety cities planned to be visited this year.

During the campaign the local committees sent out 75,000 postcards, 35,000 letters and distributed 200,000 invitation programmes for continuing the work here.

Tomorrow Pomona and Riverside will be the scenes of short meetings in the interest of the movement by the team. Wednesday, in this city, the local executive committee will meet and map out further work. Denominational rallies will be held next Sunday.

IT'S ALMOST LIKE HOME.

But the Women Are Different, and Oh, so Pleasant, Not at all Like in Gay Paree.

Lauding Los Angeles as a well-nigh perfect city, Maurice Briant, a native of Paris, and a correspondent of the Associations Nationale Republicaine, a news agency of France, left last night for San Francisco, after passing a few days here.

He likened the city and its "beauty" centers to "gay Paree" and the climate to that of Southern France. And above all things in Los Angeles to be favorably compared with Paris he puts the California woman.

"The women of your city and the Parisian women are queens of two distinct types. They are as unlike as the moon and the stars, but yet they are both superb," he said.

M. Briant was also impressed with the Los Angeles Athletic Club and its large and fully-equipped gymnasium. He stated there was nothing in Europe to compare with it, and made friends promise to send him a picture of the new club building to be used in the illustrated French weeklies as the model athletic club of the world.

Commissioned by a half-dozen friends, capitalists of Paris, to look at a tract of several thousand acres of land near Calgary, M. Briant will visit Canada. It is the purpose of the men to purchase the land if terms can be agreed on. In the event the deal cannot be consummated, M. Briant states he will recommend to his friends the purchase of several thousand acres in the Imperial Valley.

BACK TO NATIVE LAND.

Former California Woman Returns With a Shrug and an Accent From Algiers.

After an absence of twenty-two years, Mme. Ferdinand Regnier of Algiers, Africa, wife of a wealthy coffee planter, but formerly Miss Anna Bascom of San Francisco, has returned to her native State. She, in company with her husband and M. and Mme. Marill and daughter, Mlle. Y. Marill, arrived yesterday and are at the Westminster.

Following a few days' stay in Los Angeles the party will leave for San Francisco, where Mme. Regnier will visit with her father, Dr. Lewis Bascom of Santa Clara, and other relatives.

In January, M. and Mme. Regnier started from their African home for a short stay in Italy, where she took a sudden whim to visit the scenes of her childhood. They were joined at London by the Marill family, M. Marill having business to transact in New York.

"Just like Algiers," commented the former California girl, as she caught a warm West wind through the open window. "Algiers reminds me of Los Angeles. The climate is practically the same, the vegetation similar and the population of the two cities is cosmopolitan."

The country of Algiers has a population of nearly 5,000,000, of which nearly 800,000 is foreign, the remainder being Arabs. She asserts the American people have a wrong impression of Algiers, that it is not a country inhabitated by barbarous tribes, but is fast becoming Europeanized.

Mme. Regnier has talked English so little since her residence in Algiers, where French is generally spoken, that for a while, she "lost her tongue," but after a few minutes conversation the "mother" tongue came back to her. She has acquired the French accent and shrug. She has a son in the French army, serving in Algiers. Her husband owns several thousand acres of land in the country.

Religious.

AGAINST SUNDAY LEGISLATION.

ADVENTIST COMPARES WITH THE CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA.

Declares that While Protestant Denominations Are Protesting Against Oppression in Czar's Dominion, They Are Fostering Like Conditions at Home.

Telling of the religious despotism of the Russian government, referring to the abrogation of the treaty with that country by America, emphasizing the restrictions placed on people who do not follow the teachings of the Greek church, and uttering a warning against the dangers of church and state, Pastor A. G. Daniells of Washington, D. C., interested a large audience in a lecture at the Carr-street, Seventh-Day Adventist Church, last night.

Mr. Daniells, who is the president of the general conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, and who has been in many countries of the world on visits to mission fields of the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination, was in Russia a few months ago. He told, last night, of the religious liberty that was granted Protestant sects a few years ago, but which has since been withdrawn, and declared that "while religious denominations of the United States are making a mighty protest against the Russian government because of the conditions that grow out of the union of church and state, they are giving their support to various measures in the United States, which, if successful, will surely lead to the union of church and state in this country." Continuing, he said:

"For some time Russia has been very prominently before the people of the United States. One reason for this has been the attitude of the Russian government toward Russian Jews, both in and out of Russia. This matter has reached such an acute stage that the American government has recently terminated its treaty with Russia, which has been observed for more than half a century. Another thing that has agitated the minds of the American people has been the unreasonable attitude of the Russian church and government toward religious sects in Russia.

"Some years ago the government granted a measure of religious liberty to what in Russia, are known as the sects. These are Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Seventh-Day Adventist, and Catholic bodies. As a result of this toleration granted these bodies, they were permitted to carry forward their religious work with a reasonable degree of freedom; but within the last three years this toleration has been entirely withdrawn, and these denominations have been placed under most repressive restrictions. So serious has the situation become that a number of Protestant denominations in the United States have recently presented to the Czar of Russia a monster petition for the removal of these restrictions.

"After visiting the country, interviewing many people, and studying conditions to be seen everywhere, I am forced to say that I can see but little to be accomplished by the action of the Protestant churches of America in sending a monster petition for religion's liberty to the Czar of Russia." Taking up the contention of the Seventh-Day Adventists against Sunday laws, Mr. Daniells said:

"In view of this fact, it is most astonishing that while religious denominations of the United States are making this mighty protest against the Russian government because of these conditions that grow out of the union of church and state, they are giving their support to various measures in the United States, which, if successful, will surely lead to the union of church and state in this country. Nearly every one of these denominations is at this present moment endeavoring to force the United States Congress to pass religious laws. It is strange they do not realize that in this they are committing this government to religious legislation, which is a big step toward the union of church and state, with the church dominating the state. It is a thousand pities that the religious people of this country do not learn the terrible lesson they should from conditions which prevail in Russia, and raise their voice against all attempts to compel our national and State legislatures to take part in religious legislation.

"For more than a thousand years, the Greek church of Russia has used the civil government to pass religious laws and to prohibit people from doing that which the church has considered wrong; but in this it has only demonstrated the utter impossibility of making a nation better by legislation. The fathers of our government adopted the right principle when they decided upon a total separation of church and state, and, after my observations in Russia I could wish that the people of this country might vigorously protest against all efforts to unite them."

National Road.

FARMERS WANT ROCK HIGHWAY.

Villagers Ready for Real Boulevard Boost.

Big Car to Tour Through Many Small Towns.

Divisions to Be Formed in Every Hamlet.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Towns along the valley route between Alhambra and Pomona are to be visited today by The Times Ocean-to-Ocean Highway car. The men who are working for the great national highway are to be interviewed and plans will be made for a big meeting at Pomona.

John S. Mitchell, president of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, will issue the call to arms and will outline the campaign which is to be waged in Southern California. The requests from remote hamlets are so urgent that not a place will be missed.

Already the desire of the different cities along the Banning route has been heard and Secretary J. S. Conwell is sending out an invitation to the fruit-growers and farmers to attend the mass-meetings to be arranged in Pomona and Ontario.

F. W. Balfour is one of the Pomona men who has taken a keen interest in the proposed national boulevard. He is the right kind of a hustler and when he takes hold of an affair of this kind a large attendance is assured. He has already made plans for the Pomona meeting, the date of which will be announced today.

From one end of the Santa Fe Trail to the other, the interest in this great undertaking is such that The Times car is one of the most welcome scouts ever sent out in preparation for a great battle. With its motor humming pleasantly, and with the crew prepared for a hard fight, the men along the line of battle are making things easy.

FEDERAL AID.

"We are to have an ocean-to-ocean highway." This is the slogan heard in every city and town. Thousands of dollars are to be raised to swell the road building fund. The purpose is to collect enough cash to make certain that a demand for Federal aid will be given a hearing. The men in the orange groves are heeding the call.

That a highway is to be built from the Pacific to the Atlantic the farmers and autoists are certain. They know that agitation means that it will be built at least five years sooner. With all of the cities between Los Angeles and Yuma fighting for the California end of the highway, work is to be commenced on a temporary route that can be used at any time.

When The Times car passes over the Whitewater River it will be the first automobile to make the journey over the new road. This honor is to be given the scout machine. It should be possible to make this trip within ten days. Then one of the greatest obstacles to the Banning route will have been removed.

When objection was made to the deep sands and the rushing waters money was raised by the boosters in Redlands. Work is now being rushed and when it is completed instead of deep sands a rock-ribbed road at the base of San Jacinto Mountain will be completed and the Whitewater River will be diverted. It will not be necessary to cross the stream in order to reach Palm Springs, where The Times car is soon to be welcomed by Dr. Welwood Murray and Dr. Coffman.

MUSIC AND STAGE.

swings far out over the audience, dropping flowers on the people over whose heads she flies, while a covy of doves settles over her, after being released from the gallery. Another fine act is Harry Beresford, the sterling legitimate player, and his company, offering "In Old New York," a very human study of the East Side. Julius Tannen, the "chatterbox," is included in the bill, as is also Ida O'Day, and her company in "Betty's Bet."

The acquisition by the Orpheum of the Percy Williams houses in New York City, and its vicinity, is a most significant move on the part of M. Meyerfeld, Jr., president, and Martin Beck, managing director of the circuit, in that it gives the Orpheum a metropolitan outlet always desired, and so far, only obtainable by affiliation with the eastern houses. This has not been as satisfactory as might be, because eastern houses do not give the same brand of vaudeville as has been the custom on Orpheum time, running more to "freak" acts, and not keeping up the same high standard. Now that actual Orpheum conditions will govern in New York, it will be possible to plan even greater and finer acts for the Orpheum owing to the longer time available, and the better facilities to be offered. This will extend the circuit from coast to coast.

To all Englishmen and women and to the American also the pictures of the "Durbar" to be seen at the Auditorium during the next two weeks, will be of unusual interest. To the former, it being their own country's power they are witnessing while to the American it will depict scenes never viewed in this country, the pageant and glory of a coronation, particularly when that takes place in a land of such vivid colors as India. The pictures are not in the least like the ordinary moving picture, being marvelously, but naturally colored; there are many hundred feet of film no scene being duplicated.

This week's Pantages headliner is a nautical farce comedy, "A Doctored Widow." Widows, like other land ladies, get seasick when they venture too far from land, and the widow of the comedy got mal de mer in its most intense form. Nevertheless, under the ministrations of Doctor Cupid, she recovered. The widow and the doctor demonstrate ably that if not taken too seriously, even seasickness is a laughing matter. The remainder of the programme is largely comedy. Prominent as a mirth producer, is listed "The Lunatic and the Prima Donna," and "Fun in a Swimming Pool." is the third of a laughable trinity. Fred Wyckoff is just brimming over with laughter in his "Tanktown" monologue; Elmore and Raymond mingle mirth with their music and dancing; the Five Merkels are comedians as well as acrobats, and the Pantagescope will contribute its share of merriment. Mike Rachman, "the Irish leader," promises a rattling rag-time programme from the orchestra.

HOLLYWOOD PARK OPENED.

Four Thousand Lots Thrown on the Market and Twelve Hundred Feet Above the Sea.

Two thousand persons took part in the ceremonies of opening Hollywood Park on the new San Fernando line, yesterday, 1180 feet above sea level and one mile from the Hollywood Hotel.

The tract comprises 390 acres and is being put on the market by Patten & Longley. They sold 133 lots yesterday which they claim is a record for one day's business in Southern California.

Three lots were given away, the lucky persons being Mrs. Anita Anderson, Mrs. F. Schafer, and Dr. B. F. Small. Fifteen hundred coupons were turned in.

The ground is high and sightly, and and an excellent view was obtained yesterday by the visitors of the San Fernando Valley and the country toward the sea.

PAY FOR SOUTH POLE.

Local Norwegians to Contribute Large Sum Toward Reward and Expenses of Amundsen, the Explorer.

In accord with the movement set on foot by King Haakon of Noway to reimburse Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, for the cost of his expedition, the Norwegians of Los Angeles are planning the taking of popular contribution which will be forwarded to the world chairmen of the fund in Christiania.

Committees and officials of the Southern California Fund Association will probably be named at a special meeting of the Sons of Norway next Saturday night. As there are nearly 1000 Norwegians in this county it is expected that at least $1500 will be raised as a fund of appreciation to the explorer and his party.

According to the literature sent out from the Norwegian War Office, the total expenses of the expedition will run to $250,000, all of which was raised by Capt. Amundsen before starting on his trip. It is also proposed to pay out of the fund a pension to the leader and members of the expedition, making about $500,000 necessary for all purposes.

Following a two-weeks' contribution campaign, the money raised here will be cabled to Norway, to be presented to the explorers upon their return to their native heath.

DRUG FIENDS

More Than a Million in U. S.

According to a report recently issued by order of Dr. Wiley, of "pure food" fame, there are between one million and four million victims of the drug habit in the United States.

Most of these were influenced to the use of drugs through over-indulgence in proprietary medicines and "remedies" containg opium, cocaine, caffeine and like insidious elements. The unprincipled advertisers of consumption cures and cough syrups have been most industrious in this nefarious traffic.

Never use drugs for a cold. Half an ounce of virgin oil of pine, mixed with two ounces of glycerine and half a pint of pure whiskey, is recommended by health authorities as the quickest and most effective cough remedy.

Oil of pine is prepared, in its purest form, by the Leach Chemical Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, and may be had at any drug store. It can be mixed at home, and is absolutely safe and free from the dangers that attend the use of drugs.

IN THE CHURCHES.

take down his words: "Prepare to write; the nebulae are coming; here space is vacant; softly, reverently here; we are in the presence of God; we think God's thoughts over after Him." This is the attitude all devout minds take toward the universe and its problems. As such a mind gazes into the fathomless deeps among the bewildering hosts of the heavens, the presence of an Infinite Mind is overpowering. The tendency of the speculative and devout mind is to regard the universe as everywhere filled with life. This problem of life in the universe is closely related to religion itself. Life without religion is a vain and shallow thing. Religion without life—without eternal—without immortal life, is impossible.

"No worthy thinkers or reputable scholars now regard religion as an invention. History teaches that it is a part of normal humanity. Religion belongs to the same rank as beauty, love, obligation; it belongs to humanity as instinctively and fundamentally as poetry, or music, or art, or commerce, or industry. Religion is universal. It has played the supreme part in the life of mankind. Apart from the reality of religion there is no final explanation of the family, of art, of education, or of any other human instinct whose roots are fixed in and nourished by the basal elements of human life. Any attempt to explain the movements of human history by ignoring the reality of religion is unscientific. History speaks in no uncertain terms of this structural reality of religion. Nor does it speak in uncertain terms concerning the fact that religion stands for the relation of human life with the Unseen and Infinite. Religion is vitally concerned with that which is above man. But one step more takes us to the idea of personal immortality.

"There are no facts known to modern science which make it difficult to believe in personal immortality. On the other hand there is much that not only strengthens this belief, but actually tends to convert it into knowledge. That man lives as every man among the cosmic and eternal things modern science is willing to admit. Indeed, science asserts the immortality of the least atom of matter. Energy also is eternal. With scientific assumptions like these it is not to be wondered at that science herself looks with favor upon the immortality of consciousness, which results from the eternal activities of the universe. The whole tendency of modern science is to show that immortality in a broad sense appears to be a necessary consequence of the workings of the laws of nature. Investigations in every subject are leading men of science to a clearer recognition of this truth. Human views of many subjects are undergoing great changes, often structural changes.

"Should the traditional views of immortality undergo structural changes on account of new developments in science, higher views of man's relation to the universe would take the places of such discarded views. These new and better views would claim and support stronger reasons for living righteous lives in all the holy ways of true religion. True religious faith has nothing to fear from a complete science, for each alike runs out at the garden-gate of the Father's House."
